SEPARATE VOTE ON ANNEXATION WANTED BY TUBE CITY

McKeesport Delegation on Greater Pittsburgh Reaches Capital.

HEARING IS TONIGHT

Large Crowd Is Expected at Harrisburg from Allegheny County.

LEGISLATURE DOWN TO WORK

SPECIAL TELEGRAM FROM
WALTER J. CHRISTY, Staff Correspondent.

HARRISBURG, Jan. 22.—The hall of the house has been secured for the hearing on the Greater Pittsburgh bills tomorrow night. A large crowd of those for and against the measures are expected from Pittsburgh.

McKeesport is here seeking a separate vote. It wants this provision tacked on any bill passed. The town is represented by Capt. A. B. Campbell, Mayor Falkenstein, ex-Mayor Black, E. P. Douglas, Dr. T. L. White, F. C. Jones, David Hardy, R. A. Hitchens, Col. W. E. Thompson, P. S. Langsdorf, Jesse E. Long and W. H. Barr. The delegation will have a separate hearing in the afternoon.

There is much to be done if a Greater Pittsburgh bill is passed. At present there is a good deal of opposition to the legislation, for the opponents have been active. The Merchants and Manufacturers' association boomers have been energetic and there is a good deal of sentiment for the bill. The governor is so greatly interested in the legislation that he will be able to secure a great deal of support for a bill, but those who want a larger city will make a mistake to leave the burden to him.

Republicans Take Control.

Resolutions of almost every character were dumped into the house tonight, and a score of statesmen talked for the legislative record. The Republicans have again taken control and notice was given the Democrats that the majority is able to put through the reforms demanded by the people.

There were two resolutions of importance. The one makes Representatives Cooper, Dunsmore and Creasy and Senators Dewalt and Edminston a committee to ascertain from the governor whether he will amend his call for a special session so as to admit of legislation on new subjects. This committee must report in three days. The action will put an end to the daily introduction of resolutions by the Democrats for the purpose of delay and creating factional discord. The committee will discuss with him all of the subjects the members have been anxious to have admitted.

The house tonight plainly indicated that it favors the calling of a new constitutional convention. To do this the governor will have to amend his call. Opportunity to do this is offered by a resolution presented by Mr. McLane of Crawford. Should the governor accede, this legislature would pass an act asking for a convention. If this law is approved by the voters in November the next legislature would provide the legislation to convene the convention.

The members would be elected at the fall election of 1907 and would begin their duties immediately. It is believed the governor favors a new constitution, but may not agree to make it a subject for consideration now.

MANY KILLED IN BRAZILIAN NAVY

Warship Blows Up, Causing the Death of 212 and Injury of 36.

CRUISER CONVEYS WOUNDED

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

RIO JANIERO, BRAZIL, Jan. 22.—The Brazilian turret-ship Aquidaban has been sunk at Port Jacarepagua, south of Rio Janiero, as the result of an explosion.

The Aquidaban had been used for the accommodation of a number of supernumerary officers and men attached to the flotilla escorting the cruiser Barroso. The Barroso had on board the minister of marine and his staff who were inspecting the sites proposed for a new arsenal. The explosion of the Aquidaban occurred in the powder magazine. The vessal sank in three minutes.

The Aquidaban blew up at 10:45 o'clock last night. Nearly all the officers were killed or injured.

The dead number 212 and the injured 36.

Rear Admiral Rodrigo Jose da Rocha, Rear Admiral Francisco Calheriros da Graca, Rear Admiral Joao Candido Brazil and Capt. Alves de Iarrigo.

Two commanders, two German photographers and one reporter were drowned.

The Aquidaban was 4,950 tons displacement and 6,000-horsepower. She was built in England in 1885 at a cost of $1,750,000. The armament consisted of four 9.4-inch guns, four 5.5-inch guns, and a number of smaller guns. She had five torpedo tubes. Her crew numbered 350 officers and men.

PEOPLE HURT IN CHURCH PANIC ARE RECOVERING

Of the 35 Injured Only Four Remain in Hospital—Authorities Are Investigating.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 22.—The last body of the 18 persons killed last night in the panic in St. Paul Colored Baptist church was identified today and claimed by relatives. Of the 35 injured taken to hospitals, all have been discharged but four, and they will leave the institutions in a day or two.

The police, the coroner, the bureau of building inspection and the fire marshal are carrying on separate investigations of the disaster. A preliminary inquiry is being made by the municipal authorities to learn whether the exits were ample and whether the building was at any time in danger from fire. The action of most of the panic-stricken congregation in going down the north stairway was partly explained today, when the authorities learned that the aisle leading to the south staircase was filled with chairs.

STABLEMAN IS ATTACKED AND BITTEN BY MAD CAT

Jacob Aul of Mt. Oliver, a driver for the Winter Brewing Company of South Twenty-sixth street, was badly bitten by a cat yesterday morning and is now in Mercy hospital undergoing treatment for hydrophobia. Upon opening the door of the stable early yesterday morning a cat sprang upon him, fastening its teeth in his right hand. Aul's cries brought the aid of two stablemen, who succeeded in releasing the hold of the cat only after prying open its jaws. The animal was killed and will be examined for symptoms of rabies.

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Jan. 22.—Charles M. Schwab is among the prominent men of wealth and social standing who "assisted" Col. W. D. Mann, proprietor of Town Topics, with considerable financial contributions. Col. Mann was frequently in need of such assistance, according to his own testimony, and his persuasive powers in tete-a-tete talks and sometimes with judicious aid from Town Topics, netted him "assistance" to the amount of over $150,000.

Some of this money was returned, states Col. Mann, in a rather unique way. Stock of the Town Topics, which was $10 par, was used to liquidate debts at $1,000 per share. Schwab received some of Senator Alger's lumber stocks, while W. K. Vanderbilt, who relinquished $25,000, returned to Col. Mann 25 shares of stock and Col. Mann's notes.

Deuel's Employment.

Counsel for Norman Hapgood, editor of Collier's, whom Justice Deuel is suing for criminal libel in this case, scored both Col. Mann and Deuel severely for the manner in which they conducted Town Topics. He pointed out that Justice Deuel wrote scandal for the paper at the same time he presided in a children's court.

Asked whether he ever stopped the Town Topic's press to suppress an article about Lloyd Smith, Col. Mann said that such an article was taken from the paper, and that a man who came with Smith placed a $1,200 advertisement in Town Topics.

A contract was produced showing that $2,500 was paid by William J. White of Cleveland for a subscription to Fads and Fancies, the book which was issued under Col. Mann's direction. Mr. White's name was not in this book, and Col. Mann was asked why Mr. White paid the money. He replied that he did not know, and, that learning that Mr. White was a prom-

BLIZZARD FAR OFF FROM PITTSBURGH

Cold Wave Escapes South and Hot Temperature Reaches Highest Mark.

SPRING FLOWERS BLOOMING

Pittsburgh was dodged by the cold wave which the weather man promised would be here on time yesterday. The temperature yesterday exceeded slightly the abnormally high marks of the two previous days, reaching the maximum of 75 degrees at 1 o'clock in the afternoon.

The lowest mark was 62 degrees, last night at 8 o'clock, a drop of 13 degrees in half as many hours and indicating, while an icy blizzard from the northwest might not be Pittsburgh's lot, that the atmospheric conditions probably would be changed materially today.

The cold wave, according to the chart made in the local weather bureau office last night, from observations taken throughout the United States, got started in good order and was headed directly in this direction until it struck some snag west of the Mississippi river and veered off towards the south, passing down through Iowa, Nebraska and Kansas to Missouri, Arkansas and into Texas.

The weather was 44 degrees colder at St. Louis last night than it was in Pittsburgh. Cities along the Mississippi as far south as Memphis and Vicksburg registered over 30 degrees lower than Pittsburgh. The coldest point in the United States was at Havre, in the northwest, where the thermometer last night stood at 14 degrees below zero. At Duluth, Minn., the temperature was 2 degrees below.

At the latest observations the cold wave was moving southeasterly in the Mississippi valley to meet the tropical breezes that have been wafted north, giving Pittsburgh a climate in mid-winter that has matched southern California and Florida.

The local weather man, while claiming that it will be some cooler in Pittsburgh today, has practically given up the idea of a cold wave. The fall in the temperature during the afternoon was due to the general rainfall in the Ohio valley.

The gardeners were in despair yesterday. The flowers of many spring blooming shrubs got well started, the three days of warm weather forcing out the buds and giving them an April-like appearance. Young peach trees showed signs of awakening, but the old fruit trees are still dormant, and will escape injury. The weather has not lasted long enough to start them into growth, but another day or two of warm weather might cause serious injury when the cold that is certain to come some time does put in an appearance.

Boys were reported to be in swimming in Chartiers creek at Washington, Pa., yesterday, and they said the water was "fine." Pansies were said to be in full bloom in many places.

BLIZZARD IN CHICAGO.

City Tied Up for Day in Storm of Snow and Sleet—Clears at Night.

CHICAGO, Jan. 22.—After a partial paralysis by sleet of wire communication and street car and railroad transportation for several hours, Chicago tonight recovered its normal conditions of transportation and communication.

All day long every available man that could be had was put to work to clear away the ice which formed on everything exposed to the elements. This evening the sleet storm subsided and was followed by a fall of snow. All car lines were running. Snow and colder are predicted for tomorrow.

Theatrical Man Dying.

NEW YORK, Jan. 22.—(Special.)—It was learned tonight that Charles Zimmerman, a son of J. Fred Zimmerman, member of the theatrical firm of Nixon & Zimmerman of Philadelphia, is dying in a private sanitarium in this city. Mr. Zimmerman was operated on by Dr. W. D. Hennen for cerebral meningitis Sunday night.

SEVEN WOMEN STABBED IN STREETS BY ONE MAN

Another "Jack the Ripper" Is at Work at St. Louis, Mo.

HE USES A DAGGER

Is Captured, but Gets Away. Every Detective in the City on Trail.

BUT TWENTY YEARS OF AGE

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 22.—Not in many years has St. Louis been so excited over crime as tonight, when it became known that a fiend in human form had deliberately and without provocation, stabbled seven women of this city within the space of an hour and a half, and within an area of eight city blocks.

All the women were stabbed in the legs and thighs. Some of them were stabbed as they were walking along the sidewalks, others as they were preparing to take cars.

The man who stabbed the women was seen many times, and a good description is in the hands of the police. He is said to be about 20 years of age. Once he was captured after he had stabbed Mrs. Martha Young, but as she did not realize at first that she had been stabbed and held up her pocketbook to show the men who caught the fellow, they released him.

None of the women is believed to be fatally injured. They are:

MRS. MARTHA YOUNG, aged 57, 1897 Franklin avenue, stabbed in left hip.

MISS ARITA MARTIN, aged 19, 1112 North Leonard street, stabbed in left leg.

MISS MAUD HALL, aged 23, 1222 Olive street, dress cut to shreds, but flesh barely scratched.

As soon as Chief of Detectives Desmond learned the startling facts, he ordered every special officer and detective in the city to drop everything else and go after the miscreant who was creating terror in the streets.

The first report received said that two girls had been stabbed as they were boarding a suburban car at Ninth and Locust. In the jam they felt pains in their sides and scrambled on the cars to fall fainting in the aisle. The pools of blood that formed at their feet told the other passengers that they had been wounded and the car was hurried to the Baptist sanitarium without stopping, where the girls were treated. A few minutes after this affair had been reported at police headquarters it was learned that two more women had been similarly stabbed. Another case was reported half an hour later and a sixth within 15 minutes. It was two hours after the first case was reported before the police finally learned of the seventh and last one, so far reported, which occurred at Seventeenth and Locust, eight blocks from where the first crime was committed.

From the descriptions of the miscreant it is apparent that he is the same one who stabbed Miss Adele Flaherty without warning or provocation while she was walking along Washington avenue at Ninth street one evening last week.

FRENCH AND GERMAN ENVOYS SKIRMISHING

ALGECIRAS, Jan. 22.—The plenipotentiaries were entertained at today's sitting of the Moroccan conference by an almost continuous skirmish between M. Revoil, head of the French delegation, and Count von Tattenbach, the second of Germany's delegates. While the amenities were carefully observed, the other delegates were conscious that today was the beginning of fresh controversies between France and Germany which are likely to be long protracted and of increasing earnestness.

A WITNESS IN THE GEYSER CASE TRIES SUICIDE

P. J. Byrne Hangs Himself to Bars of Cell in Allegheny Central Station But Is Saved.

P. J. Byrne, one of the alibi witnesses for the defense in the Geyser murder trial, made an almost successful attempt to take his life last night in the Allegheny Central station. He was found unconscious and almost dead, hanging from the bars of a cell, a silk scarf knotted tightly about his throat. Sergeant Harry Fowler, who had just brought in a prisoner, discovered Byrne, shortly after 8 o'clock, and telephoned for Dr. T. L. Hazzard, police surgeon. Acting Superintendent Glenn cut Byrne down from his perilous position.

Byrne lives with his wife and three small children on the third floor of a building at Federal and West Robinson street. His wife, Margaret, last night at 7 o'clock went into the Chinese restaurant of Yun Lue, at 8 West Robinson street, with a Mrs. Jack. Byrne entered the place, and after thrashing Lee Wing and Joe Yun, partners in the establishment, gave his wife a severe beating. After getting her home he resumed his abuse, and then threw all the woman's clothes in the fire, with the exception of what apparel she was wearing. Then Byrne was arrested.

According to his wife's story Byrne never works. She is employed at the Allegheny Day Nursery and supports the family. She says her husband tried to end his life eight months ago by drinking carbolic acid, but was taken to the Allegheny General hospital where the physicians revived him. Later he tried to jump from the Seventh street bridge, but was prevented. He will get a hearing this morning.

CRYING DIDN'T HELP.

Woman Thief Sent to Pen for 5 Years Despite Baby and Tearful Pleading.

NEW YORK, Jan. 22.—(Special.)—Mrs. Annie Howard, alias Thompson, 21 years old, was sentenced to five years' imprisonment at Auburn for burglary this morning by Judge Aspinwall in the county court, Brooklyn. The woman almost fainted when she heard the sentence. A court attendant taking from her arms an 8-months-old baby, was startled with shrieks of "Oh, my baby, my baby."

Then she collapsed. Mrs. Howard asked Judge Aspinwall to be lenient with her because of her baby, and give her another chance. The she began to cry. "It won't do you a bit of good to cry," Judge Aspinwall said. "You could cry all day and that would do you no good. You are the most expert and confirmed female thief I ever heard of. You are sentenced to Auburn for five years."

MAN KILLS BROTHER IN BOWLING ACCIDENT

LOCKPORT, N. Y., Jan. 22.—(Special.)—In a bowling tournament at Kendall last night Henry Boehm killed his 17-year-old brother, Otto Boehm. As the younger Boehm, who was setting pins, bent over to replace those knocked down a ball bowled by the older brother, traveling down the alley at terrific speed, struck him full in the temple. Young Boehm fell face downwards on the alley, his skull fractured. Before medical attendance could be summoned he was dead.

RUSSIAN INHABITANTS ARE PRAYING FOR MERCY

All Towns Implicated in Revolutionary Excesses Are Threatened With Destruction.

[SPECIAL CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]
(Copyright, 1906, by New York Herald Co.)

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 22.—The Tsmaelovsky and Gaeger regiments have been dispatched to the Baltic provinces, where the threat to burn all villages implicated in revolutionary excesses has struck terror among the inhabitants, who are coming in and praying for mercy.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

ST. PETERSBURG, Jan. 22.—Trouble is looming up in Finland where the extremists of the Labor party are bent on causing trouble at any cost. Arms have been secured for the so-called Red guard and thefts of dynamite to be used in charging bombs are constantly reported. This menace is directed not against the Russian government, but against the moderate element.

The anniversary here passed in the tamest fashion. There were no developments or disorders. Early dispatches from the interior report that no serious trouble occurred anywhere.

NEW YORK, Jan. 22.—In commemoration of St. Petersburg's "Red Sunday," 15,000 Socialists marched through the streets of the East Side tonight and held a mass meeting in Union square to denounce the Russian government.

AIDS LABOR CANDIDATES?

Andrew Carnegie Is Said to Have Furnished Funds for Campaign in England.

NEW YORK, Jan. 22.—(Special.)—A World cable from London says:

It is asserted here on good authority that the unprecedented success of labor candidates for parliament at the elections last week was due largely to Andrew Carnegie.

Most of the men elected were unable to bear the expense of their campaign, and it was said that Mr. Carnegie provided a generous fund for that purpose. The extent of his contribution is not mentioned, but it was large enough to change the political complexion of the house of commons.

CARDINAL GOTTI, HIGH ROMAN PRELATE, DYING

MILAN, Jan. 22.—There is little hope for the recovery of Cardinal Gotti, prefect of the Propaganda, who has sent to Pope Pius X. asking for the apostolic benediction. He is seriously ill with pneumonia.

SERIOUS ILLNESS LAYS UP GENERAL WHEELER

Former Confederate Commander and Leader in Spanish War Causes Much Anxiety to His Friends.

NEW YORK, Jan. 22.—Brig.-Gen. Joseph Wheeler, U. S. A., retired, is seriously ill at the residence of his sister, Mrs. Sterling Smith, 173 Columbia Heights, Brooklyn. He has been confined to his bed for three days with a bronchial affection. Gen. Wheeler is 69 years old, and his age causes fear of the result of his illness should it develop into pneumonia.

When this distinguished soldier, who served the confederate government with a dash and skill that won him world-wide renown, after years of peaceful occupation as a lawyer, planter and legislator, was appointed a major general of volunteers by President McKinley in the Spanish war, he immediately showed that his old intrepidity and ability had not been diminished.

Later in the Philippines his cavalry brigade was engaged in a score of fights, where its leader was as active as its youngest officer. Made a brigadier general in June, 1900, he was retired with that rank on September 10, 1900, his 64th birthday. It was rumored three years ago that the veteran would marry the widow of George W. Childs, who, like himself, is now a resident of Washington.

KILLED BY FALLING COW.

Mail Carrier Crushed by Body of Animal, Tossed in Air by Fast Moving Train.

RICHMOND, VA., Jan. 22.—(Special.)—Travers W. Carpenter, a young married man and a mail carrier, was killed today in a peculiar railway accident at Winston station. He was driving his cow across the tracks, when the animal was struck by the fast northbound Southern passenger train and hurled into the air. The body of the cow struck Carpenter in the fall, breaking his neck, legs and arms.

Of this sum $1,000,000 is for the permanent endowment, $350,000 to cover the current expenditures or deficit of the departments of the university up to July 1, 1907.

The remaining $100,000 of the gift is to provide a fund, the interest of which is to go to the widow of President W. R. Harper during her lifetime.

SON SHOOTS FATHER DURING A DOMESTIC QUARREL

Young Man Claims He Shot in Self-Defense as His Parent Attempted to Beat Him.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

BROWNSVILLE, PA., Jan. 22.—Ernest A. Griffith, aged 19, was taken to jail at Uniontown tonight charged with shooting his father, Harry E. Griffith, a farmer, at their home in Redstone township. The father may die. The deed was committed yesterday morning soon after breakfast. The son alleges he shot in self-defense. The father says he was chastising his son for abusing his mother. The mother partially corroborated the boy's story.

The two quarreled and it is alleged that Ernest fired six shots from a revolver. After the father fell the youth used the revolver as a club, beating his father on the head as he lay on the floor. One bullet went through the father's left lung, lodging just under the skin in his back. Officers Patterson and Labin of this place arrested the young man. He waived a hearing today.

The people here say the father beat his son frequently. The prisoner refuses to talk except to say he defended himself from a beating. Dr. Lewis Reickard, who removed the bullet, stated Griffith has a slight chance to live.

Huff said Mr. Weightman told him he would give him $100 tomorrow morning.

Girl Stenographer in the Way.

WHEELING, W. VA., Jan. 22.—(Special.)—In the case of the state against A. John Hollar, charged with stealing a diamond stud from a traveling man, H. A. Kildow, at the McLure house Christmas day, Attorney R. M. Addleman, representing the defense, claimed that he could not bring out certain testimony material in the case because of the presence of the female court stenographer. The jury brought in a verdict of not guilty.

WILD DREAM OF WEALTH IS ENDED

Catherine Grey No Longer an Heiress, but Just Plain Resident of East End.

UP FOR TRIAL, IS DISCHARGED

Catherine Grey, graduate of Vassar, servant girl and heiress to half a million dollars, and Katherine Grey, the nurse who was clever enough to borrow a sum of money from Lawrence Faust, a coachman, are one, and in real life she is Katharyn Gray, a resident of the East End. This was made known last evening after a hearing of "Katherine Grey" on the charge of false pretense before Magistrate Negley of the East End.

Several weeks ago romantic minds in the city were caused to flutter by the startling announcement that a servant girl in the East End had fallen heir to half a million of dollars left her by a rich uncle, who was formerly a Virginia senator. To make the matter more romantic Miss Grey posed as a talented graduate of Vassar, but preferred to hide her talents behind the apron of a servant girl.

After a short period Catherine Grey, heiress, disappeared, and it was rumored she had gone to Washington to consult a lawyer in regard to her fortune. Developments, however, showed she had left her place of employment under a cloud.

Nothing more was heard of "Catherine Grey, heiress," but a few days ago Lawrence Faust, a coachman living on Rural avenue, appeared before Magistrate Negley and claimed he had been duped by Katherine Grey, nurse, who had represented herself as being Catherine Grey, the heiress. It seems Faust was one of those to write to the heiress proposing marriage. An answer was received to his letter and one evening, after the shades of night had fallen, he met the "heiress" at the Homewood station. She told him of how she needed $75 to hire a lawyer to look after her vast wealth. Faust, being generous hearted, says he gave her half of all the money he possessed at that time, which was $20, and he promised to give her $50 on the day following, which he did.

For this little act of charity the "heiress" promised him the entire fortune she was to receive. Faust was more than elated and dreamed wild dreams of driving horses which belonged to himself, rather than those of others. In a few days, however, he had a rude awakening, and immediately asked for the return of his money. He was given $13 of this, which had been deposited in the Homewood bank. For the rest of the sum he was given a 30-day promissory note. This note was made out in the presence of Faust by a lawyer in Diamond street.

At the hearing last evening before Magistrate Negley nothing was said about the note until Faust produced it and showed it to the court, and then Katherine Grey, nurse, was discharged, as there were no grounds of false pretense. During the hearing the crowd had plenty of fun through the reading of the letter which Faust had written to his heiress.

He admired her wit, pluck and cleverness and told of $500 he had in a bank and of how his life was insured for $1,000 and he also assured his bride-to-be he was not marrying her for her money, but for her wit and cleverness.

The chapter is probably now ended as far as the nurse, servant girl and heiress is concerned, and Faust perhaps has the best recollection of it as he holds a note for $47 signed by "Katharyn Gray" and on the record book of No. 6 police station appears a receipt for a gold chain and locket and a breastpin signed by the same "Katharyn Gray."

$100 REWARD IS CLAIMED AT ONCE

MANY OTHERS GET REWARDS

To a young man who is the support of his widowed mother, the $100 reward offered by The Gazette for the return of "Lucky Piece" No. 14,009 was paid yesterday. Under the circumstances The Gazette was doubly glad to pay the reward. That it will add not a little to the comfort and enjoyment of the little family goes without saying.

The fortunate person was Alfred Diven of 1021 Vickroy street, who is a driver for Price Brothers. One morning, about a month ago, as he was leaving his home to go to work, he picked up "Lucky Piece" No. 14,009 on the sidewalk only a short distance from his door. He didn't realize then that his luck had started, but he took the shining disc back to the house and turned it over to his mother. She placed it on the sideboard and there it remained until several days later, when in talking with some of his fellow drivers at the stables of the Shannon Transfer Company, where his wagon is kept, he found that they, too, had found "Lucky Pieces," and the plan was explained to him.

ALFRED DIVEN,
Who Held the "Lucky Piece" That Called for $100 Reward on Its Return to The Gazette.

It was then that Diven began to sit up and take notice and the next morning when he went to work he carried in his pocketbook No. 14,009. For some reason that number looked attractive to his friends and they made him all kinds of cash offers for it, but he luckily declined to be tempted. Instead he got The Gazette each day and looked over the lists of the numbers wanted as they appeared. He had almost given up hope of having his number called for and only a few days ago, when what he thought was a particularly good offer was made to him, he was almost persuaded to part with his "Lucky Piece." But something impelled him to stick it out and he is now thanking his lucky stars that he did.

Sunday morning early, a neighbor, Miss Maggie Sloan, rushed breathlessly into the house, just after Diven had finished breakfast, and before he had had time to look at the paper, and told him that the $100 was his. Most of the people in the neighborhood knew that he had "Lucky Piece" No. 14,009 and it was not long before many of them called at the house to congratulate him on his good fortune. There's an old saying that bad news travels faster than good news, and probably this exception only goes to prove the rule. To say that the young man and his mother are delighted over their good fortune is putting it mildly. Mr. Diven called at The Gazette office yesterday and a crisp new $100 gold certificate was given him in exchange for his aluminum disc. He has not yet fully decided what he will do with the money, but it's safe to say that the widowed mother will come in for a goodly share of it.

Through an error "Lucky Piece" No. 10,237, which was called for some time ago, the reward being $1, which went to George Knox, the colored messenger for the Marine National bank, was again published in last Sunday's Gazette in mistake for No. 10,231, and listed for $10. The error was not discovered until yesterday, when Knox dropped in to see about it. When the matter was explained to him he was satisfied. He went back to his home, told his wife of the case and discovered that she possessed No. 10,231. Two hours later, as soon as he could leave his work, he again called at The Gazette office and collected the money for her. This is the third reward that has gone to the family, Knox having received $1 about six weeks ago for one of the early numbers.

Harriett E. Rose of 3557 California avenue, Allegheny, picked up No. 46,051 on the front porch of her home about three weeks ago and she put it away for future reference. She kept watch on the lists of numbers as published from time to time in The Gazette and she was rewarded Sunday by finding that she was just $10 better off. The money was paid to her yesterday.

Among the others who shared in the distribution yesterday were:

A. W. Blume, 62 Marion street, No. 20,854..	$5.00

And that's the way it goes. All these people by finding "Lucky Pieces" and watching the lists as announced in The Gazette, have had extra cash given them. Their luck began when they found their "Lucky Pieces" and the cash followed. Every one who finds a "Lucky Piece" has just as much chance as they of getting a reward. Many more calls are coming, so keep your eyes open for the lists in The Gazette.

CLAIM CONTRACT IS MONTHS OLD

Officers of Voters' Civic League Deny Charge of Political Deal for Guthrie.

SOME THINGS NOT EXPLAINED

The officers of the Voters' Civic League attempt to defend themselves from the charge that they and the attorneys for the league are engaged in a deal with the Philadelphia Company and kindred political and financial interests to advance the candidacy of George W. Guthrie for mayor by making an agreement that the suit against the Philadelphia Company and the Verner syndicate shall be dropped upon the condition that the company keep its tracks off Grant boulevard.

A statement is issued by the executive committee of the league, signed by S. W. Childs, president, and T. De Wolfe, secretary, which denies, in a general way, that any deal has been consummated, but leaves the vital points in the matter still under a cloud.

It is stated that the agreement to free the boulevard of trolley tracks was broached to the attorneys of the league the first of last November, and that the form of the contract was submitted and approved by them a couple of weeks later, but they do not attempt to explain why this agreement was not made public until the present time, nor why it did not become public until practically the same day that the Citizens party leaders and the administration leaders indorsed Mr. Guthrie for mayor.

Mr. Guthrie was the principal attorney in the boulevard suit for the Voters' Civic league and the agreement which the officers of the league declare was first made to them two and a half months ago, was approved by the corporations committee of councils and recommended for passage on the same day that Director Bigelow, Mayor Hays, Murry A. Verner and other Citizens party leaders met at city hall and formally indorsed the candidacy of Mr. Guthrie.

The statement of the league admits that "charges of corruption in the procuring the passage of the ordinance through councils and the consequent invalidity of the ordinance," was one of the objections set forth in the bill of their attorneys in attacking the boulevard franchise. No reason is given why these charges are to be dropped after the league's attorneys have repeatedly declared that they had the evidence to prove the charges of corruption and secure the conviction of those who have been accused of tainting municipal legislation. The statement is strangely silent on that subject.

While the officers of the league do not attempt to answer these questions they defend the agreement, which they state was made months ago, on the ground that it preserves the boulevard against trolley lines better than the annulment of the Verner franchise by the courts could have done. They claim that if the franchise had been declared invalid the syndicate might have gone into councils again and secured a franchise which would be valid.

No answer is made to the statement of Director Bigelow that the new councils, which come into existence on the first of April, can revoke the contract which the present councils is making and permit the boulevard line then to be completed.

WILL ASK GOVERNOR ABOUT ADDITIONAL LEGISLATION

Representative Cooper Declares Democrats Are Acting in Bad Faith in Offering Resolutions.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

HARRISBURG, Jan 22.—Mr. Cooper of Delaware offered a concurrent resolution in the house that a committee of three representatives and two senators be appointed to wait upon the governor and report within three days his views as to additional subjects to be considered during the present extra session of the legislature. Mr. Cooper explained that the purpose of the resolutions was to ascertain whether the governor would propose additional legislation to be considered by the extra session. If the governor does not propose any additional legislation, then the adoption of this resolution at the end of three days would shut out further resolutions asking the governor to provide for additional legislation by issuing a supplementary call. He also intimated that the Democrats were offering resolutions asking the governor to provide for additional legislation and were acting in bad faith.

Mr. Harman of Columbia, in reply to Mr. Cooper, in behalf of the Democrats, said he was glad to know that his colleague favored reform, and that "when the devil wants an apologist I shall send for the gentleman from Delaware."

Mr. Creasy of Columbia favored putting the house on record for additional legislation and allowing the governor to do as he pleased.

Mr. Bowersox of Snyder said the legislature should enact the legislation proposed by the governor and then go home.

Mr. Kline of Allegheny thought the legislature should confine itself to the legislation proposed by the governor in his official summons for the extra session.

The resolution was unanimously adopted. The speaker appointed Messrs. Cooper, Dunsmore and Creasy as th e committee on the part of the house to wait upon the governor.

Mr. Dunsmore offered a resolution that the governor be requested to amend his call for the extra session so as to provide for the consideration of legislation on these subjects: To enable trolley companies to carry freight; to provide a new system of taxation so as to require railroads and other corporations to pay the same taxes as private individuals; to revise and reform the general election laws, and to provide for the retention by the counties of all personal property and license taxes now paid by them to the state. The resolution was adopted.

A communication was read from Insurance Commissioner David Martin stating that the fees of his office during the year 1905 for special licenses to place insurance in unlicensed companies was $768 by the present commissioner, and $5,595 by his predecessor, Israel W. Durham. The fees of the actuary of the department was $33,191.99. These fees were collected prior to Martin's appointment last July, and were applied to rent of offices, clerk hire and other expenses. Mr. Martin received no fees from this source. The entire amount of fees collected and turned into the treasury was $99,375, amount taxes collected on premiums and paid into state treasury was $1,180,608.

A bill regulating the expenses of candidates for public offices was introduced in the senate by Roberts of Montgomery. The Goehring civil service bill and the Philadelphia "ripper" bill were read the second time.

The house resolution for the appointment of a committee to wait upon the governor and ascertain his views with regard to additional legislation for the extra session was adopted by the senate. Messrs. Edmiston of Bradford and Dewalt of Lehigh were appointed a committee on the part of the senate.

MEETS DEATH IN FALL.

While Asleep Robert Chambers Drops from Third-Story Window in Rear of Building in Masters Way.

Robert Chambers, an employe at the Diamond bowling alley, 7 Masters way, fell from a third-story window in the rear of the building last evening and died an hour late at the Homeopathic hospital. Chambers was a "pin setter" and about 7 o'clock, during a lull in business, sat down on a board laid across the top of a radiator by the open window. The window sill was very low and it is presumed Chambers dropped asleep for an instant, during which he lost his balance and fell backward out of the window.

Chambers was single, aged 22, and lived with Dr. Theodore Roxbury, his brother-in-law, at 2027 DeRand street.

Michael Duane died at St. Joseph's hospital at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon from cerebral hemorrhages, said to have resulted from an injury sustained last October. He was walking in his sleep and fell down a stairway.

A baby four months old was reported to the coroner last night as having died at 6 o'clock from drinking liquid paint. The child's name was John R. Dotchin, whose parents live at 9 Telescope street, South Side.

Lectures on Public Prayer.

The Rev. Dr. M. P. Talling of Toronto, Canada, has just completed courses of lectures in the Western and Allegheny Theological seminaries on "Public Prayer; Its Principles, Preparation and Practice." Dr. Talling maintains that the weakest part of public worship in the non-liturgical churches is generally public prayer. His lectures advocating more careful preparation and higher efficiency in this important office were marked by a fine devotional spirit and indicated a mastery of the broad subject.

SAYS THE SOUTH DEMANDS RENOMINATION OF PRESIDENT

Picturesque Col. Lyon from Texas Declares Mr. Roosevelt Must Surrender His Personal Inclinations as He Did at Philadelphia in 1900.

SPECIAL TELEGRAM FROM
L. W. STRAYER, Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.—"Jacob Riis is not original in proposing another term for President Roosevelt. The south will demand his renomination, and I fancy he must have some popularity in the north and west, when the solid Democratic south feels as it does."

This is the contribution of Col. Cecil A. Lyon of Texas to the Roosevelt third term boom. Col. Lyon, who absolutely controls the Texas Republican organization as state chairman and national committeeman, will cast 36 votes from that state in the next national Republican convention. He is a personal and political friend of the President.

Col. Lyon is a picturesque politician, a wealthy man who plays the game for fun, who made his deput in helping to capture the Texas delegation for McKinley in 1896, who originated the plan to attack the Hanna boom in flank by pushing Myron T. Herrick for vice president in 1904 and last summer he furnished the President with new sensations during his southwestern trip by showing him how Texans course gray wolves over prairie dog villages with grayhounds.

"The south will certainly demand the President's renomination," says Col. Lyon, "and let it be remembered that the south has nominated a few Republican presidents. There is not a Democrat who could beat Roosevelt by 50,000 votes in Texas, is he should run again, and while I would not say he could carry the state, I would not say he could not. He'd run like a scared rabbit in Louisiana after his visit to New Orleans at the risk of yellow fever. This is not a question of what President Roosevelt's intentions are, or what his desires are. He has said he would not accept another nomination, and I believe he means that. But the people have selected the President for their agent to accomplish certain definite things, the curbing of the beef trust and railroad rate regulation, for instance. The opposition that believes it can get rid of both Roosevelt and his policies by defeating his recommendations, will wake up with a headache on the morning after the next national Republican convention. For the people will give 'em Roosevelt until they give the people what they want.

"President Roosevelt may have to surrender his personal inclinations as he had to do at Philadelphia in 1900. He has accepted a trust placed by the people in his hands, and it is not likely that the people will permit their trustee to resign his commission until that trust has been accomplished. That is just as plain as the horn on a saddle.

"These fellows who are trying to raise a duststorm about Santo Domingo and Morocco and Senegambia, and over whether some congressman was or was not permitted to select the postmaster of Sleepy Hollow, well, they are playing the wrong system to win.

"Lincoln said something pretty pertinent about not being able to fool the people, and this is one of the times when the public has its eye on what it wants. It's the same proposition as a good cow puncher cutting one steer out of the bunch. The dust and the tossing horns and the milling of the bunch can't save that steer."

subscription. The price of a subscription to Fads and Fancies was $1,500 and Col. Mann was asked what Mr. White paid the extra $1,000 for.

Wanted Few Pages, Got None.

He wanted four pages instead of two.

You didn't hand him back the money. He got only one book and his name was not in the book.

No.

Col. Mann said he never received any money from United States Senator William A. Clark of Montana.

There was a series of articles about a member of his family?

I am not aware of it.

That series was stopped and you became friends with Senator Clark?

Yes.

How did you become friendly with him without money?

There was some correspondence with him. The senator came to my office and talked for an hour or two. He said he was building a railroad. He said he was going to issue bonds only when the road was complete and that I could have some of the bonds then. From that day to this I have not seen Senator Clark.

Asked whether there was a key to anonymous paragraphs in Town Topics, Col. Mann said there was none. His attention was then called to two paragraphs in Town Topics, one of which was anonymous but apparently about the same man as the other, and he was asked what connection there was between them. After the witness had replied that he saw no connection, Mr. Osbourne said:

How Schwab's Money Came.

Then it is in the inherent malice of inanimate objects?

That is it, a matter of the galleys.

Did you ever borrow from Charles M. Schwab?

I applied for a loan of $10,000 from him on stock of the Alger Sullivan Lumber Company and he agreed to take the stock and give me the $10,000.

Did you get it?

Some one brought the money in the office and it was left there, but I did not handle it.

And you don't know who it was that brought the money?

No.

Taking up the loan of W. K. Vanderbilt, which Col. Mann said might have been $25,000, Mr. Osbourne asked:

It is not agreed that his name is never to be printed in Town Topics?

No.

Did you not tell Mr. Wayne, your managing editor, that if he said anything about W. K. Vanderbilt in your paper or even mentioned his name at all, it would be taking money out of your mouth?

I did not.

Col. Mann testified that the paper printed advertisements in several languages for the Equitable Life.

Did you not have the story of the row in the Equitable long before it became public and did you not suppress that story because of your friendly relations with Mr. Hyde or for other reasons?

No.

Women Carried Tales.

Did not a woman bring you the story of the quarrel in the Equitable?

I now have a faint recollection that a woman who said she was a stenographer or clerk in the Equitable office, came to my office and she said she knew the facts about a fight inside the company, but I paid no attention to her. A day or two later the whole thing about the Equitable quarrel came out in the papers.

Warren B. Schley the witness said loaned him about $1,500 and also carried stocks for him. Mr. Osbourne then asked:

Did Mr. Schley write to you asking you to quit printing things about E. J. Burwind, the capitalist?

I think something of that sort happened.

Col. Mann said that he paid back $1,000 which he had borrowed from G. S. Scott by giving him a subscription to Fads and Fancies, upon securing an extra $500 to make up $1,500, the full price of the book. The agent, he said, received only the commission on the $500, for Col. Mann regarded the $1,000 as a loss. From R. P. Flower the witness said he had borrowed about $2,000 or $3,000.

Belmonts Not Alike.

Col. Mann said that there were perhaps three or four persons who paid $1,500 a piece for the book called Fads and Fancies whose names did not appear therein. They did not care to be mentioned in the book.

The witness said that for $10,000 he gave Mrs. Collis P. Huntington two copies of Fads and Fancies.

After recess District Attorney Jerome recalled Col. Mann. Col. Mann told of a transaction which he said he had with Perry Belmont. Mr. Osborne had asked him whether he sold Mr. Belmont Town Topics stock and whether Lawyer Abraham Hummel did not come to him representing Mr. Belmont concerning a story in Town Topics. Col. Mann replied that Mr. Hummel may have comt to him about such a story and that he sold Mr. Belmont stock many years ago.

I frankly told Mr. Belmont that I was in straitened circumstances and wanted him to subscribe to some stock in Town Topics. He left my office saying he would see me again, but that was the last I saw of him.

Of the $90,000 which he borrowed from James R. Keene, Col. Mann said that he had paid back all except $46,000, and that for this amount he gave Mr. Keene a second mortgage on property worth $108,000.

The stockholders of Town Topics, Col. Mann testified, are W. K. Vanderbilt, 25 shares; John W. Gates, 20 shares; Howard Gould, 20 shares; Dr. Howard Webb, 20 shares, and the balance of the shares are owned by Justice Joseph M. Deuel, Col. Man and his wife and daughter. Col. Mann said that he himself owned but one share of the stock. In accounting for Justice Deuel's connection with Town Topics he said:

He had been kind to us, my daughter and myself, and we felt that when we could repay him we should, and we did it by giving him shares of our own stck.

Just before leaving the stand Col. Mann said:

I forgot to say that W. K. Vanderbilt sent me back my notes and later returned me the stock.

The witness had previously testified that he repaid a $25,000 loan from W. K. Vanderbilt by giving him 25 shares in the Town Topics stock.

The prosecution rested and Mr. Osborne began summing up for the defense on the evidence of the prosecution. The defense has several witnesses who probably will be called tomorrow. Mr. Osborne compared the Town Topics publication to the story of the three fates painted on the wall of the court room. In this comparison the agent of the paper was the spinner, Judge Deuel was the measurer, and the old man whom Mr. Osborne called the King of Assassins of reputation was Col. Mann.

Assassin of Character.

We claim it was disgraceful for a judge to be connected with such a paper. We claim that Judge Deuel, a judge of a children's court, read the proofs of this vile Town Topics. We claim it was disgraceful for a judge to be connected with a paper that aimed at the destruction of the purity of the youth of the country. We claim Town Topics produces scandal. Judge Deuel and Col. Mann knew they were building up a power of terror that was felt all over the land.

Col. Mann went to Oliver Belmont, a man he didn't know, and boldly asked him for money. But Belmont would not give up and he was bad Oliver in Town Topics ever after. But Perry Belmont gave up and he was the good Perry. Judge Deuel, our trustee by law, sits in judgment on our libel suits and goes down and reads proofs of Town Topics. Col. Mann demanded money and did it so boldly that one millionaire gave him the money and told him for "God's sake take back your notes and your stock."

Col. Mann sent his agents to men and demanded $1,500 for a pint of cherries from Mount Lebanon—this king of the assassins of character. Judge Deuel was connected with a paper that was a venomous swamp of libels. They were like the poisoned arrows of the bushman. They were sent from ambush. A verdict against Hapgood is a verdict against decency and a love of virtue in this community.

WANTS A SEPARATE VOTE

his first speech in this legislature tonight. He offered a resolution requesting the governor to add local option to his list of legislative subjects. The house voted him down. He said:

"I present this resolution in all seriousness. I present it as a Republican who loves his party and wants to see it win. This is a burning question. Why should we wait to be driven to consideration of it? I want the Republican party to put itself on record for local option. If the governor declines to make it a subject for legislation now, I would insist it be one of the planks in the Republican platform."

Frank Mohr of Berks tried to get a little notoriety by introducing a resolution to prevent the erection of the statue to the late M. S. Quay. It was ruled out on the ground the subject was not germane to the call of the governor. Even John Fow, Democrat of Philadelphia, objected to the resolution. Representative Kline of Pittsburgh made a strong speech against the resolution.

Primary Election Bill Presented.

The governor's bill for the regulation of party primaries did not appear tonight. One prepared by Mr. McClain of Lancaster was presented. It provides for the primaries of all parties on the same day, same hour and by the general election officers. All candidates for congress, senator, judge and county officers are to be nominated by a direct vote. Delegates to state and national conventions are also chosen by popular vote. State candidates will continue to be chosen in state conventions. Every party entitled to have a square in the ballot in the preceding election can enter the primaries. Each is to have a separate ballot box. Candidates are to register under the rules of their party. Each candidate may distribute his own ballots. The same returning board which counts the votes of a general election will count the primary vote.

Mr. Plummer today addressed a letter to the newspapers of Blair county calling upon his constituents to advise him as to their desire on a primary election law. He says it will cost Blair county $3,000 a year to hold the primaries.

Plan to Apportion.

Representative Smith of Pittsburgh has prepared a plan for legislative apportionment in Pittsburgh which he thinks will be satisfactory. He does not disturb the First and Second, Third and Fourth districts as provided for in the McWhinney bill. He forms these districts: Fifth—Fourteenth and Twenty-third wards, one member; Sixth—Sixteenth and Twentieth wards, one member; Seventh—Seventeenth, Eighteenth, Nineteenth wards, one member; Eighth—Twenty-first, Twenty-second, Thirty-seventh wards, one member; Ninth—Twenty-fourth to Thirty-sixth, inclusive, and the Thirty-eighth and Fortieth wards, three members. He says the Sixth and Eighth districts can be combined with two members. Representative Edlis would like to have the Eleventh and Thirteenth wards made into a separate district. These matters will be considered tomorrow in the representative apportionment committee. Chairman McWhinney says he can count 162 members of the house for an apportionment bill.

FALSE REPORTS CAUSED DOMINICAN REVOLUTION

Rumors Circulated That American Marines Landed to Aid Morales.

[SPECIAL CABLE TO THE GAZETTE.]
(Copyright, 1906, by New York Herald Co.)

PUERTO PLATA, SANTO DOMINGO, Jan. 22.—In the opinion of Senor Ricardo Limardo, governor of Puerto Plata, the crisis in the affairs of the Dominican republic, resulting in the flight of President Morales from the capital and the revolution and loss of many lives, was due directly to the false reports of a landing of United States marines. The citizens assumed that a demonstration by the marines was intended to sustain Morales and frighten his political opponents into submission. Denials by the American authorities of any intent to help Morales were not generally credited.

President Morales had previously discussed his resignation, as he had been shorn of power and was surrounded by enemies. Such excitement followed the marine incident in the capital that he decided to flee and form a new cabinet at Monte Cristi.

Gov. Limardo, who took a leading part in the fighting here, says that the attitude of Capt. Sutherland of the Yankee was such as to deserve the commendation of both parties in the conflict. "I wish to state," continued the governor, "that we feel the deepest gratitude toward the surgeons of the American warships. When I requested medical aid the surgeons came ashore and did splendid work."

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.—(Special.)—The bureau of navigation says no United States marines have been landed in Santo Domingo since the time of Commander Dillingham. The only incident of that kind in the recent trouble was the landing of armed men by the Independencia.

SKIN ECZEMA IN WORST FORM
Black Splotches All Over Face—Produced Severe Itching—Year's Treatment by Physicians Did No Good and Became Despondent—Affected Parts Now Clear as Ever—Alabama Lady's CURE BY THE CUTICURA REMEDIES
"About four years ago I was afflicted with black splotches all over my face and a few covering my body, which produced a severe itching irritation, and which caused me a great deal of annoyance and suffering, to such an extent that I was forced to call in two of the leading physicians of my town. After a thorough examination of the dreaded complaint they announced it to be skin eczema in its worst form. They treated me for the same for the length of one year, but the treatment did me no good.
"Finally I became despondent and decided to discontinue their services. Shortly afterwards, my husband in reading a copy of a weekly New York paper saw an advertisement of the Cuticura Remedies. He purchased the entire outfit, and after using the contents of the first bottle of Cuticura Resolvent in connection with the Cuticura Soap and Ointment, the breaking out entirely stopped. I continued the use of the Cuticura Remedies for six months, and after that every splotch was entirely gone and the affected parts were left as clear as ever. I have not felt a symptom of the eczema since, which was three years ago.
"The Cuticura Remedies not only cured me of that dreadful disease, eczema, but other complicated troubles as well; and I have been the means of others being cured of the same disease by the Cuticura Remedies, and I don't hesitate in saying that the Resolvent is the best blood medicine that the world has ever known." CIVIC PARTY IS NOT SO PLEASED

TUSSLING WITH CONSPIRACY

The Civic party was rather pleased with the importance accorded to it by the Citizens and Democratic machines, as evidenced by the efforts of the past masters of Citizens and Democratic politics to secure the assent of the Civic party to the nominations of Bigelow councilmen. Yesterday the Civic party learned the truth of the charge made in The Gazette on Sunday morning that the indorsement of George W. Guthrie by the Citizens organization was part of a scheme of the city administration to secure the election of councilmen favorable to the schemes of certain corporations.

All day yesterday the committee of the Civic party wrestled with two committees, one each from the Citizens and Democratic organizations, appointed by E. M. Bigelow and James A. Clark, the respective leaders of the Citizens and Democratic organizations. The Citizens and Democratic committees sought to have the Civic party's committee approve the nominations of Bigelow councilmen, to run on the fusion ticket of the three parties. So strong were the demands of the Democrats and Citizens for the turning down of men who have always been consistent political reformers, that in one case there was a fist fight, while in every other case there were charges that the Democrats and Citizens did not care whether the men they wanted put up were men of character, so long as it was fair to suppose that they would carry out in councils the orders of Bigelow.

Hot Fights in Three East End Wards.

The three committees got no further in adjusting the ward fights than the Twenty-first ward. The Nineteenth, Twentieth and Twenty-first wards occupied the time of the joint committee for three hours, and when the committee adjourned until this morning the nominations in those wards had not been adjusted.

In the Nineteenth, the Civic party's local organization has already fixed up a ward ticket with the Republicans, C. D. Tilbury being the Civic party's nominee for select council, while two Republicans, who because of their high character are satisfactory to the Civic party, are nominated for common council. James M. McKee, one of the Citizens party's bosses in the Nineteenth ward and also in control of the Democratic organization there, is trying to foist upon the Civic party three men who are considered adherents of E. M. Bigelow.

In the Twentieth ward "Mart" Howley, the road contractor, is trying to force George H. Stengel, candidate for select council, off the Civic ticket, by declining to permit him to have the Democratic nomination.

In the Twenty-first ward, so imminent was the danger that a fusion ticket would be composed of Bigelow men in that ward, that Dr. McNeil and J. K. Wymard, who were at the parting of the ways, joined issue, and Wymard advocated McNeil for select council.

Wymard and Petgin Mix It Up.

Wymard and C. C. Petgin came together yesterday afternoon, at the Civic party's headquarters in Sixth avenue. Wymard and Petgin had appeared before the joint committee, and after each had spoken for rival councilmanic tickets they met in another room. Wymard, so the story goes, denounced Petgin; Petgin said Wymard had not kept his ante-election pledges when he was a member of councils; Wymard attacked Petgin's veracity and gave Petgin a punch. Friends parted them.

The Democrats and Citizens were insisting yesterday that Councilman John Taylor, a Bigelow member of the common branch, be made the fusion candidate for select council in the Twenty-first ward. Taylor was opposed by Wymard and McNeil, and his chief sponsor is James A. Clark, the Democratic boss. Col. James M. Guffey, the Democratic provider of the sinews of war, was called into the meeting of the joint committee yesterday afternoon. It is understood that Col. Guffey, besides talking on the Twentieth ward issue, put in some strong licks for Taylor, who is a Democrat. George W. Guthrie, on the contrary, is against Taylor, for he is said to consider Taylor's record in council as not exactly the one to recommend Taylor as a candidate on a good government platform.

Clark and Bigelow also wanted to put Councilman Robert Porter on the councilmanic ticket. Porter is, like Taylor, a consistent Bigelow-corporation councilman. He was nominated by the Republicans recently.

Republicans and Civics Fuse.

Last night at a meeting of the Republican ward committee of the Twenty-first ward, the fate of Porter as a Republican candidate was sealed. The ward committee met and officially took down the whole Republican ticket, recently nominated by a committee, and proceeded to nominate another set of candidates.

The meeting was held in the headquarters, the ward chairman, A. C. Gumbert, presiding. Mr. Gumbert explained that it had been the wish to unite all Republicans of the ward, but that since the Citizens party had declared for Guthrie, it was thought better to have an entirely new ticket. A motion was carried reconsidering the action of the committee of five that had nominated the ticket.

Several speeches were made, and as it seemed to be the opinion that the Republicans had to fuse with some other party in order to win at the election, J. K. Wymard, who was present, was called on for suggestions. Wymard proposed that the Civic party have two men on the councilmanic ticket and the Republicans one. For the Civic party's candidate he suggested Dr. George W. McNeil for select council and E. W. Olson for common council. A committee of five, appointed by Chairman Gumbert, retired to consider the suggestions. The Republicans did not like the idea of having only one man on the ticket, so a message was sent to Dr. McNeil.

Dr. McNeil Not Ambitious.

Dr McNeil said he did not care for the nomination and that he would be satisfied if Joseph L. Wright, who with Charles Ross, J. Albert Odell and N. F. Savage were suggested at the Republican meeting, be put on the ticket in his place. The messenger returned to the committee and that body reported in favor of Wright for select council, and E. W. Olson and Charles Ross for common council. Mr. Wymard said the ticket was satisfactory to him, but was subject to revision by the central committee of the Civic party. In view of the fact that the central committee may not be satisfied with the ticket the Republican nominating committee was authorized to fill any vacancies that may occur. The Citizens and Democrats of the ward will fuse and nominate John Taylor for select council and may decide to nominate N. F. Savage and J. Albert Odell, Republicans.

The rest of the Republican ward ticket nominated last night is as follows: School directors (Lincoln district), E. C. Chalfant, Victor Wilson, H. L. Bender and Philip Gibson; Homewood district, F. A. Schmitz and J. L. Speer; assessor, M. I. Good.

That the Citizens of the Twentieth ward were unable to control the nominations of the Civic party was shown last night, when the Citizens met in their headquarters in Sheridan street and named a ticket without a Civic party man on it. The select councilman of the ward holds over. The Citizens put in nomination G. W. Hammer, C. W. Helmold and A. G. Roenigk, Bigelow members of council. The candidates for school director are W. A. Sipe and Thomas Evans.

LOGAN MAKES DENIAL.

Allegheny Candidate Says He Is Entering Into No Deals.

The ward chairmen of the Good Government party of Allegheny last night discussed the work of the campaign. C. M. King was appointed chairman of the Sixth ward committee. It was announced that Dr. J. W. Reppermund had agreed to make a canvass of the German voters in behalf of Candidate Logan.

Maj. H. K. Tyler has about completed the work necessary on the Logan nomination papers. Mr. Logan issued a statement yesterday denying that he had made any deal with Mayor Wyman or any of Wyman's cabinet or followers.

POLICE PENSION AFTER 20 YEARS

MAYOR ATTACKS LIBRARY

The period of service to entitle a policeman or detective to a pension is to be reduced from 25 to 20 years if an ordinance introduced in select council yesterday becomes a law. This is a revival of an old scheme which has been attempted before in a different manner. The proposed ordinance provides that the city appropriation to each employe of the police and detective bureaus shall be increased from $30 to $50 per year, this money to be paid into the pension fund.

There are 500 employes in the two bureaus and the increase in the appropriation will be $10,000. Chief Clerk Elias John of the department of public safety, who also holds the position of secretary of the pension board, said that if the increase is granted by councils the term of service will be reduced to 20 years, placing the employes of the police and detective bureaus on the same basis as the firemen, who retire after serving 20 years.

The first attempt to reduce the service period from 25 to 20 years was tried about two years ago, but was defeated by the vote of Roger O'Mara, a pensioner who, it was said, feared that if the time limit was reduced the number of pensioners would grow so fast that his own pension might be endangered. Under the rules governing the pension fund a single pensioner or member of the association can prevent by his vote any reduction of the service period.

O'Mara promised that if the fund was increased to guarantee enough money to make all pensions safe, he would withdraw his objections. The next attempt was to divert a percentage of the annual revenues of the mayor's office to the pension fund, but this also failed, now comes the present plan. It is stated that the total amount in the pension fund is $120,000, that there are about 12 pensioners and that the total pensions paid out monthly amount to about $800.

The ordinance granting the South Side Electric Manufacturing Company a franchise for the South Side district was unanimously passed by select council. The company agrees to furnish the arc lights to the city at $75 each year.

Mayor Hays has joined Controller Larkin in an attack on the expenditures of Carnegie library. The mayor sent to councils yesterday a letter asking councils to appoint a special committee to investigate conditions at the library. The investigation is to be conducted under the guise of trying to economize in public expenditures.

In response to the mayor's request, select council adopted a resolution to appoint a committee of five, which will consist of two members from select and three from common. The mayor's communication to councils is as follows:

> The estimates submitted by W. N. Frew, president of the board of trustees of the Carnegie library for the fiscal year beginning on February 1, 1906, are considerably more than that of last year and much larger than that of any other city in the United States, as shown by the letter comparing the cost of the maintenance of public libraries submitted by J. B. Larkin, city controller.
>
> I would, therefore, suggest that a committee from your honorable bodies be appointed to visit the Carnegie library with Mr. Frew or some one representing the board of trustees, to familiarize yourselves with the needs of that institution. We are trying to economize in all our departments during the coming year, and, while it is not our intention to handicap the board of trustees in any way, we are desirous of saving money wherever possible, and for that reason suggest that you make the appointment.

"GOOD GOVERNMENT" IS THE NAME OF A NEW PARTY

Alderman Louis Alpern Heads Application for Title—Union Labor Party in Thirteenth Ward.

Among the patents for political parties taken out yesterday was one for the Good Government party, to cover the entire city. On the face of things Alderman Louis Alpern is the prime mover in the affair, but it is understood that men of greater political prominence will later disclose their connection with the new party. Alpern was elected alderman of the Seventh ward on the Citizens ticket, but he is now acting with the Republicans. The other signers of the application for the exclusive right to use the appellation "Good Government party" are Benjamin M. Levinson, Thomas H. Moore, George J. Fellman and Samuel H. Bennett. Other patents were filed as follows:

First ward, Independent, Aylette Fullerton, Walter McMillin, James Crossan, John A. Joyce and William T. Whitaker; Thirteenth ward, Good Government, M. A. Strothers, George W. Sadler, A. F. Zitzman, James Pendergast and Joseph W. Irwin; Thirteenth ward, Union Labor, V. F. Reddy, Edward J. Smith, Herman Rosemeyer, John Good and George McCormick; Thirty-seventh ward, Citizens, William Gunst, F. H. Grimm, S. M. Dick, I. K. Beck and S. B. Jeffries.

Three Cornered Fight in McKeesport.

William H. Coleman, the Republican nominee for mayor of McKeesport, will likely have two opponents at the election next month, Michael Gross on the Democratic ticket, and J. Denny O'Neil on the Citizens ticket. Mr. Gross was selected at primaries held a week ago, and Mr. O'Neil has practically decided to be a candidate. It is probable that a full ticket will be put in the field by the Citizens, who will hold a meeting this evening.

Magee Will Be Home Today.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.—(Special.)—W. A. Magee, Jr., left here this afternoon for Harrisburg and will go to Pittsburgh tomorrow evening. He called at the capitol today to pay his respects to Senators Knox and Penrose, but said he had nothing to say regarding Pittsburgh politics.

Tuesday, January 23, 1906.

What the Chinese commissioners saw in Pittsburgh yesterday should be of some value to their mission. Pittsburgh is one of the best exemplifications of the western spirit of progress. It would not be possible under an autocratic form of government. It is an exponent of concrete liberalism, of general education, and of the enterprise inspired by the removal of limitations upon personal advancement.

Today the joint statehood bill will be reported from the house committee on states and territories. The first test of strength will come on a rule to be reported prohibiting amendment. Speaker Cannon is confident the rule will pass. If it does the fight in the house will be practically ended; if it does not the bill will be divided, Oklahoma and Indian territory admitted as one state while Arizona and New Mexico will be excluded.

Orders have been given the payroll to work for Guthrie. Certainly. They are the usual orders on pain of dismissal. The men on the payroll hope Mr. Guthrie will be elected and they will be retained in their places. Mr. Guthrie has said, however, that under his administration no man's job will depend on his political effort. Here is a good chance for him to extend that offer under the present administration. Will he, if elected, retain the men who work against his election?

Pennsylvania was well represented at yesterday's meeting of the Interstate National Guard association in Washington. In speaking to the delegates, President Roosevelt laid stress on the encouragement of rifle practice among national guardsmen and intimated more attention to marksmanship would be beneficial to the regular army as well. Skill with the rifle is the very foundation of a soldier's efficiency, and the matter seems deservedly to be receiving more attention on the part of military authorities.

Common council is now the only recourse of the people against the proposition to continue the control of the traction interest over the Grant boulevard, while releasing it from the requirement to lay tracks and the franchise syndicate from the consequences of obtaining the grant at great expense. There is some independence in common council. It has been shown on several recent occasions and may be again. If the franchise grabbers want to drop their franchise they should, at least, be compelled to give it up completely.

Two interesting questions were up yesterday in connection with the annexation of new wards; one the representation of Sterrett township in councils, the other free telephone service in the Fortieth ward, formerly Esplen. The latter is the more important as indicating what the city has not been receiving in return for valuable grants. While the boroughs have secured free service in many cases, the city has been giving away its franchises for nothing and paying excessive rates for the services of the beneficiary corporations.

Germany has passed one day which had been anticipated with some forebodings, but the socialist spirit is reported to be gaining strength in unexpected quarters and causing the authorities much uneasiness. Secret orders from Berlin will be followed by military precautions at several points where sympathy with the Russian revolutionists is likely to take the form of an outbreak. The socialists have made more noise in Germany than in many other countries, but Emperor William has always maintained his army at extreme strength.

The diplomatic appointments announced yesterday are remarkable in one particular, only, the promotion of Gen. Luke E. Wright from the post of governor of the Philippines to be the first ambassador to Japan. It is an important post, though the newest ambassadorship. Former Minister Griscom is promoted to be ambassador to Mexico, which follows the precedent made in the case of former Minister to China Conger. The question naturally presents itself, however, whether a territorial governor is diplomatically rated above or below the rank of a minister to a foreign capital.

The Boulevard Plunder.

George W. Guthrie, Democratic candidate for mayor, does not appear to good advantage in his present company. He lacks the courage to express what must be his honest personal opinion lest he give offense to his strange political bed-fellows. In connection with the proposition to remove the railway tracks from Grant boulevard, provided the city vacates its authority over the highway for 45 years—a proposition growing out of the desire of a syndicate to evade prosecution of its members for bribery—one of Mr. Guthrie's organs quotes him as follows:

> I am not prepared to say much about the ordinance as yet. Personally I am for the boulevard being kept clear, and I cannot see, if the ordinance is passed, why there should be any reason for going on with the suit. Certainly the opponents of the road will have gained all they want in keeping the tracks off the boulevard. As for tying up the city's rights to grant a traction line there, and as to the hints of the possible political effect of the move, I am not in a position to say just now.

Mr. Guthrie is "not prepared to say much" and is "not in a position to say just now." These are strange, weak, wabbly words to be uttered by a "champion of the people's rights." William H. Stevenson, Orphan and former councilman and present candidate for council, declared yesterday: "Pass this ordinance as it stands and a greater crime will be committed than when the franchise was passed, corruptly as alleged in the bill filed in this case. There should be no restrictions to the giving up of the franchise." Spoken like a man. Mr. Stevenson registered his protest in council against the franchise ordinance and he speaks as vigorously against the pending attempt to retain control of the boulevard while evading the consequences of the corrupt grant. Mr. Stevenson is a champion of the people who stands up to the fight.

In select council the old administration element passed this outrageous ordinance by suspension of the rules. It was strong enough to defeat Dr. E. B. Walters' resolution providing for an investigation of the deal. It will be interesting to note how many of these members of select council are indorsed for reelection by the Democratic ward committees under the supervision of the Hon. William J. Brennen. Friends of Mr. Guthrie have warned him his party is being used to deal in the councilmen, Democrats and Citizens, who contributed to the infamous misgovernment of the past three years, but what can he do? He personally indorsed the plan for having Mr. Brennen authorized to veto the nomination of any candidate for councils not nominated in the interest of his own candidacy and empowering Mr. Brennen to approve any fusion designedly in that interest. It will hardly be pretended this fusion is not the basis of the indorsement of Mr. Guthrie by the Citizens machine, though we hesitate to believe Mr. Guthrie knew the purpose when he approved the appointment of Brennen as censor of all ward nominations.

Mr. Guthrie has, indeed, fallen into bad company. He has meant well, we believe, and intended to be a good Democratic mayor. He would be that, if elected. But he has become, in spite of himself, the candidate of the corrupt Democratic-Citizens machine that has disgraced the city for the past three years, and the more or less unwilling beneficiary of one of the worst deals ever entered upon by that corrupt combination. He is in a peculiar position on unfamiliar ground, is naturally confused, and in consequence lacks the virility of Mr. Stevenson in denouncing the projected compounding of the greatest crime perpetrated against the public during this administration.

An Embarrassing Situation.

A large dog with his tongue hanging out and presenting the general appearance of a sufferer from hydrophobia ran wildly through the downtown streets of Minneapolis the other day and bit a dozen persons who were not sufficiently alert to get out of his track. A bullet from a policeman's revolver ended the brute's life. The city bacteriologist states that 18 days must elapse before he can determine with certainty whether the dog was really suffering from hydrophobia or was simply excited by the sights and sounds of the city, it having been shown the animal was from the country. If the dog had been captured alive, the doctor says, his condition could have been known within four days. Several rabbits have been inoculated with virus from the brain of the dog and the condition of the little animals will be carefully noted. In the meantime all persons who were bitten have been quarantined in their homes by order of the health department.

So far no one has exhibited any symptoms of hydrophobia, but all are suffering from an embarrassing amount of notoriety, and their burden is not being alleviated by the kindly attentions of their humorously-inclined friends and acquaintances. In some homes the suspected person is confined to a single room, his meals being handed to him by one of the braver members of the family. A facetious friend, it is related, brought one of the possible victims a large meat-bone, carefully scraped, such as is relished by Towser or Fido. The St. Paul newspapers, as might be expected, are having their fill of fun over the incident, warning citizens to beware of people coming from Minneapolis and suggesting visitors from the neighboring city wear muzzles before entering St. Paul. The Pasteur method of treatment is being employed in all cases. One could be placed in few more embarrassing positions than that of having his friends scrutinize him for symptoms of coming madness. The Minneapolis authorities, in their zeal for the public health, may have erred a little on the safe side, but they seem to have caused a deal of laughter. And laughter, as we all know, is the best of medicines.

Greater Pittsburgh Bills.

In deciding to support its own Greater Pittsburgh bill the Merchants and Manufacturers' association has struck a blow against realizing the purpose of a greater Pittsburgh. Nothing can do more to injure the prospects of legislation on this subject than wide difference of opinion among the people here who are supposed to be supporting the idea. The chamber of commerce bill is a much better measure. With few modifications it will meet the exigencies of the case. The chamber took the lead in the movement for former bills and had one passed at the session last year.

Greater Pittsburgh has been too long postponed for the good of the community. It should not be made the football of factional politics, nor of petty jealousies. Consolidation is sought for the benefit of the mass of people residing in the several municipalities, to relieve them of a portion of the expense of maintaining separate governments and to secure for them the better protection of unified administration. It is sought to give the community the census rating to which it is entitled as a great center of population and industry.

The legislature at Harrisburg is ready to respond to a united demand for the necessary legislation. Gov. Pennypacker is an advocate of annexation. Yet if the people or the organizations of the Greater Pittsburgh territory are to play at cross purposes and to advocate widely different measures, how is the legislature to decide just what they desire?

Two Cents a Mile.

There is a rising sentiment in this and other states against the injustice of exacting a deposit of $10 from the purchasers of thousand-mile tickets. Less frequently expressed is the popular belief the railroads could well afford a rate of 2 cents a mile on all classes of passenger traffic, but the belief is not less strong. The connection between these desired reforms and the abolition of free passes is casual, only. In the matter of the $10 deposit there is no direct connection.

It is probable the purchasers of mileage who have always rebelled against the deposit have seen in the abolition of free passes a better chance to get the ear of legislators and others and so have thought the time propitious to begin their agitation. As a matter of fact, however, they have a suit now pending in the courts to test the legal right of railroads to make such a charge. This suit was brought on good legal advice that such a contract cannot be enforced.

There is a direct relation between the demand for 2 cents a mile to all classes of passengers and the cutting off of passes. The railroads must have spent considerable sums in accommodating those who traveled without paying. They must have made up that loss by overcharging the general public. They have done a proper thing in abolishing free transportation and they should do another proper act by reducing the fares charged the general public, which has heretofore borne the burden of the free passes. Moreover, a reduction of general fares would be the best possible evidence of intent on the part of the railroads to make the pass reform permanent.

In view of Minneapolis' mad dog scare it is well to recall the wise advice of Bill Nye: "If you have a mad dog there is just one thing to do: sell him at any price. Don't haggle over the amount, but sell him. He will never be good for anything."

Baltimore has discovered some disorderly characters on her police force, and, as was the case in Pittsburgh, they have their newspaper apologists, though none seems to be quite as bad as the Leader.

Now that the British army has decided to use dogs for ambulances every paragrapher in the country will have to take a whack at the modern "dogs of war."

Rumor mongers who had Senator Depew at his last gasp were surprised to see him smilingly seated at his Washington desk yesterday.

That Chicago man who seeks recruits for his polar expedition should have done some canvassing in Pittsburgh Sunday and Monday.

The arrest of an Englishman in Russia provides John Bull with an excellent excuse for obtaining some long-needed exercise.

Our Chinese visitors have seen Pittsburgh, and they might as well go straight home and save traveling expenses.

Sir Conan Doyle has lost his race for the house of commons. Perhaps Sherlock Holmes could detect the reason.

There is a fortune awaiting the inventor of a combination straw hat and sealskin cap for use in this climate.

Anyway, it's a pretty big country that can show a difference in temperature of 84 degrees on the same day.

New Yorkers no longer have any fear of hades, declares a clergyman. Getting resigned?

Home Estimate of Marshall Field.

He was a great merchant. It is in that capacity that most Chicagoans have known him best. There are residents of the city who have watched his progress from small beginnings until he became the preeminent merchant not of Chicago only, but of the United States and of the world. His great retail store, which has no equal, has been the most conspicuous demonstration of his ability. His special qualifications for a business career contributed largely to his success, but the main sources of it were, of course, the ordinary ones, without which all else is of little value. They were temperance, frugality, almost inconceivable industry in the early days, and conservatism and self restraint as he grew older, and his fortune accumulated of its own force. Besides these qualities he had in a marvelous degree good trading sense. He seldom got the worst of a business transaction, and he never got the best of one by dishonorable means.—Chicago Tribune.

QUIET OBSERVATIONS ON WAYS OF WORLD

The Days When Canal Boats and Steamboats Were the Biggest Things Out.

By ERASMUS WILSON.

It hardly seems possible that men now living can tell of the times when there were no railroads or telegraphs in this country. But there are, nor are they few and far between.

Anyone who lived before 1852 can tell of this state of affairs, and that was not so very long ago.

Yesterday we gave a part of a letter from an "Old Pittsburgher," in which he gave some very interesting history of the times when he was a boy.

His story is continued today. In this he tells of his experience as a driver of one of the section boats on the canal.

These boats, it appears, were so constructed that they could be parted into sections, loaded on to cars, or flats, and drawn to the top of the mountain, let down on the other side and again united and floated to a point some distance from Philadelphia, where they were again transferred to a railroad of some sort.

All this is news to those of the present generation. Most of us have heard of the "portage," or "portage road," but have no definite idea as to what it was, or how it was operated.

Won't some one who has seen the portage in operation, or knows of somethings of the details, tell us about it? The grade of the mountain inclines, of what material these roads were constructed, and how they were operated?

Something on these points will not only make interesting reading, but furnish data for the coming historian.

MR. QUIET OBSERVER:—Provisions were cheap and laborer's wages low when I was a boy. Butter sold as low as 6 cents a pound, eggs 5 cents a dozen, oats 12½ cents a bushel, potatoes at the same price as oats, and other products sold in like proportion. One dollar, then, had the purchasing power of five times that amount today in the market.

My employer got most of his goods by canal boat, but, after I had been with him about six months he advertised that he intended quitting business. As I knew that he could not teach me a trade under these circumstances, I decided to leave him and become a driver on the canal.

A boy of my class was not considered of much account at that time unless he had been to Philadelphia by canal, as a driver, or to New Orleans, by river, as cabin boy and knife scourer. The wages were $6 a month for boys of my size as driver on the canal.

George Rhine, of Tarentum, was the captain of the canal boat of which I undertook to act as one of the drivers. He had three boats on the canal and two of his brothers had charge of the other two. They were called section boats, as they were transferred to the railroad on trucks in sections.

There were two drivers to each boat, and while one was driving the other was supposed to be in the cabin sleeping. In addition to these there was a bowsman and also a steerer. The captain completed the crew, with the cook, in some cases.

The trip included night and day, divided into four-hour "tricks," from Pittsburgh to Johnstown.

At Johnstown the horses, or mules, were taken out and the boats were placed on the cars and were taken on the incline plane to Hollidaysburg. My duty was to ride one horse and lead the other after the boat reached Johnstown, going around by the back road about 35 miles to Hollidaysburg, where the boats were taken from the cars and towed to Columbia. From the latter place the boats were taken on the railroad trucks to Philadelphia, the end of the trip.

The canal boats ran about eight months in the year, being tied up wherever they were when the canal froze up during the winter. At all times of the year the men running boats had a dog's life, being subject to exposure in all kinds of weather.

There was a great deal of cruelty practiced on the horses and mules used on the section boats, but the animals used on the passenger boats met with better treatment. Sometimes the shoulders of the section boat horses would become raw and bleeding and the collars would cut down an inch deep into the flesh of the poor beasts.

With some few exceptions the men on the canal were hard cases, being noted for their profanity, drinking habits and general "cussedness." It was a severe school for a boy, and most of them became callous.

List's hotel in Columbia was where the young drivers stopped over night waiting on the return of the boats from Philadelphia, and at bedtime when the 50, or even sometimes 75, boys had gone to their sleeping quarters on the third floor, after the lights were turned out pandemonium usually broke loose. Fighting in fun, shouting, laughing and all kinds of pranks were the order of the night until "Old Man" List would come up and interfere.

But the old gentleman was kind to the boys, and they regarded his place as their home, as he interested himself in them, and, although he threatened a great deal, yet he allowed them to have their fun in proper limits at the right time.

OLD PITTSBURGHER.

How does that strike the boy of the period? This writer will tell more of his experience as a canal driver and cabin-boy on a steamboat.

And there are other old-timers who have sent in scraps of their recollections, and others are going to do so, all of which will make interesting reading for old and young.

A lady who says she was young a long time before the war, asks for information about old-time graveyards. She thinks there were two out Fifth avenue beyond the court house, and one beyond the Penn avenue market house.

No doubt but some of our readers can book her up on the graveyard question.

Where, and by whom, was the first cast steel made in Pittsburgh? Many of our people remember the time when all cast steel and high-grade iron, such as is used for making tools, was brought from England.

All Honor to Hay.

The naming of the new library to be built at Brown university after John Hay, who was an alumnus of that institution, will be an honor most appropriately bestowed. Mr. Hay in life stood for all good things, and particularly for education and the humanities. His name, after it fairly became public property, was one to conjure with in all matters relating to character and progress. The memory he has left will long survive in our large affairs, and we shall honor ourselves whenever we honor it.—Washington Star.

Evidently It Is.

Oh, where, oh, where is that "yellow dog" fund? Oh, where, oh, where can it be? With its tail cut short when the trail got hot, is it now in that gay Paree?—New York Herald.

WOMAN'S ONLY ANSWER.

"Why won't you marry me?" I asked
Imperiously, as of right.
"You'll own you have encouraged me,
Yes! Yes! Up to this very night.
It is not fair to make me so
The laughing stock of all the town.
If you refuse, at least be just,
And tell me why you turn me down!"

She listened with her eyes downcast,
Nor ever raised them to my gaze.
Her shy, sweet attitude enhanced
Her loveliness beyond all praise.
The moments passed. No word she spoke.
There was a long and trying pause.
Then softly, but so firmly that
I lost all hope, she said: "Because!"

DEPEW AND PLATT IN SENATE SEATS

The New York Veterans Give No Promise of Quitting the Public Service.

By L. W. STRAYER.

[By Private Wire to The Gazette.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.—New York's senators, about whose physical disabilities so much has been said of late, both appeared in the senate chamber when the gavel fell at noon today and were the cynosure of all eyes. Chauncey M. Depew was the center of attraction. Reports of the most sensational character have been circulated about him during the past week, all of them coupled with the prediction that he will resign his seat in the senate. Mr. Depew has denied that he has any such intention. It has been stated that he is suffering from mental troubles, technically described as asphasia, which means that he is prone to forget names and faces and that at times his mind is a blank. The recent insurance investigation is said to have bred in him an hallucination that the hand of every man is turned against him; that he is shunned by his former friends, and that he has fallen from the high position of esteem in which he was held by his countrymen.

Does Not Look the Part.

When Senator Depew entered the senate chamber today he certainly did not appear like a man who was suffering from any serious mental trouble. He was immediately surrounded by a crowd of his colleagues, who shook his hand and congratulated him upon his appearance. They expressed the hope that he had recovered from the cold from which he has been suffering and in every way tried to be pleasant and dispel any fear he might have that he had lost their esteem.

Mr. Depew beamed and chatted and thanked his friends for their kind words. He arose in his place and, addressing the chair, introduced several bills and petitions. There was nothing about his manner to cause comment, but it was evident to all observers that, while the report of his condition have been exaggerated, he is failing in strength, and that the past few months have added chaos to his appearance. He stoops more, his face has a haggard look, his eye lacks the luster that it once possessed and he carries about him an air of depression and weariness instead of the jauntiness that has marked him even with his advance into old age.

Needs His Wife's Advice.

His secretary came into the chamber with him and kept a very close eye upon him all afternoon. The senator, knowing the reports that have been published about him and that everybody present was watching him, was naturally nervous. He tried to write a note and accomplished it with difficulty, erasing and scratching out words and lines, and finally tearing up what he had written, only to rewrite it.

Senator Depew's friends know that he is undergoing a very severe strain, and express their regret that the absence of Mrs. Depew at this time deprives him of her advice and help. It will be remembered that Mrs. Depew is a young woman, not more than half of the senator's age, but the senator has always contended that years do not measure a man's age; that he is only as old as he allows himself to be. The Depews have for several years occupied the old Corcoran mansion on H street in Washington, but this year they leased and refurnished a larger and more pretentious house, where they had planned to entertain extensively during this social season.

Early in the fall, just when the insurance investigation began to bring notable men into some disagreeable prominence, Mrs. Depew sailed for Europe, and has remained there ever since. The new house in Washington, with its elegant furnishings and large retinue of servants, is unoccupied save for the senator and some of his relatives. Mrs. Depew's stay has been prolonged beyond the time her friends anticipated, and this fact is believed by many to have added to the worry of the senator.

Senator Platt, Too.

Senator Platt entered the senate chamber today leaning on the arm of an attendant and walking with difficulty. He, too, was warmly greeted by his colleagues, and he took part in the business of the session. Senator Platt's weakness is entirely in his legs, being of a rheumatic nature, which makes walking very difficult for him. He has been at Virginia Hot Springs for a time and the treatment helps him, but, even so, he is "weak on his pins." As for his mind, that is as clear as a bell, and no one who is brought into contact with him will doubt that he has full possession of all his mental faculties. Senator Platt is 73 years of age and Senator Depew is 72, so that both have passed the natural limit of man's existence, but neither has yet indicated any intention of resigning from the senate.

Contagion Is Spreading.

Charleroi is not the only town that is up against it, so to speak, in the matter of providing proper facilities for the care of its school children. Now that a bond issue of $25,000 is being asked for to be decided by the citizens at the February election, it will be interesting to note that South Canonsburg wants a bond issue of $11,000 for the same purpose. They propose to erect a four-room brick building. Homestead wants $100,000, it is said, and the contagion for school buildings seems to be spreading.—Charleroi Mail.

What Everybody Thinks.

Mr. Jacob Riis is undoubtedly an intimate friend of the President, but it does not follow that Mr. Roosevelt makes him his political confidant, and Mr. Riis' opinion that "if duty demanded Roosevelt to continue this fight he would do it" can only be received as a private opinion. It is much more likely to be due to his admiration for the President and his desire that he should have another term than to any intimation from the White House.—Philadelphia Record.

Limit Has Been Reached.

The recommendation to the American members of the international commission on lake levels to report on the action necessary to preserve Niagara falls and secure the assistance of Canada in accomplishing this object, will meet with universal approval. It is stated that the present diversion of water at the falls has not injured the cataract, but the views of experts are that the limit has been reached.—Erie Dispatch.

Encouraging But Not Convincing.

Alleged official statements that Pittsburgh and Wheeling will be connected by trolley in two years are encouraging, but not convincing. The gap between West Alexander and Claysville has to be spanned, not to speak of gaps the other side of Washington. Wheeling people will readily recall the time it took the Elm Grove line to extend from Triadelphia to West Alexander after that extension was projected.—Wheeling Intelligencer.

Canada Throws a Strong Hint.

The decision that an alien injured by a railway in Pennsylvania has no redress puts the United States in a queer position among nations. Such a decision in a weaker nation would result in the establishment of consular courts to try cases involving the right of aliens.—Toronto Globe.

TRAIN SOLAR PLEXUS FOR LENGTH OF YEARS

London Physician Says One Can Beat Methuselah's Record. Dying Only a Habit.

(From a Staff Correspondent.)

LONDON, Jan. 14.—Dr. Cornwall Round, a medical practitioner in London, claims to have discovered how to live forever—barring accidents. As he is only 40 years old himself it cannot be said that in his own person he offers even presumptive evidence of the truth of his theories. But that is no reason, he thinks, why he should not start a lot of other people living forever, and he has just confided to me how the thing can be done.

According to Dr. Round, dying is simply a "bad racial habit" which we have all got into and should strive our utmost to get out of. "As a matter of fact," he said, "we each have the free will to create our own ideal of longevity, and according to our faith it will be done unto us." Those who cannot muster faith enough to persuade themselves that they cannot go on living indefinitely should endeavor to emulate Methuselah who, Dr. Round reminds us, lived to be 969 years old. "Surely," said the doctor, "that is a better ideal than the current three score years and ten, and equally authoritative."

And if people can't convince themselves that they may equal Methuselah's longevity record they might fix their ideal on Moses, who, according to scripture, "was an hundred and twenty years old when he died; his eye was not dim nor his natural force abated."

Eliminate Death Instinct.

The one thing to be fought against and eliminated is what Dr. Round calls the "death instinct." That, it appears, is something which has been transmitted to us by our benighted ancestors who, because they observed that all lives ended in death, were illogical enough to assume that there was no way of stopping it. In getting rid of this death instinct and laying the foundations of perpetual life a great deal depends upon getting the solar plexus to behave itself properly. Most people in America first heard of the solar plexus through Bob Fitzsimmons who knocked out Corbett by landing on that portion of his anatomy and thereby won the fistic heavy weight championship. But according to Dr. Round there is a deal more in the solar plexus than Bob Fitzsimmons ever found out.

It is the "abdominal brain." It controls the "sympathetic or involuntary nervous system" which has a whole lot to do with the emotions. And the man who gets it to obey the behests of the brain, working harmoniously with it instead of kicking against it, may, if Dr. Round's discovery amounts to anything, live long enough to beat Methuselah's record out of sight.

"The diseases of everyday life" said Dr. Round, "are the solar plexus' attempts to throw off effete poisonous matter from the system and so right a wrong—a former sin against ourselves that we have knowingly or unknowingly committed—and at the same time by painful symptoms give us a friendly warning that we are misconducting the internal affairs of the body, and should, therefore, set our house of flesh in order."

Train the Solar Plexus.

So the important thing is to so train and treat the solar plexus that it won't give in when old age and disease tackles us. The solar plexus, the doctor tells us, is remarkably amenable to suggestions. "It will," he says, "carry any suggested idea to its logical conclusion (that is evidently what it did when Fitzsimmons hit it so hard) and by means of the sympathetic nervous system, it will tend to rebuild the body according to the logical result from the accepted suggestion."

According to Dr. Round we should fight shy of burials. They convey suggestions that are very bad for the solar plexus. We should also avoid "reading tales that end badly, or witnessing maudlin dramatic tragedies, or recapitulating them in our thoughts. In fact, such mental virus, which is the expression of morbid minds, should be, as noxious drugs are, marked with a poison label in the interest of the unwary."

"We are also," says the doctor, "very suggestable when eating and drinking, as our attention is, or should be, at these times fully occupied with nothing to spare for self defense. At meals there ought to be a cessation of all unpleasant discussion—in fact, the less said the better. So when assimilating food and drink we should, as far as in our power lies, have congenial surroundings and think our highest thoughts and in this way salt our bread with our own best ideals."

Easy Road to Immortality.

This seems fairly easy. In fact, most of Dr. Round's tips for immortality are easy. Rich and poor alike can practice them. We can even utilize our olfactory organs to keep our solar plexus up to the mark.

"Smell, amongst all our senses," he says, "seems to be the one that has the longest memory for associated ideas. Thus we can also make the sense of smell an avenue for healthful impressions by mentally connecting some chosen ideal with a particular odor. For instance, write on incense paper: 'health is natural,' or some other affirmation which you wish to impress on yourself, ignite the paper and hold yourself in a mentally relaxed passive condition, then the perfume will tend to convey the associated suggestion to your solar plexus."

The best time, says Dr. Round, for conveying life-renewing impressions to the solar plexus is on awakening or falling asleep. As one of the means of attaining perpetual life he advises hanging on the wall near the bed a placard containing this inscription in white letters on a black ground:

"I FEEL AND LOOK YOUNGER DAY BY DAY."

This should be looked at hard, very hard, just before going to sleep and just after waking in the morning. If the solar plexus should carry out the suggestion to its logical conclusion it would follow that in the course of a few years adults would not only renew their youth, but go back to the bottle stage of infancy. However, it may be assumed that the cultivated solar plexus may be depended on to exercise some judgment in the matter, even if the individual ego doesn't.

The Fault of Congress.

Secretary Root may not have been diplomatic, but he was deadly accurate, in his talk to the house appropriations committee about the defects of our consular system. The reason it is not better is that congress does not want it to be better. It is congress that maintains the vicious practice of keeping a consular position as a shelf for a disabled politician, if not as a snug berth for an ignorant but efficient political worker.—New York Post.

STORIES FOUND IN THE LOBBIES

Interesting Happenings Concerning the People Who Are Traveling.

"White pine lumber is today selling for five times more than it did in 1865, and unless the timber men plant trees, as the government advises, there will soon be no lumber of that kind at all," said David E. Wilcox, who came into the city from a tour of the south and registered at the Seventh Avenue last night. Mr. Wilcox's headquarters are at Detroit. He continued: "In 1865 white pine lumber was sold at from $1.25 to $8 a thousand feet; in 1906 it is selling at from $15 to $25 a thousand feet, according to the grade. And at that price it is mighty hard to get.

"In regard to hemlock lumber, the situation is almost the same as regards the supply that can be had today. There is a good lot of this timber in the country, much of it in Pennsylvania, West Virginia and the south. But it is being bought up rapidly for speculation by men who can afford to have their money tied up for several years. They are simply waiting for their price, and they are going to come out handsomely on the deal, too."

Taking No Chances With Weather.

"Say, Fred, will you have an extra blanket or comforter sent up to my room," asked a man at the Hotel Henry last evening, as he took his key and walked toward the elevator.

"Yes, sir," replied Clerk Bonneville, "but I don't see what you want with an extra cover on such a warm night as this. The cold wave has been switched to another track."

"Well, maybe it has, but I'm not going to take any chances with Pittsburgh weather," was the reply. "I don't wonder that man Ridgway has a hard time telling people what to expect. I wouldn't be surprised to see a blizzard here before morning, nor would I be surprised if Pittsburghers should be enjoying fresh fruit from their own trees in a couple of weeks. No Pittsburgh weather for me longer than I have to endure it—and I want to be prepared."

South's Most Prosperous Year.

Col. George E. Hoyle, one of the last of the old school of typical southern gentlemen, and who served with distinction in the confederate army, is a guest at the Anderson hotel for a few days in interest of his coffee and tea house of Athens, Ga. Col. Hoyle stated that every large industry in the south is running full time, and he was pleased to state that child labor is unknown in any of the mills. "The south," said Col. Hoyle, "has just concluded the most prosperous year since the civil war. I like Pittsburgh; I think it more nearly approaches a southern city than any north of the Mason and Dixon line. I shall move my family here and make my headquarters in Pittsburgh; but when life's sand shall run out I want to be buried in my old southern state, beside my friends."

BOULEVARD DEAL RUSHED THROUGH

Bigelow Changes Five Select Councilmen and Turns Defeat Into Victory.

INVESTIGATION NOT WANTED

Cracking the party whip to bring into line recalcitrant Citizens, and using other means to win the support of one or two Republicans, Director Bigelow succeeded in ramming through select council yesterday afternoon the Grant boulevard deal, after he had failed on the first attempt to force the deal through at the same meeting.

Director Bigelow failed on the first attempt by lacking the three-fourths vote required to suspend the rules to pass the boulevard bill on second and third readings. Later in the session he got the three-fourths vote by working upon some of the members who first voted with the opposition. Five members switched at the command of Director Bigelow, and their conversion broke up the opposition which sought in vain to stem the tide by trying to break a quorum.

The five members who changed and "went along" with the deal are: James J. Booth of the Fourteenth ward, L. G. Frederick of the Twenty-seventh, P. N. Manion of the Fourth, L. P. Schneider of the Twenty-eighth, and Dr. W. H. McKelvey of the Third ward. Booth, Dr. McKelvey and Frederick are Citizens; Manion is a Democrat, and Frederick is a Republican.

Bigelow's First Attempt Fails.

The first attempt to suspend the rules to railroad the boulevard bill through without debate or amendment, was defeated by 18 ayes to 11 noes. Then E. R. Walters, Republican, of the Twentieth ward, presented a resolution providing for the appointment of a joint committee of select and common councils to investigate the entire boulevard matter, with power to subpoena witnesses and take testimony.

This action was proposed in view of the official announcement of the attorneys of the Voters' Civic league, that the boulevard suit was to be dropped, and that evidence taken intending to show corruption in procuring the boulevard franchise was to be suppressed. The object of the committee was to investigate the charges that the withdrawal of the suit was only a political device and that later, by mutual consent of councils and the street railway company, the ordinance was to be repealed and the boulevard line completed.

The Walters resolution produced somewhat of a sensation, and caused a number of the administration members to lose their nerve and vote against a motion to lay the resolution on the table. The motion to table the resolution was defeated, but the Bigelow lieutenants rallied the Citizens, and the resolution was finally defeated.

Bigelow Changes Five Members.

Other business was taken up to give the administration a chance to work and for half an hour Director Bigelow and his men were busy. They persuaded Dr. McKelvey, Booth, Manion, Frederick and Schneider to change. The Republicans, who had been solidly opposing the deal, seeing that the administration had obtained the necessary three-fourths vote to suspend the rules, tried to break a quorum but failed in this, and less than half a dozen of them remained to witness the defeat of the boulevard deal turned into a victory.

The boulevard ordinance was reported to select council by John Costello, chairman of the corporations committee. Costello is a Bigelow member, and he moved to suspend the rules to put the bill on second and third readings. Twenty-nine members were then present and 22 votes were required to suspend the rules. There were 18 ayes and 11 noes. The following roll call shows how the body was divided on the first ballot:

Ayes—Barry, Costello, Edwards, Gallagher, Hawkins, Hermes, Hogue, Kearns, Lang, William McKelvey, Schempp, Schlernitzauer, Sweeney, Upperman, Wainwright, West, Zollinger, Wightman—18.

Noes—Booth, Cavett, Frederick, Friedman, Howarth, Lennox, Manion, Schneider, Toole, Walters, Weber—11.

Walters Produces Sensation.

When Dr. Walters presented his resolution for a special committee to investigate the boulevard matter and the scandal attached to it, P. J. Barry, a Bigelow member, moved to lay the resolution on the table; this motion was defeated by 12 ayes to 19 noes, enough Citizens voting with the Republicans to kill the motion.

John Costello said he was a member of the councils two years ago when the boulevard ordinance was put through and he voted for it. "The insinuation in this resolution, so far as it affects myself, that councilmen were corrupted, is a lie!" he shouted.

"The resolution does not accuse any member of councils, but there is a stigma on the councils which passed the boulevard ordinance and this is a chance for those councilmen to clear their skirts," responded Dr. Walters.

Twelve members voted in favor of an investigation of the charges that the Grant boulevard franchise had been obtained by corruption, and that the suit against the boulevard syndicate was to be withdrawn to suppress a scandal. The 12 members were Messrs. Booth, Cavett, Frederick, Friedman, Howarth, Lennox, W. H. McKelvy, Manion, Schneider, Toole, Walters, Weber.

Twenty members voted against an investigation and in favor of suppressing all evidence tending to show corruption or scandal in connection with the Grant boulevard franchise. The 20 members were: Messrs. Barry, Casserly, Costello, Edwards, Fichtel, Gallagher, Hawkins, Hermes, Hogue, Kearns, Lang, William McKelvey, Schempp, Schiernitzauer, Upperman, Sweeney, Wainwright, West, Zollinger, President Wightman.

Bigelow Wins at Last.

After Director Bigelow had used his mesmeric influence on the councilmen, and the Republicans had failed to break a quorum, the so-called boulevard contract ordinance was passed by a vote of 23 to 5. Here is how the members were lined up on the last and the most important ballot:

Ayes—Barry, Booth, Casserly, Costello, Edwards, Fichtel, Frederick, Gallagher, Hawkins, Hermes, Hogue, Kearns, Lang, William McKelvey, W. H. McKelvy, Manion, Schempp, Schneider, Sweeney, Upperman, Wainwright, West, President Wightman—23.

Noes—Cavett, Lennox, Toole, Weber, Walters—5.

Councilman Frederick, who first voted against the deal and later voted for it, in an interview before the meeting of select council, was quoted as follows: "I shall fight the ordinance in council and I will contend that it is the basis of a deal, as every one knows, and should be exposed. The boulevard franchise should be returned to councils without any conditions."

Councilman H. B. Burns of the Eleventh ward, who declared his hostility to the deal, was not present at the meeting of select council. Among those who voted for the deal were Samuel J. Wainwright, Jr., John Upperman and President Wightman.

Director Bigelow was greatly pleased with the manner in which he had bossed select council, announced that a special meeting of common council probably would be held on Thursday afternoon to put the deal through that branch.

ARE SEEKING AMERICAN IDEAS

The imperial Chinese high commission, appointed by the emperor to study the industrial, civic and economical ideas of the United States arrived here yesterday morning and spent the day sightseeing under escort of a committee from the chamber of commerce and officials of the Pennsylvania railroad.

The party, which left for Washington last night, comprises 61 Chinamen, in charge of Royal Commissioners Tuan Fang and Tai Hung Chi. Fang is a Manchu and is acting governor of the province of Shensi. During the Boxer uprisings he achieved distinction because of his heroic and successful efforts to shield foreigners against the fury of the mobs of his own countrymen.

The commission was met at Union station by a delegation of local Chinamen, and after courtesies were exchanged, the visitors were taken in charge by the chamber of commerce committee and the officials of the Pennsylvania railroad, the Chinese commissioners being divided into two parties and taken over separate tours of inspection. One party went to the Homestead mills, while the second was taken to the plant of the United States Glass Manufacturing Company at South Tenth street, later joining the party in Homestead. The mills at Duquesne, Braddock and Clairton were then visited, as were the Westinghouse works in East Pittsburgh and the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company's plant in Charleroi. The commissioners received members of the local Chinese colony in their private car last evening, and at 10 o'clock left for Washington.

The party arrived in San Francisco on December 19 and have since visited Denver, Omaha and Chicago. They expect to leave New York for Germany on February 1, and are touring the globe for ideas which they will personally present to the emperor.

Among distinguished members of the commission are Gen. Yao Kwanh Shun and Cols. Shu Ching Ah and Chen Ke of the Chinese army, and Y. C. Chang, a graduate of Yale and Y. C. Long, a graduate of Columbia.

ROUND OF BANQUETS FOR THE CHINESE COMMISSION

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.—A tentative program prepared for the entertainment of the imperial Chinese commission, expected here tomorrow, looks to a round of banquets and visits to points of interest calculated to prove attractive to the oriental eye. The visitors will be received by Secretary Root tomorrow and by the President on the day following.

CALDWELL CASE DECIDED.

Federal Courts Have No Jurisdiction in West Virginia Legislative Investigation.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.—In the case of Carfer vs. Caldwell, the supreme court of the United States today reversed the order of the United States circuit court for the northern district of West Virginia, taking jurisdiction in the case, and remanded it with instructions to dismiss. The case involved the charge of contempt on the part of Caldwell toward an investigating committee of the West Virginia legislature, appointed last March to inquire into charges against A. B. White, while governor of the state.

Caldwell was summoned as a witness and when he failed to respond was taken into custody by Sheriff Carfer of Wood county. He was released on a writ of habeas corpus, issued by the circuit court. That is the order which was today reversed. The opinion was by Chief Justice Fuller, who said the case was one in which the federal courts have no jurisdiction.

IRONWORKERS' LOCKOUT.

All Contracts of Allied Iron Trades Are Providing for Open Shop. Employers Claim Victory.

NEW YORK, Jan. 22.—The "open shop" rule went into effect today on all the contracts of the Allied Iron Trades, Iron league and Employers' association in this city, all of which are included in the National Association of Structural Steel and Iron Workers. It was said that many of the independent contractors have joined in the "open shop" movement.

The enforcement of the "open shop" rule is practically a lockout against the International Association of Iron Workers, the branches of which are the Housesmiths and Bridgemen's unions. The contractors declared that they have about 2,000 non-union men at work today, and 500 experienced iron workers who have deserted the unions.

SAYS WALLS ARE SAFE.

Temporary Roof for Old Market House Business Will Soon Be Resumed There.

The committee of fruit, flower and vegetable dealers which waited upon Director Bigelow yesterday afternoon concerning the reopening of Old City hall as a market place, was treated to a glad surprise when informed that the director had received a report from Building Inspector Lewis that the walls are safe, and that the work of erecting a temporary roof will be started immediately. Director Bigelow will meet the insurance people today, and after an examination of the burned structure a force of men will be put to work erecting the stalls and roofing the building.

PUNCH BOWL PRESENTED BY RUSSIAN PEACE ENVOYS

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.—Baron Rosen today presented to the United States steamship Mayflower, in behalf of Count Witte, himself and the other delegates to the Portsmouth peace conference, a handsome punch bowl in recognition of the hospitality which was extended to the delegates on board that vessel, during the course of the peace conference.

QUIET, EFFECTIVE WORK.

Right Food Builds Up and Strengthens While You Wait.

"The improvement in my condition came very soon after I had begun to use Grape-Nuts food, and so easily and naturally that I was a well woman almost before I knew it," writes a Nebraska woman:

"For years I have suffered from chronic constipation, with its accompaning headaches, languor and extreme nervousness. This condition had gone on so long without permanent relief from anything I could take that I had become fairly resigned to it, as something to be endured with patient fortitude.

"Five years ago Grape-Nuts became a very popular dish with all sorts and conditions of people in our village, and I bought a package just to see what it was like, with no thought of any special benefit that I might derive from its use. I liked the crisp, nutty flavor of the new food from the beginning and kept on using it.

"If I had been told in advance of the salutary effect that eating Grape-Nuts would have on me I would doubtless have been incredulous, and it was a most pleasing surprise to suddenly realize that my constipation was gone and with it my headaches, while my nerves had grown steady and normal and my strength was nearly doubled—that I was actually in the enjoyment of the natural least 10 years.

"This is what Grape-Nuts food did for me, and this is the condition in which it has kept me for the past 5 years. I am still fond of it, and would eat it even if it had not proved so signally beneficial.

"When my baby was recovering from a severe attack of cholera infantum, I found that Grape-Nuts food was not only a much relished, but most strengthening and wholesome food for her, and it continues an indispensable item in her daily menu." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

KNOCK AT THE DOOR OF CITY COUNCILS

Commissioners of Former Sterrett Township Want to Be Admitted as Members.

D. L. Milligan, one of the commissioners of Sterrett township, which was annexed to the city on January 1, called at the office of the city controller yesterday to learn what representation, if any, the former borough would have in the city councils. Assistant Controller Morrow informed him that there was nothing in the annexation laws that provided for representation in councils of townships annexed to the city.

Provision is made by the Goehring annexation law that councilmen of boroughs annexed to the city shall be members of the common council of the city to which the borough is annexed until their terms expire, as in the case of the councilmen from what were Elliott and Esplen boroughs. The assistant controller said he had consulted Assistant City Solicitor Carnahan and that Mr. Carnahan had advised the five commissioners of the former township to present an ordinance in councils admitting them to membership in the common branch.

The controller's office was notified yesterday by Director Moore, that the Pittsburgh & Allegheny and the Central District and Printing Telephone companies had refused to furnish free telephones for city use in the Fortieth ward, under an agreement which the telephone companies made when the Fortieth ward was Esplen borough, to obtain a franchise in that borough. Mr. Morrow said the city succeeded to any rights the borough possessed and that unless the telephones were furnished, as agreed to, the companies could be forced to remove their lines in that territory.

"BLACKHAND" ONCE MORE.

Writes Threatening Letter to Woman Demanding $1,000—Dummy Package Fails to Work.

Lucia Pezzoni, an Italian widow who conducts a fruit store at 228 Main street, Monongahela City, applied to a Pittsburgh detective agency on Saturday for protection from the "Black Hand." Mrs. Pezzoni is wealthy. Friday last she received a letter telling her, on pain of death, to place $1,000 in one of the entrances to the Shrenberfer coal mine, about three miles from Monongahela City. She was warned not to tell the police and reminded that "Mike of Dunlevy" had been killed for refusing to give what the writer had demanded of him. This "Mike of Dunlevy" was an Italian merchant, who was called to his door and shot to death one night three weeks ago.

Mrs. Pezzoni came to Pittsburgh and secured the aid of detectives Sunday morning before 3 o'clock. Two men were placed inside the mine and others posted to watch the entrances. A dummy package was placed according to directions, but no one came for it, and yesterday morning the watch was abandoned.

THE STEINWAY IS SUPREME

Say all the good things you can about other makes, there yet remains one thing true only of Steinway Pianos—They are BEST.

That is not merely an assertion. It is a fact disputed by none. For no one ever says "just as good as the Steinway." The Steinway difference is too distinctive, too universally acknowledged to permit of contradiction. No one attempts such a foolhardy task.

And this supremacy is not only acknowledged to be national in scope. It takes in the civilized world, from the crowned heads to the great discriminating middle class. And why?

Four generations, all in the immediate Steinway family, have during the past ninety years devoted their entire material thought, energies and facilities to the one finality—the building of the master type of piano—the Steinway.

There are many other pianos, but only one Steinway.

FROM A LITERARY FAMILY

Frederick S. Stedman, secretary of the Duquesne Kennel club, and one of the most familiar figures among Pittsburgh's men-about-town, dropped dead yesterday morning in C. C. Mellor's music store, Fifth avenue. He was a son of Edmund Clarence Stedman, the well known literary man, and had resided in Pittsburgh since 1888.

Mr. Stedman returned from New York Sunday, where he had been on a business trip in connection with the Colonial Publishing Company, of which he was manager. He seemed in the best of health and spirits. Yesterday morning he came in from his home at Crafton and went at once to see A. H. Brockett, renting agent for Old City hall, in which the Pittsburgh bench shows have been held. In jocular mood and puffing away at his cigar Mr. Stedman expressed himself as wishing that the show could be passed over for this year.

Frederick S. Stedman.

Suddenly Mr. Brockett saw him sink forward, then half recover himself and a second time lurch forward. He was caught by Mr. Brockett before he reached the floor. A physician was summoned, but death came within 10 minutes. The body was removed to Samson's undertaking establishment, where the funeral services will be held Wednesday morning at 11 o'clock. The cause of death was heart disease.

Subject of a Sonnet.

Mr. Stedman was in his 49th year. He was born in New York and came from a family that have for generations been distinguished in a literary way. His father, Edmund Clarence Stedman, is one of America's great poets. The deceased was related to the Dodge family of New York, the Kinneys and Doanes. Elizabeth C. Kinney, a relative, and who was a member of the household of Elizabeth Barrett Browning in Italy, wrote a sonnet, of which he was the subject. It read:

A poet's grandson, and a poet's son,
Thou should'st by right have been a poet born,
Thy brow transmitted laurels should have won,
But Nature's freak such wrong to thee has done
That by some other shall thy crown be won.
Or, was thy birthright stolen at life's dawn—
Th' incipient laurel from thy forehead torn,
And in Fame's racecourse shalt thou be outrun?
What matter? since a nobler race than Fame's
Is open for thee, since among the names
On heaven's white stone engraved, may be thine own,
If thy young manhood strong and steadfast aims
Through virtue, truth and honor to be known
Of men, of angels, and before God's throne.

Mr. Stedman was a member of the Monongahela club, a delegate to the American Kennel club for the Pomeranian club of America, and an associate member of the American Kennel club. He was a familiar figure at all the gatherings of the club. His Shadyside kennels of Pomeranians are famous and have won many prizes in New York and elsewhere. In these kennels are champion Shadyside Billy, champion Topsy, imported Goldina, with nine points toward the championship; Fifi and Twilight.

Will Be Buried in New York.

Mr. Stedman came to Pittsburgh in 1888. His daughter, Miss Laura Stedman, has made her home with her grandparents, who reside at Lawrence in the Bronx. A brother, Arthur Stedman, will be the only member of the family to come on for the funeral. He will arrive tomorrow morning and take the remains to New York tomorrow night for interment. The funeral will take place immediately after the coroner's inquest, which is set for 10 o'clock tomorrow.

Yesterday was the day for the annual meeting of the Duquesne Kennel club. Out of respect to the deceased the meeting was adjourned to next Monday. Little was done except to decide definitely that the annual show will be held on the dates assigned, beginning March 7. The premium list has been approved by the American Kennel club. W. S. Bell was elected temporary chairman, and Dr. J. Stewart Lacock temporary secretary. A committee, consisting of Charles Gibbs Carter, Dr. Lacock and C. E. Dickson, was appointed to draw up suitable resolutions of respect. They met afterward at the office of Mr. Carter for that purpose. Between now and the next meeting a suitable place for holding the show will be looked into, and two such places are already in view.

WORKS WITHOUT FAITH.

Faith Came After the Works Had Laid the Foundation.

A Bay State belle talks thus about coffee:

"While a coffee drinker I was a sufferer from indigestion and intensely painful nervous headaches from childhood.

"Seven years ago my health gave out entirely. I grew so weak that the exertion of walking, if only a few feet, made it necessary for me to lie down. My friends thought I was marked for consumption—weak, thin and pale.

"I realized the danger I was in and tried faithfully to get relief from medicines, till, at last, after having employed all kinds of drugs, the doctor acknowledged that he did not believe it was in his power to cure me.

"While in this condition a friend induced me to quit coffee and try Postum Food Coffee, and I did so without the least hope that it would do me any good. I did not like it at first, but when it was properly made I found it was a most delicious and refreshing beverage. I am especially fond of it served at dinner ice-cold, with cream.

"In a month's time I began to improve, and in a few weeks my indigestion ceased to trouble me, and my headache stopped entirely. I am so perfectly well now that I do not look like the same person, and I have so gained in flesh that I am 15 pounds heavier than ever before.

"This is what Postum has done for me. I still use it and shall always do so." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

There's a reason. Read the little book, "The Road to Wellville" in pkgs.

RIFLE PRACTICE SUITS PRESIDENT

Mr. Roosevelt Addresses the Interstate National Guard Association.

MESSRS. TAFT AND DICK SPEAK

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22.—Forty-three states with 142 delegates were represented at the annual meeting of the Interstate National Guard association today. Pennsylvania sent 20 delegates, Illinois 14 and Ohio 10, these being the largest state delegations. Senator Charles Dick of Ohio, the head of the organization, presided.

President Roosevelt and Secretary Taft were among the speakers. The President spoke as follows:

> I trust it is hardly necessary for me to say what a genuine pleasure it is to me today to greet this organization. I have been a member of the National Guard myself, and both at the time when I was governor and since I have been president, and even when I was assistant secretary of the navy, I have always done all that in me lay to further the interests of the National Guard.
>
> I have a good many things on hand, but one of the things that are interesting me most at present, Senator Dick, is the encouragement of rifle practice in the National Guard. I want to have it understood, gentlemen, that I do not care anything like as much for how your regiments march and perform on parade ground armory maneuvers as for how they are instructed in the work that would make them valuable as soldiers in time of war. I earnestly hope that the National Guard and, Mr. Taft, the regular army also, especially the regular army, will more and more have the kind of instruction that will make it second nature for the man who marches to march fully equipped as he would be in time of war.
> We have such a small regular army that you men of the National Guard have upon you a heavy responsibility. I want to say that while it is incumbent upon you to take your duties seriously and do them with all your heart, if you do even that you do more good to the nation than any equal body of citizens to be found in our country.

Secretary Taft in his address pointed out that the army proper is nothing but the skeleton upon which is to be placed the flesh—the national guard or the volunteer forces—when the emergency may arise. He said the value of the volunteer force should have been recognized long ago as it is now recognized. Wise provision, he declared, should be made to make the army effective.

Senator Dick declared that what had been done by the national guard has shown that when the President may call upon the citizen soldiery they will be found ready to do what is wanted. The efforts and studies of the guard, he said, are sufficient to justify the confidence which the people have in the militia.

M'CONWAY MANSION TO BECOME A SANITARIUM

Sufferers from Tuberculosis Are to Be Given the Open Air Treatment There.

Within the next few months a sanitarium for the prevention and cure of tuberculosis will have supplanted the former mansion of William McConway on Herron hill. Since the lecture given by Prof. Lawrence E. Flick, under the auspices of the chamber of commerce, many organizations and individuals have agitated the question of the erection of such a sanitarium. Mr. McConway has given the free use of his house and grounds for a number of years, to ascertain if the movement will be successful, in the event of which it is expected the house will be deeded to the trustees.

The method of treatment will accord with that of the White Haven sanitarium, where the patients breathe the open air at all times, sleeping in buildings with canvas sides, allowing the air to move freely through the apartment.

The board of trustees, who have been appointed for one year, consists of William McConway, A. M. Jenkinson, H. Kirke Porter, Edward A. Woods, John Bindley, R. B. Mellon, Otis H. Childs, Robert L. Martin, H. J. Heinz, James B. Laughlin, J. I. Buchanan, Emil Winter, Wallace H. Rowe, Henry Phipps, James H. Lockhart, Otto Heeren, W. Y. Humphreys, E. H. Jennings, W. M. Kennedy, H. G. Dravo, R. S. Suydam. The incorporation of the hospital began yesterday, when members of the board of trustees went into court and asked for a charter. The application says the corporation will have no capital stock but is to be supported entirely by voluntary contributions.

The public health committee of the Pittsburgh board of trade and the Allegheny County Medical society's committee on tuberculosis sanitariums learned at a joint meeting last night of the proposition to take the McConway residence as a sanitarium. Dr. J. S. Asdale, acting chairman, stated that Mr. McConway and others would assist the committee. The McConway property has been offered at its appraised valuation, which was fixed by three realty men at $66,900 for the property complete. Dr. Asdale said remodeling the dwelling for sanitarium purposes was estimated at $10,000 and this, with the cost of maintenance for six months, brings the total estimate on the amount needed for the sanitarium to $98,845. Arrangements for hearing the committee before the finance committee of councils to urge the appropriation of $98,845 were reported made by Dr. Asdale and the following committee, with Dr. Asdale as chairman, was named: Attorney William M. Benham and Drs. J. C. Dunn, William H. Ingram and Lawrence Litchfield.

Miss Kate C. McKnight, president of the Civic club, appeared before the committee and spoke favorably of the sanitarium. She told of the society's endeavor to have an appropriation of $5,000 for a tuberculosis camp at Marshalsea for afflicted inmates of the city home. This was indorsed by the committee.

DIVINE COMEDY OF DANTE.

Edward Howard Griggs Delivers Third Lecture Before Immense Audience.

The third of a series of lectures entitled "The Divine Comedy of Dante," was given last evening in the First United Presbyterian church by Edward Howard Griggs. The seating capacity of the church was taxed to its utmost by a thoroughly appreciative audience.

The third lecture differed materially from the former ones, the speaker dwelling upon the necessity of Dante facing the nature and meaning of sin to find again a moral world. The speaker dwelt at length upon the wonderful expression of Dante's poetic power relative to the character of the imagery, and of the music, ending with the significance of regarding hell as eternal.

SUSTAIN LOWER COURTS.

Its Ruling Against Knights and Ladies of Columbia Is Affirmed.

The supreme court, at Philadelphia yesterday, in an opinion by Justice Mestrezat, affirmed the judgment of common pleas court No. 1 of Allegheny county in the case of Patrick F. McCaffrey against the Knights and Ladies of Columbia. This was an action brought by McCaffrey to recover $1,500 as beneficiary of his wife, Mary McCaffrey.

The defense set up that the deceased made a false statement at the time of application for membership. This was set out in an affidavit of defense, which the lower courts held to be insufficient, and entered judgment for the amount claimed by McCaffrey.

Subscriptions may be sent to Franklin P. Stoy, mayor, Atlantic City, N. J.

An Opportunity for the Man With a Dollar

A man with large capital finds plenty of opportunities for a profitable investment, but the man with only $1 is handicapped and must usually be content with the small rate of interest paid by savings banks, which in turn reloan his money at larger profits.

Are you a man with a dollar or so a month to invest? Are you ambitious to get ahead in the world? If so, this is your opportunity. If you have found it hard to save a portion of your income, our system of easy weekly or monthly payments will help you form this most desirable habit. You may secure a piece of real estate on easy terms and thus make one of the most important steps toward success in life. John Jacob Astor said, "Buy land near the great cities."

An opportunity like we now offer you was once offered him and others of our wealthiest men. Will you take advantage of it before it is too late?

Here Are Some Reasons Why

Pleasantville Terrace is intersected by the Main Line of the Atlantic City Railroad (Reading System): 11 minutes from the Boardwalk. All trains stop there, except express. See Reading Time Table.

Pleasantville Terrace is 55 feet higher than Atlantic City. No swamps. No malaria.

Beautiful pine and oak trees lend a natural charm to this delightful spot.

Atlantic City real estate values have grown enormously. The entire island was originally sold for less than $20 an acre—now its real estate valuation runs considerably over $90,000,000.

A lot 50x100, that cost $700, was sold a few months ago for $50,000. A property bought five years ago for $6,000 was sold a few days ago for $150,000. But Atlantic City has practically outgrown the boundaries of the island on which it stands. It must expand inland.

Franklin P. Stoy, Mayor of Atlantic City, Says:

"I regard Pleasantville Terrace as the natural suburb of Atlantic City."

We anticipated this by purchasing the General Doughty estate and laid out Pleasantville Terrace. If we had to buy this land now, we would have to charge many times the prices we ask for Pleasantville Terrace lots.

$1 Will Start You

Just think of it—a building lot 25x100 feet, 11 minutes from the Boardwalk, at $30. $1 weekly.

We definitely assure an increase in values and insure successful development of Pleasantville Terrace by offering special premiums to those who build.

Thousands of dollars have already been spent in improvements.

Building operations are under way in every section.

Better Than Life Insurance

Title is guaranteed. No mortgages. No taxes until 1907. No charge for deed. If you die before lot is paid we issue deed to your heirs without further payment.

Already a number of families from Atlantic City have built houses and reside in Pleasantville Terrace—others will follow; building operations are now under way in every section. A sanitarium for the treatment of nervous diseases and rheumatism is nearly completed. A prominent Atlantic City hotel owner has just closed a contract for the erection of a handsome suburban home at Pleasantville Terrace.

Some of the Choicest Lots Are Still For Sale at Prices Ranging From $30 to $55

payable in easy weekly or monthly amounts. They cannot remain long at this price, now that improvements are so pronounced.

If you want to share in this unusual investment before the further advance in prices shortly to go into effect, call or write at once for our free illustrated book, which tells all about Atlantic City and Pleasantville Terrace. Such an opportunity may never present itself again.

When in Atlantic City call at our office there and ask representative to show you the property.

The Electric Line through Pleasantville Terrace is assured. In addition to the best of railroad service by the Reading Railroad, the Pennsylvania Railroad are now constructing an Electric Railroad through Pleasantville.

First Steps Taken Toward Running Line to Atlantic City

READ THE FOLLOWING FROM "THE BULLETIN," PHILADELPHIA, DECEMBER 6th, 1905.

"In the leasing yesterday of a portion of its Newfield branch and the entire Somers Point branch of the West Jersey and Seashore Railroad to the Atlantic and Shore Railroad for a period of forty years, the first active steps were taken by the West Jersey and Seashore toward building an electric line between Camden and Atlantic City. To the firm of H. F. Bachman, at the same time, the leasing company sold bonds to the extent of $750,000. This money will be used in the construction of an electric system between Atlantic City, Pleasantville and Somers Point.

"The Atlantic City and Shore Road was recently granted a charter in New Jersey, and according to its charter it has full powers to operate its line either by steam or electricity.

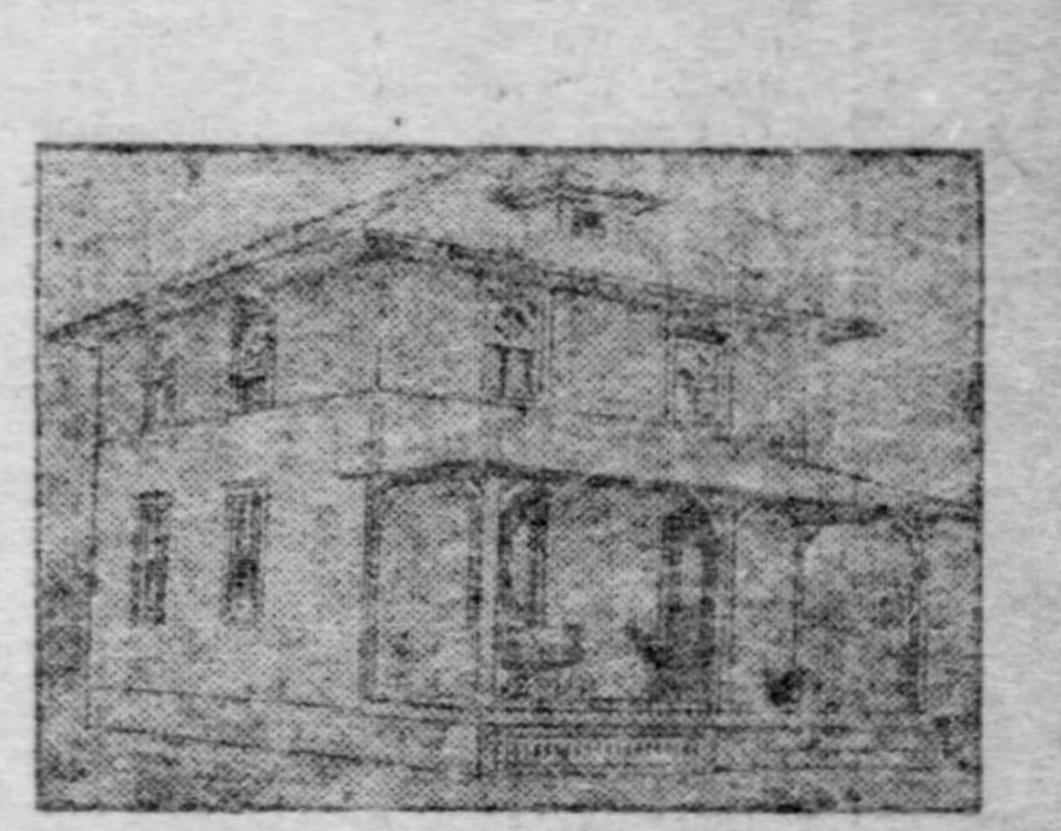
"It is the purpose of the West Jersey Company to electrify its Newfield branch between Pleasantville and Newfield, and to build an electric line between Camden and Newfield, paralleling the steam road which extends from Camden to Cape May. The electrification of the Newfield branch from Pleasantville to Atlantic City and from Pleasantville to Somers Point will be begun immediately, and the West Jersey Company will begin its electrical work as soon as the plans are completed."

Since this account was published work of building the road has actively commenced.

The cosy corner house of a Philadelphian.

Pleasantville Terrace will grow very much more rapidly than Atlantic City because Atlantic City is already there to help it along.

It does not have to make its own way, but will receive the overflow of Atlantic City's population. Demand for homes in Atlantic City's suburbs was never greater.



The home of a Washingtonian.

The Philadelphia Inquirer, of December 10, 1905, in Commenting on Atlantic City Realty, says:

"Realty brokers anticipate a steady market after the first of the year, the predictions being that the number of sales in 1906 will exceed those of any previous year. This forecast is based on the character of business done during the past few months, and from the number of inquiries recently received it is expected an unusually steady market for normal sized building lots will prevail, as it is known that a large number of Philadelphians and many New Yorkers contemplate the construction of summer cottages here (Atlantic City), in preference to leasing.

"Although there is still, and always will be, a steady demand for furnished houses, the cottager from nearby cities who makes a practice of coming here every year begins to realize that he can get better satisfaction if he builds to suit his own ideas.

"Those who hail from more distant points are now the chief renters of furnished homes.

"Quite a large number of inquiries for rentals have already come from points west of Pittsburgh, south of Washington and east of New York, and the outlook for the spring and summer season is very good."

IN PERIL OF HIS LIFE

BY EMILE GABORIAU

"Well, then, start and make haste," commanded M. Seneschal. "We shall overtake you on the way; M. Daubigeon and I are going to pick up M. Galpin-Daveline, the investigating magistrate."

They had not far to go.

The magistrate in question had already been looking for them all over town; he had just reached the place and saw them at once.

In striking contrast with the public prosecutor, M. Galpin-Daveline was a professional man in the full sense of the word, and perhaps a little more. He was the magistrate all over, from head to foot, from the gaiters incasing his ankles to the light auburn whiskers encircling his face. Although he was quite young, no one has ever seen him smile, or heard him make a joke. He was so very stiff, that M. Daubigeon suggested that he had been impaled alive on the sword of justice. At Sauveterre M. Galpin was looked upon as a superior man. He certainly believed himself to be so; hence he was very impatient at being confined to so narrow a sphere of action, considering his brilliant ability wasted upon the prosecution of a chicken thief or a poacher. But his almost desperate efforts to secure a better office had always been unsuccessful. In vain he had enlisted a host of friends in his behalf. In vain he had thrown himself into politics, ready to serve any party that would serve him. Still M. Galpin's ambition was not easily discouraged; and lately, after a journey to Paris, he had thrown out hints of a great match, which would shortly procure him an influence in high places which he had so far been unable to obtain. When he joined M. Daubigeon and the mayor, he exclaimed, "Well, this is a horrible affair! It will make a tremendous noise."

The mayor wished to give him full details, but he added, "Don't trouble yourself. I know all you know. I met the peasant who had been sent in, and I have examined him." Then turning to the prosecutor, he remarked. "I think we ought to proceed at once to the place where the crime has been committed."

"I was going to suggest it to you," replied M. Daubigeon.

"The gendarmes ought to be warned."

"M. Seneschal has just sent them word."

The investigating magistrate was so much excited that his cold impassiveness actually threatened to give way for once. "There has been an attempt at murder," he said.

"Evidently."

"Then we can act in concert, and side by side, each one following his own line of duty, investigating the case and preparing for the trial."

An ironical smile passed over the lips of the public prosecutor. "You ought to know me well enough," he said, "to be sure I never interfere with your duties and privileges. I am nothing but a good old fellow, a friend of peace and study:

"'Sum piger et senior, Pieridumque comes.'"

"Then," exclaimed M. Seneschal, impatient to be off, "nothing keeps us here any longer; my carriage is ready, let us go!"

CHAPTER II.

As the crow flies there is but a mile from Sauveterre to Valpinson; still that mile is as long as any two elsewhere. M. Seneschal, however, had a good horse, "the best, perhaps, in the arrondissement," he said, as he got into his carriage. In 10 minutes they had overtaken the firemen, who had left some time before them. And yet these good people, all of them master workmen of Sauveterre, masons, carpenters and tilers, were hurrying along as fast as they could. They had half a dozen smoking torches with them to light them on their way. They walked, puffing and blowing, along the bad road, pushing before them as they went the two fire engines, together with a cart on which they had piled their ladders and other tools.

"Keep up, my friends!" said the mayor, as he passed them, "keep up!" Three minutes farther on, a peasant on horseback appeared in the dark, riding along like some forlorn knight of romance. M. Daubigeon at once ordered him to halt.

"You come from Valpinson?" asked M. Seneschal.

"Yes," replied the peasant.

"How is the count?"

"He has come to at last."

"What does the doctor say?"

"He says he will live. I am going to the druggist to get some medicines."

M. Galpin, to hear better, was leaning out of the carriage. He asked, "Do they accuse any one?"

"No."

"And the fire?"

"They have water enough," replied the peasant, "but no engines; so what can they do? And the wind is rising again! Oh, what a misfortune!"

He rode off as fast as he could, while M. Seneschal belabored his poor horse, which, unaccustomed to such treatment, reared instead of going any faster, and jumped from side to side. The excellent man was in despair. He looked upon this crime as if it had been committed on purpose to disgrace him, and to do the greatest possible injury to his administration.

"For, after all," he said, for the tenth time to his companions, "is it natural, I ask you, is it sensible, that a man should think of attacking the Count and Countess de Claudieuse, the first, the most distinguished and esteemed man in the whole department, the second a lady whose name is synonymous with virtue and charity?" And, without minding the ruts and stones in the road, M. Seneschal went on repeating all he knew about the owners of Valpinson.

The Count Trivulce de Claudieuse was the last scion of one of the oldest families of France. About 1829, when some 16 years of age, he entered the navy as ensign, and for many years his visits to Sauveterre were few and far between. In 1859 he had become a captain, and was on the point of being made rear admiral, when all of a sudden he sent in his resignation and took up his residence at the chateau of Valpinson, which of all its former splendor could only show two crumbling towers, and an immense mass of ruin and rubbish. During two years he had lived here alone, building up the old house as well as could be done, and by dint of energy and labor imparting to it the more essential characteristics of modern comfort and luxury. It was thought he would finish his life in this way, when one day it was rumored that he was going to be married. This report proved true.

One fine morning the Count de Claudieuse left for Paris; and, a few days later, his friends were informed by letter that he had married the daughter of one of his former colleagues, Mademoiselle Genevieve de Tassar. The amazement was universal. The count looked every inch a gentleman, and was very well preserved; but he was at least 47 years old, whereas Mademoiselle Genevieve was hardly 20. Now, if the bride had been poor, people would have understood the match, and approved it; it is but natural that a poor girl should sacrifice her heart to her daily bread. But here it was not so. The Marquis de Tassar was considered wealthy; and report had said that his daughter had brought her husband 250,000 francs. Next it was imagined that the bride must be fearfully ugly, infirm, perhaps hunchback, possibly idiotic, or, at all events, of frightful temper. By no means. She had come down from Paris, and everybody was amazed at her noble, quiet beauty. She had conversed with her husband's friends and charmed all of them. Was it then really a love match, as people called it at Sauveterre? Perhaps so. Nevertheless there was no lack of old ladies who shook their heads, and said 27 years' difference between husband and wife was too much, and that such a match could not possibly turn out well. All these dark forebodings came to naught. The fact was, that, for miles and miles around, there was not a happier couple to be found than the Count and Countess de Claudieuse; and two children, girls, who had appeared at an interval of four years, seemed to have cemented the happiness of the house for ever.

It is true the count retained some of the haughty reserve and imperious language which he had acquired during the time he controlled the destinies of certain important colonies. He was, moreover, naturally so passionate, that the slightest excitement made him turn purple in the face. But the countess was as gentle and as sweet as he was violent; and as she never failed to step in between her husband and the object of his wrath, and as both he and she were naturally just, kind and generous, they were beloved by everybody. There was only one point on which the count remained rather unmanageable, namely, the game laws. He was passionately fond of sport, and watched all the year round with almost painful restlessness over his preserves, to protect which he employed an extravagant number of keepers. He moreover prosecuted poachers with such energy, that people said he would rather lose a hundred napoleons than a single bird.

The count and the countess lived a retired life, and gave their whole time, he to agricultural pursuits, and she to the education of her children. They seldom gave an entertainment, and did not come to Sauveterre more than four times a year, to visit either the Demoiselles de Lavarande, or the old Baron de Chandore. Every summer, toward the end of July, they went to the seaside at Royan, where they had a chalet. When the shooting season began and the count was busy with his rifle, the countess habitually paid a visit to her relatives in Paris.

It required a storm like that of 1870 to upset so peaceful an existence. When the old ship's captain heard that the Prussians were on French soil, he felt all the instincts of a soldier and a Frenchman awake in his heart. Although of royalist opinions, he did not hesitate a moment to offer his sword to Gambetta, whom he politically detested. Having been appointed to the colonelcy of a regiment, he fought like a lion, from the first day to the last, being thrown down and trodden under foot in that fearful rout by which Chanzy's army was virtually destroyed. When the armistice was signed, he returned to Valpinson; but no one except his wife ever succeeded in making him say a word concerning the campaign. He was asked to become a candidate for the national assembly, and he would have certainly been elected; but he refused, saying that he knew how to fight, but not how to talk.

The public prosecutor and the investigating magistrate listened but very carelessly to these details, with which they were perfectly familiar. Suddenly M. Galpin asked: "Are we not getting near? I look and look; but I see no trace of a fire."

"We are in a deep valley," replied the mayor. "But we are quite near now, and, at the top of that hill before us, you will see enough."

The hill, well known in the whole province, is frequently called the mountain of Cauveterre. It is so steep, and consists of such hard granite, that the engineers who laid out the great highway from Bordeaux to Nantes turned miles out of their way to avoid it. It overlooks the whole country; and, when M. Seneschel and his companions had reached the summit they could not control their excitement.

"Horresco!" murmured the public prosecutor.

WOMEN GIVE TRACTION EMPLOYES HARD FIGHT

With Babies in Arms They Guard Postholes Till the Sheriff Arrests the Leaders.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

LATROBE, PA., Jan. 22.—After a hearing before Justice White, three women of Snydertown were held for court trial today on charges growing out of a resolute effort by residents of that village to prevent workmen from planting poles for the new electric line from Derry to Latrobe. Their bail was fixed at $300 each. The projected line runs through the principal street of the village. Holes had already been dug and the poles distributed in the face of determined opposition, but when the workmen appeared this morning to set the poles more than 100 women and children swarmed about them and would not let the work proceed.

Women with babies in their arms stationed themselves about the holes and refused to move. A threat to arrest them was ignored. Sheriff Seanor and two deputies placed three of the leaders under arrest. Superintendent Hershey of the electric line, then ordered his men to return to work.

This time the women stepped into the post holes and again work was blocked. Sheriff Seanor then sent six deputies. One woman had to be removed from a hole by force. She asserted that she was injured by the men. The linemen began putting in the posts late this afternoon, but the women annoyed them as much as possible from a distance. More trouble is anticipated.

The act of Mounts attracted the attention of the other highwaymen, and Hoerman seizing the opportunity grasped at Mounts' saddle just as he spurred his horse, and was dragged away to safety.

Later thieves looted the homes of Robert McKinney and J. C. Davis. They also attempted to break into the home of George Edwards, who was awakened by his dog barking. The proposal caused a lively debate and action was postponed for the present. Etna has had very poor lighting facilities in the past, but recently council purchased a new dynamo for the electric light plant and now proposes to give the borough the best electric light service at a rate of $55 per arc.

LETTER FROM PRESIDENT USED

Packers Produce Official Communication Penned by Mr. Roosevelt as Evidence.

CUDAHY TOLD UNDER THREAT

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

CHICAGO, Jan. 22.—President Roosevelt has been made the central figure around which revolves the entire case involving the pleas of the indicted packers for immunity from further prosecution, on charges of being in a conspiracy. Attorney William J. Hynes in closing today before the jury hearing the immunity pleas, read an excerpt from a letter written by President Roosevelt to Attorney General Moody in the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe rebate case.

This letter is taken by the packers as an admission by the President that the department of commerce and labor and the department of justice worked together to indict the packers, supporting the contention of the packers on which they rest for immunity. The defendant packers will endeavor to interject the letter into the case as evidence. The letter was written by the President on June 12, 1905, at the time the federal grand jury was sitting in Chicago on the beef inquiry. That part of the letter read is:

"With my approval the department of justice, with the assistance om the department of commerce and labor, has for some months been endeavoring to find out whether or not they can obtain legal evidence of such wilful and deliberate violations of the injunction by any individual. If the grand jury now sitting in Chicago finds an indictment against any individual connected with the packing corporations, it will be because in their judgment such legal evidence of the violation of the injunction has been laid before them."

"That letter is a public document, and we will introduce it as evidence in this case," said Attorney John S. Miller, one of the packers' attorneys. "If the government contests it, we can, of course, call for an original copy."

Edward A. Cudahy, the Omaha packer, was directly threatened with imprisonment by Commissioner Garfield, if Mr. Cudahy refused to give the commissioner information regarding the packing business, according to a statement made by Attorney Cowin in court today. Mr. Cowin argued that the securing of evidence against the packers from the packers themselves in itself constituted a promise of immunity to the informants.

1,350 Soft Hats From Fred. F. Berg & Co., Orange, N. Y.

"THESE hats are worthy of prominent newspaper mention, they'll sell on sight" is a transcript from a letter from our hat buyer now in the East, concerning this purchase—and a personal examination of the hats has proved the truth of his assertion. They're all strictly hand-made hats, fashioned over Spring, 1906, blocks. The derbies come in either the full wine finished or flexible soft conforming styles—the soft hats in a number of nobby shapes, sure to please the dapper young dresser wanting something "different." OHIO TOWNS WANT IN NEW LEAGUE

Mt. Vernon Applies, as Does John Struthers of the South Atlantic League.

WILL CHOOSE SEAMON AGAIN

When the various representatives of the towns already in the Pennsylvania, Ohio and West Virginia league meet Saturday morning they will listen to petitions from three and probably four Ohio towns for the eighth place in the league.

Mt. Vernon is desirous of a place, and will have representatives present Saturday. Mt. Vernon already has $2,500 raised.

John Struthers, former president and manager of the Augusta club of the South Atlantic league, has written for a franchise. Should he be unsuccessful in securing a franchise he would accept a position as manager of any club in the league. He was one of the organizers of the South Atlantic league.

Manager Brown of the Marietta club will be on the ground early Saturday morning to present the claim of his town, as will Steubenville.

The baseball enthusiasts of Washington will meet tomorrow night and take up the project of rushing matters for the season. A stock company will be formed, and a manager formally chosen. There is no doubt but that William Seamon will be selected. Seamon is not only an able manager, but very popular all over the circuit.

When the league was organized it was stated by some that June 1 should be the opening day, but there is a feeling prevalent that the championship season should be started May 1. Washington is in a poor shape to start early, as W. and J. college has the only available park and it runs its season until late in June. However, it is thought Washington will agree to play on the road, filling in at home on days that W. and J. is idle, until the collegians close their season.

HOUGHTON OUTPLAYS THE UNLUCKEY SOO TEAM

SAULT STE. MARIE, ONTARIO, Jan. 22.—(Special.)—The Canadian Soo hockey team made good its position in the defeated but not disgraced class this evening in a game with Portage Lake, who won by 6 to 4. It was a game in which there were enough sensational features to satisfy the most exacting enthusiast. In the first half the visitors cut out a fast pace and scored 3 to 0. In the second half Soo played the visitors off their feet, reversing the order of things, and scored four. With 15 minutes to play, Holden had his foot hurt and went off. Spittal was benched with him. Rattey went to cover and did magnificent work, so much so that he will likely be kept in that position. Taylor deliberately hit Lake on the head when two minutes were left to play and was sent off and fined $2 by Referee Elliott. Lineup:

Soo—4.		Houghton—6.
Regan	G	Hern
Spittall	P	Forrester
Corbeau	C. P.	Holden

ROBINSON SCORES ONLY GOAL AND IT BEATS EAST END

Bellefield showed it is still in the race for the championship of the Duquesne Amateur league when it took the East End into camp last evening. The play was fast. The defense of Crookston and McKnight made it almost impossible for the East Ends to get near the Bellefield goal, while the Bellefield forwards made numerous shots. Martin played well in the cage. Eph Robinson drove the puck into the net for the only goal of the game. The East End team is made up of ex-interscholastic stars. The lineup:

LIVELY AMONG THE BOXING GENTRY

LATEST GOSSIP OF THE RING

Bert Wing, the Cleveland boxer who is to meet Frank Morgan at East Pittsburgh on Thursday night, arrived in Pittsburgh yesterday. He will finish his training at the Business Men's club. Wing is a husky looking individual, who looks to be in fine condition to meet Morgan, considered the best at his weight in this section.

The boxing show of the National club, postponed from Saturday on account of the destruction of Old City hall, and transferred to the Armory for Wednesday, ought not to suffer on account of the good card presented. The main bout, as all know, will be between Jimmy Scanlan and Bill Inlow. The latter is from Altoona, and has a strong booster in the person of Bill Gabig, the old-time fighter. Gabig saw Inlow on two or three occasions in boxing bouts and says the Altoona man is a boxer of real merit and that he will make Scanlan step some to keep up the pace. Inlow is a rugged youngster, and he keeps in the best of condition at all times. He has been boxing about four years, according to Gabig, and he has shown improvement each year. Early yesterday morning Scanlan took a six-mile spin on the roads and through the parks. Alton and Carter are keeping in trim for their bout at 125 pounds. From East Pittsburgh comes word that Kid Klaus will be on edge for his clash with Young Rennekamp of McKees Rocks. Harry Brown and Tommy (Kid) Bastey will open the show. They are two of the best boys in the 115-pound class hereabouts, and the winner is assured of a good match in the future. All the bouts tomorrow night are scheduled for six rounds.

Philadelphia Jack O'Brien, conqueror of Bob Fitzsimmons, and recognized premier pugilist of the world, in view of James J. Jeffries' oft-repeated assertion that he has retired from the ring, will be in Pittsburgh next week, appearing in the Gayety theater. His business manager, William Ellis, reached Pittsburgh yesterday, and in an interview stated that he did not expect to have any trouble securing hotel accommodations here for the champion heavyweight.

Jack Bruce denies that he ever lost a decision to Young Rennekamp, as was stated in yesterday's papers. The contest took place at Esplen last night, and no decision was given. The general opinion was that the affair was a draw. Bruce had a broken hand at the time.

ORDINARY SCORES BY BOWLERS

TROY HILL LOSES A GAME

The Homesteads, leaders in the Monongahela section of the Allegheny County Bowling league, last night, on the Wilmerding alleys, took two out of three games from the Wilmerdings. The Homesteads have now won 11 of the last 15 games and look good. Wilmerding has not been doing as well, as it won but five of the last 15 games. Collins was the only Homestead man to make a score of 200, which shows that steady bowling won out. Lynn, a new man, was the best bowler, getting an average of 192 1-3. He started off with 199 and wound up with 201, the only 200 score on the Wilmerding team. The match was interesting all the way. In the second game the Homesteads made their lowest score and the Wilmerdings their highest. Scores:

On the Wylie avenue alleys last night, the Unity team won all three games from the Friendships, and by good scores, too. The Unitys have not been very successful lately, having won but eight of the last 12 games. This record is all right for an ordinary team, but the Unitys have been selected as winners and better records were expected. The Friendships now have the record of winning only three of the last 12 games. No big scores were made, but the Unitys never went below 840. Austin Silber had the only 200 score in the bunch. He rolled 209 in the third game. Scores:

Following are the games and scores of the Plumbers and Jobbers' league played on the Club alleys last night. Some of the scores do not appear as big as some people think their bills are, but the scores and games are interesting to the participants just the same. Better results are expected in the future. Kuckenbecker was the high roller, with the good score of 205:

Capt. Mohr of the Royals would like to have the match with the Ceceilas scheduled for Wednesday postponed until Thursday. Answer through The Gazette.

The match between the North Side and Crescent teams of the Allegheny section, scheduled for Friday, has been brought forward to Thursday.

The following Knoxville players are requested to call at Adams' alleys this evening to play the Southerns: Weber, Krauth, Mergal, Brunner, Yodman and Haslays.

In the match on Thursday between the Colonials and Wilmerdings Cunningham's scores were 166, 177 and 125. In the report sent in the scores were 166, 117 and 125. The score of 117 is rather low for Cunningham.

The reunion of old County league bowlers proposed by Andy Sours should be a pleasant affair. All the details have not yet been arranged.

The match between the Bloomfield and Ton Dus, scheduled for Wednesday has been postponed until Thursday. The captain of each team has agreed to the postponement.

There will be a novel affair inaugurated on the Friendship alleys. It will be for 12 hours, and the bowler who can stand the strain and has the best score will be declared the winner. Manager Hengenroeder does not say where he got this strange idea.

The Standard Works bowling team, composed of the following iron molders—Speer, Frommie, Kain, Thomas, Haseman, Grabb and Capt. Gust Servitius—are open to meet any team of molders, or would like to roll a match with the Standard office force of Pittsburgh. Answer through The Gazette.

The highest score made this season in the County league is 256, by Austin Smith and Tommy Garbett.

The Hazelwood duckpin team died game on Friday night when it went up against the South Side Independents on the latter's home alleys. The South Side team rolled consistently and took the first two games easily, but dropped the third game by six pins. McRoberts had high score of 102 and high average of 94. Welsh for Hazelwood did the best work for his team.

Dapper and Pfeil of the South Side rolled a series of games for total pins against Fiddler and Welsh of the Hazelwood duckpin team and won easily, taking a purse of $10.

The Imperial duckpin team of the Allegheny County league struck its gait when it rolled the Majestic team. Three straight games were recorded, giving them undisputed claim to first place in the league race. The team also made the best score of the season, rolling a total of 503 pins in the second game.

Schedule for Tonight.

DIOCESAN BOWLING LEAGUE.

St. Joseph Boys Win Three Games and Rolled Up the Fine Score of 931.

In the Diocesan league last night the St. Josephs defeated the St. Charles all three games. Some fine scores were made all through the match. The St. Joseph boys reached the high-water mark in the last game when they chalked up the fine score of 931. The star bowler was J. Gillig, who had high score of 237 and the fine average of 203 1-3. It was not his fault that St. Charles lost. For the successful team Joe Milfert was the high roller, with 225. H. Hungerman, Meyers and Nickel were strong factors in the success of their team.

The averages of the Inter-Club Bowling league show that Moore of the Keystones is in the lead with 175 and a fraction, a good figure. He took part in every game played by his team and has knocked down more pins than any other bowler in the league. Goodby of the Edgewood team has the high score record of the league with 234. COLLEGE AND SCHOOL NEWS

Columbia, Yale and Pennsylvania are preparing to fight it out for the intercollegiate basketball championship. Cornell and Princeton, having been beaten in all of the games played thus far, are considered out of the running.

In comparing the games of Pennsylvania, Harvard and Yale against Princeton, the Blue shows up the weakest, but Old Eli has a habit of doing the unexpected at the end. Columbia leads the league, having won three games and lost none.

Pennsylvania will meet Yale in Philadelphia on Friday. That is the only game scheduled during the rest of this month.

	Won.	Lost.	Pct.
Columbia	3	0	1.000
Yale	1	0	1.000
Pennsylvania	3	1	.750
Harvard	2	1	.668
Cornell	0	3	.000
Princeton	0	4	.000

Harvard and Yale are tied for first place in the intercollegiate league, neither having lost a game. When they meet the game of the year will be played. The Yale seven is very speedy, but the Harvard squad has speed plus weight. The question is whether the constant hammering of the Crimson giants will wear the life out of the Blue.

Despite the fact that Princeton is lower down on the list than Columbia, her close game against Harvard last week proved that she has improved greatly.

Brown never has been, nor is she this year, a factor in the race. The standing of the teams is as follows:

	Won.	Lost.	Pct.
Harvard	2	0	1.000
Yale	1	0	1.000
Columbia	1	1	.500
Princeton	1	2	.333
Brown	0	2	.000

An important announcement has been made by Perry D. Bogue, manager of the Columbia varsity crews, regarding the policy to be adopted by the Rowing club to stimulate university interest in rowing.

In making his announcement, Bogue said: "We have realized that if Columbia is to be successful on the water, rowing will have to get a wider spread in the university. It has been decided, therefore, to hold a spring regatta, with events that will attract all kinds of men in the institution. Besides, we will charter a steamer and issue tickets gratis to all subscribers to the crews."

The spring regatta will be held on the Hudson May 5. The program will include a race for class eights for the Goodwood cup. Individual trophies will be offered for the eight oarsmen and the coxswain of the winning crew. Another event will be an open race for fours, with individual trophies for the winning oarsmen. This, it is believed, will include the fraternity four-oared crews that were started last fall. Other events will be an open race for single scullers, a race for dormitory eights in barges, and a race for graduates in eight-oared shells.

Members of the varsity eight and four, as they will be made up by May 5, will be ineligible for either class or dormitory boats.

A freshman crew will meet Yale's freshman eight in the annual race on Lake Whitney on May 12. A committee made up of Coach Jasper T. Goodwin, Capt. H. B. Post and Manager Bogue has been appointed to secure quarters at Poughkeepsie for the crews.

There will be no championship football team of the middle west next fall. According to Dean Albion W. Small, who represented the University of Chicago in Saturday's session of the football conference at Chicago, a general understanding was reached that the schedules will be so arranged that no school will have an opportunity to lay claim to the title, even if it wins all of its games.

Of all the Bix Six, Princeton is making the most determined campaign. For many years Princeton has devoted all her attention to football and baseball. The track team, in the meantime, has been obliged to get along as best it could. Now Princeton men, tired of seeing their track athletes always on the losing side, have set out to remedy this. They have started well by securing Al Copeland of the New York A. C. to act as trainer in place of Jim Robinson, whose success has never been marked either at Yale or Princeton. The Tigers have also determined to enter teams in as many indoor meets as possible, also a new departure at Princeton, and thus to arouse greater interest in track athletics among the students.

Pittsburgh High school and East Liberty Academy will meet in a championship hockey game tomorrow at Duquesne garden.

With the PLAYERS LAST NIGHT

Lulu Glaser.

Harry Connor.

STAGE SNAPSHOTS.

NIXON—Lulu Glaser as "Dolly Dollars" is funny, pretty, and has a clever Herbert music score as a background.

EMPIRE—Eugenia Blair plays a melodramatic Nancy Sykes, but gives it moments of emotional power.

BELASCO—Conor in "Mrs. Temple's Telegram" returns.

GRAND—Some excellent vaudeville. The novelty is a real strong man.

GAYETY—Firstrate olio.

ACADEMY—A new skit that took well.

BIJOU—Melodrama of the Blaney kind.

Nixon—Lulu Glaser as "Dolly Dollars."

Lulu Glaser is one of the humorous and refreshing items of every returning local theatrical season. The little comedienne belongs here by nativity, and beyond the piquant fun that Pittsburghers extract from her art there is a feeling of loyalty to one's own that animates her usually large audiences. This season Miss Glaser has been rather more pretentiously provided so far as music goes. Victor Herbert wrote the score of "Miss Dolly Dollars," which had its premier local performance at the Nixon last night, and as usual has given us a music book that has more than one bright page. It may be questioned whether Mr. Herbert has approximated some of his former successes, for, while the music is good, there are only bright spots that indicate the Herbert skill at its best. One of these is a little entre act bit that fairly sparkles with cleverness. Musically it is the gem of the piece, though characteristic songs, like "An Educated Fool," a lesson in German between Miss Glaser and Henry Vogel, and the song for male chorus called "A Woman is Only a Woman, but a Cigar is a Smoke," are fine samples of music writing for lyrics. Besides these Mr. Herbert sometimes puts his wizard finger on the orchestration and its beauty and movement hark back for a moment to the best of the Herbert workmanship—but only for a moment.

This comedy, however, is comedy, and not capable of large or brilliant music expression. Harry B. Smith has written a tame, conventional musical comedy story about a young woman whose parents, having made money in condensed soups, have taken their daughter abroad to find a lord for a husband. There is much satirizing of the American millionaire and the heiress-hunting lord, into which, by way of novelty, Mr. Smith has injected much automobile business. The star enfinale of the first act is "automobilish." Besides, Miss Glaser fairly revels in automobile slang and some of the crowing staccato jokes that she perpetrates with that laugh that is absolutely irresistible, are of automobile origin. The little woman is more infectious, more soubrettish and more unctiously reckless with her laughs than ever. However, she balances things up by leaving out many of the old Francis Wilson-like kicks and wiggles. Her Dolly Dollars is Lulu Glaser, with the limitations that long skirts and a demand for less ebullition invokes.

Perhaps above and beyond all these things we have the performance to thank for the revelation of a new comedian, Mr. R. C. Herz, who plays the role of "an educated fool." It is a rarely fine piece of character work, never missing a detail and never for an instant stepping out of the picture. As played by Mr. Herz, this Doolittle role reminds one of poor Dan Daly in his best days, though it is infinitely finer character drawing than Daly ever did. Melville Stewart, Charles Bradshaw, Miss Carrie Perkins, Thomas Whiffen, who has found a congenial role, Ethel De Silva, Nelly Webb and Henry Vogel lend aid in making the singing and humor attractive. The piece is prettily staged with scenes on the Thames and in a Paris cafe. The orchestra, under Sig. Denovellis, was not up to the leader's skill and enthusiasm at any time.

Empire—Eugenie Blair in "Oliver Twist."

Clever Eugenie Blair and a capable company is giving a good presentation of Charles Dickens' famous "Oliver Twist," at the Empire this week. Miss Blair has a fine opportunity of displaying her talent as an emotional actress in the character of Nancy Sykes, and she is especially good in the scene in which she is killed by the man she loves. Perhaps the best character in the company supporting Miss Blair is the Bill Sykes of Edmund Elton's. Mr. Elton is an actor of no mean ability, and easily shares the honors with Miss Blair. George Leach as Artful Dodger, has a well developed cockney accent which comes in handily as a pupil of the famous Fagin. Jefferson Osbourne portrays the character of Fagin, whose chief mission in life is to make criminals of small boys. Phyllis Sherwood is the Oliver Twist of the play. The other characters are in capable hands. On Wednesday afternoon Miss Blair and her company will give the famous "East Lynne" as an extra attraction for the week.

Belasco—"Mrs. Temple's Telegram."

Harry Conor again delivered "Mrs. Temple's Telegram" at the Belasco last night. Of course, it was properly receipted and approved here only a few weeks ago, but Conor's return always brings forth a welcome in Pittsburgh, and he could bring few more cheerful things in a theatrical way than "Mrs. Temple's Telegram." Not many people witnessed his coming back last night because it was raining and the weather was better suited to bridge. Several new faces were seen in the cast. William Morris, one of the authors of the sprightly little comedy, was detained in the east, but it has been announced that he will be here tonight. William Lamp took the part of Frank Fuller last night and acquitted himself well. As the impersonator of the artistic liar, Mr. Lamp has all the unctiousness of the past master of the art without yielding to the temptation to overdo the role. Frank Goldsmith and Alison Skipworth likewise are new in the cast and give very capable performances. The merits of the comedy have been set forth in these columns before, but it is worth repeating that it is one of the cleanest and brightest of the lighter plays that Pittsburgh has seen in many a day, and deserves a better patronage than it received last night.

Eugenia Blair.

Grand—Sydney Drew in Vaudeville.

Just to show Sydney Drew that they are as glad to see him as ever the big crowd at the Grand last night gave him a right royal reception. This time he appears with Mrs. Drew in a one-act play that is called "When Two Hearts Were Won," and the winning in Mr. Drew's characteristic style, aided by his partner's captivating display of temper, merited for the old-time favorites the applause they received. In the line of muscular performances the Grand offers an exceptionally good bill this week. At the head of the performers is Paul Conchas, the German physical wonder, whose feats with dumbbells and tables are not only new—many of them—but are really wonderful in the skill and strength manifested. The Webb-Romaley trio furnishes entertainment of a similar kind that is hardly less fascinating, as most of their maneuvers are new to a Pittsburgh stage. The Orpheus Comedy Four kept things very lively during their stay and "found" their hearers from start to finish. Joe Flynn is on the bill this week for a round of funny sayings that are fresh and spicy, and Vera King, the comedienne of the cast, is well worth seeing. A feature of the entertainment is Miss Latona's catchy song, "Mr. Lawson, the Man from Boston," a bit of genuine humor set to music.

Alvin—"The Isle of Spice."

Here is a new one. It is called "a piquant musical mixture." There used to be stage things called comic operas and musical comedies, but for the sake of relieving the monotony, managers have sought a way out by inventing new names for offerings that possess no other quality of novelty. A shining example is "The Isle of Spice." It differs in no wise from the commonplace musical comedy. It has an oriental setting, a conglomeration of costumes and when the audience needs stirring up, the American flag is brought forth with drums. This drum business, by the way, is about the worst that Pittsburgh was ever forced to hear. A parley on the snares, when properly done, is something that kindles enthusiasm, but the drumming that is done by the chorus in "The Isle of Spice" seemingly has never enjoyed a rehearsal. The drums are needless "props," and if they should be lost the company would be better off.

Nevertheless, there are several people who work conscientiously, but they need a better balloon than B. C. Whitney's misnomer, to lift them above the most ordinary commonplace. Ethel Tillson and Cora Landis have a pair of pretty good songs and they are several lively opportunities for the chorus. Burt Wainwright has the best of the singing possibilities, and sings well, and W. J. McGraw and Jack Collins do the slapstick work in a way that brings approval from the average popular-priced audience. Charles A. Pusey is the principal comedian and suffers the same handicaps that afflict all the dwellers on "The Isle of Spice." Last night's audience at the Alvin thought the "show" was immense, and demanded encore after encore. In one song four American flags were brought forth and four encores were given. This was where the drums were beaten in deafening discord and in bad time. However, when such a big audience as that last night got endless pleasure out of the performance, "a piquant musical mixture," perhaps, is more to be pitied than scorned.

Gayety—"Wine, Women and Song."

It is the olio that gives positive merit to the attraction at the Gayety this week. There are several acts in this department that are really good. The alleged burlesques are not burlesques, of course. They are farces, wholly unintelligent, too, in the main. They were both written by Sam S. Howe, the Hebrew impersonator of both casts. Mr. Howe has looked after the parts that he plays with liberal forethought so that the two skits become really a Yiddish caricature, of which we have had already so much on the vaudeville and variety stages. Mr. Howe's type of Hebrew is familiar enough and doesn't deserve the honor of having the "meat" of two farces all to himself. But as there is very little "meat" in the present instances, no great wrong is done. The farces are interspersed with specialties which relieve the monotony and banality of the much-overdone stage Jew.

In the olio there is strong reason for tagging the attraction one of the best the Gayety has played. Frank D. Bryan's Girls in patriotic songs and dances, make new friends for an act that is colorful and sprightly. Bonita, the clever coon song singer and her chipper little "coons," repeated the good impression made previously in another local theater. Frederick Brothers and Burns do an excellent musical turn and they, too, have friends here who remember them in vaudeville elsewhere. Howe and Scott rub it in with a Jew specialty, and Raymond and Clayton do a song and conversation act. The farces are called "A Day at Niagara" and "Fun In the Subway," and are pretty well costumed and present a fairly good singing chorus. The title of the attraction has no place in the bill at all, and ought to be cut out and something less suggestive substituted.

Academy—"Washington Society Girls."

There's a lot of girls—society or otherwise—at the Academy who left no one in doubt last night as to their ability to cheer up every dismal-minded individual before them and bring him back to a merry frame of mind. They are put on board ship to add to their attractiveness and the experiment is a great success. Besides the dashing nautical scenes that are tried, the flag songs, appealing to the patriotism of a half dozen nationalities, make the musical hit of the evening. In the olio there comes Eldora, whose juggling is much above the average, and West and Wilson, comedians with plenty of new witticisms. The comedy on the Academy stage this week is continuous and many of the stage effects aid greatly in enforcing the fun.

Bijou "More to Be Pitied Than Scorned."

Two unusually large audiences showed their approval of Charles E. Blaney's production at the Bijou yesterday. This play is one which deals with the church and the stage, and in the five acts, which consist of eight scenes, give glimpses to those unfamiliar with life behind the footlights a very interesting illustration of the methods one has to go through to become a member of a theatrical organization. It is a typical melodrama with impossible situations and highly strained emotionalism, but the audiences at the Bijou relished the triumph of virtue over vice in the end, and as that is the fundamental mission of melodrama, this Blaney play may be said to be successful.

"It Happened in Nordland."

There is an especially keen local interest manifested in the engagement here next week at the Nixon, of Lew Fields and his company, presenting Victor Herbert's latest musical play, "It Happened in Nordland." By many Mr. Herbert's music is regarded as the best he yet has written. Certainly the score and the book, and the comedy of Mr. Fields and his associates met with metropolitan approval, for "It Happened in Nordland" broke all records in New York, having played at the Lew Fields theater for over a year and a half.

Hopper in "Happyland."

The long anticipated engagement of DeWolf Hopper in the highly successful new comic opera, "Happyland," will be played at the Belasco theater next week with the customary matinees. "Happyland" was written by the late Frederic Ranken and composed by Reginald De Koven, and is said to be the very best form of musical entertainment with two acts of brilliant comedy and a score full of gems of melody. The production is the most beautiful and costly that the Messrs. Shubert have ever given one of their shows.

"The Sultan of Sulu."

An American musical satire will be the novel attraction at the Alvin next week. The operatta emanates from the brain of that famous author of "Fables in Slang," George Ade, and the music is by Alfred G. Wathall. It is entitled "The Sultan of Sulu," and deals with the arrival of Uncle Sam's expedition to the Philippine islands to introduce American civilization among the subjects of the comic potentate.

Valerie Bergere at the Grand.

A condensed version of "Carmen," with Valerie Bergere in the title role, is the underline announced for next week at the Grand. Special scenery, a company of six people and incidental music are features of the act. Harry Tate's English burlesque on automobiling, entitled "Motoring," the famous Spook minstrels, the Seven Piciani sisters, and Katherine Bloodgood, the operatic contralto.

EDISON'S FRIEND TO TEACH HERE

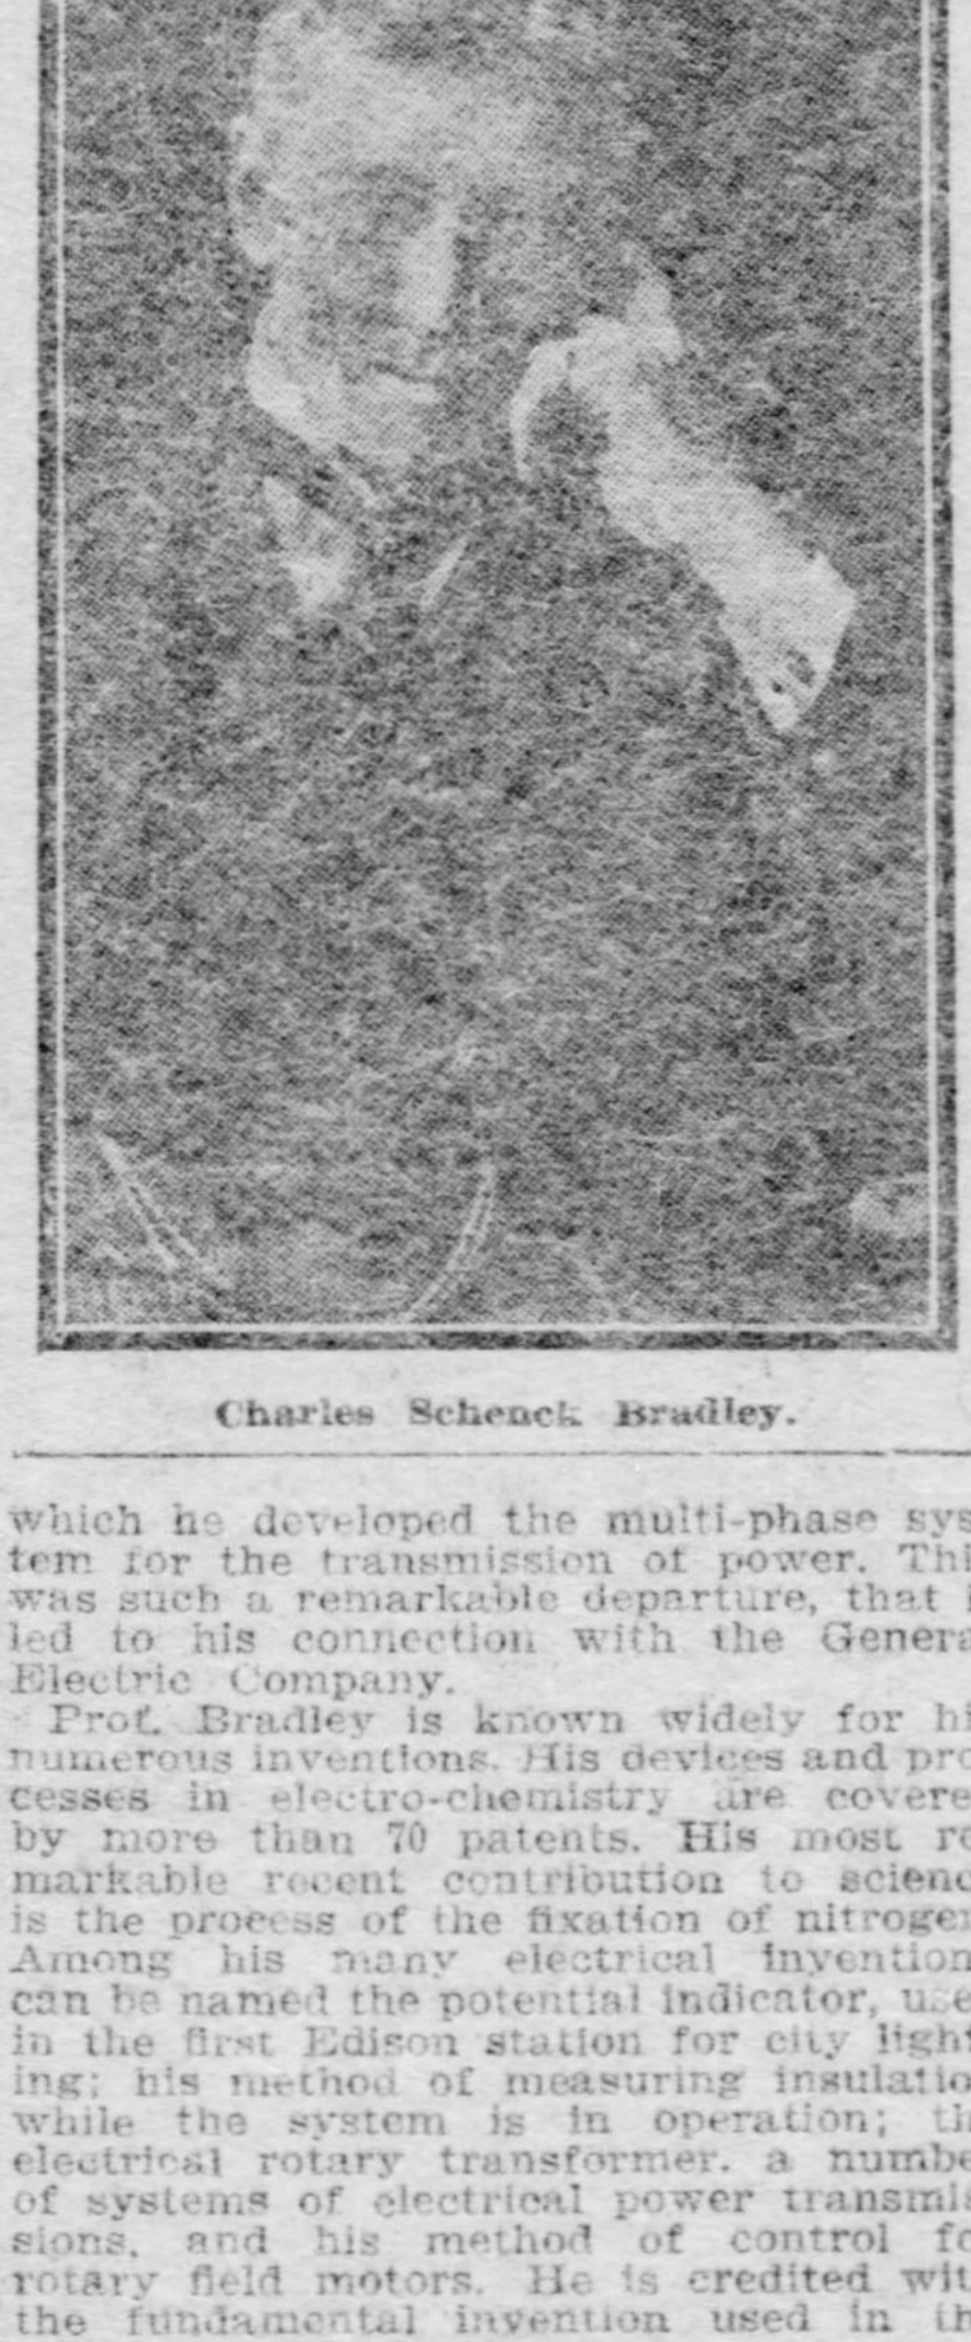
IS FAMOUS AS AN INVENTOR

The Carnegie Technical schools announce the appointment to an acting professorship in the department of chemical practice of Charles Schenck Bradley of New York city. Prof. Bradley was born at Victor, Ontario county, N. Y., April 12, 1853. He received his education at DeGraff's academy and attended Rochester university, Rochester, N. Y. In 1880 he entered business with Thomas A. Edison and for three years was intimately associated with him and his inventions in electricity. He then organized a laboratory for himself in New York city, in which he developed the multi-phase system for the transmission of power. This was such a remarkable departure, that it led to his connection with the General Electric Company.



Charles Schenck Bradley.

Prof. Bradley is known widely for his numerous inventions. His devices and processes in electro-chemistry are covered by more than 70 patents. His most remarkable recent contribution to science is the process of the fixation of nitrogen. Among his many electrical inventions can be named the potential indicator, used in the first Edison station for city lighting; his method of measuring insulation while the system is in operation; the electrical rotary transformer, a number of systems of electrical power transmissions, and his method of control for rotary field motors. He is credited with the fundamental invention used in the production of aluminum.

Prof. Bradley is a member of the American Electro-Chemical society, the American Institute of Electrical Engineers, the American Society for the Advancement of Science, the Franklin institute of Philadephia, etc. In giving up his business opportunities to accept this place in the Carnegie Technical schools, Prof. Bradley hopes, by devoting himself to education, to far extend his influence through the students, with the expectation that many of his ambitions and hopes may be fulfilled by the students in the future.

Prof. Bradley begins his duties February 1, giving part time to the development of the curriculum and the instruction of students, and will offer some time this spring a special course at night for those students wishing to specialize in chemistry.

DRURY AND DOWD OUT.

Soldiers Surrender to County Authorities and Are Released in $2,500 Bail Each.

Lieut. Ralph W. Drury and Private John B. Dowd, in compliance with the recent decision of the United States supreme court, surrendered themselves to the county authorities to be tried for the killing of William Crowley, who was shot on the arsenal grounds in Butler street. They were accompanied by United States District Attorney John W. Dunkle, who is instructed by the United States authorities to defend the soldiers, and Judge Shafer was requested to allow them to depart under $2,500 bail each.

District Attorney Stewart was not in favor of allowing bail for the men. Col. H. P. Bope, who has been on their bonds, signed the new bail bonds. It is believed that the highest grade of the crime is manslaughter. Neither soldier knew Crowley. The men will be tried as soon as the cases can be prepared. Company B, to which the men belong, will leave next Sunday for Fort Porter, Buffalo. Last Thursday Private Dowd, while passing along the street, was jeered at by several persons who stood around the arsenal gate. He resented the action and during a scuffle, fell on the pavement and injured his forehead.

Claim Captain Has Grudge.

NEW YORK, Jan. 22.—In the suit of the London, Liverpool and Globe Insurance Company against Mrs. Susan Deforest Parker to recover $7,000 paid as insurance on the yacht Scythian, destroyed by fire at sea, several witnesses testified today that much of the valuable fittings of the yacht had been removed before she was burned. Wallace McFarland, counsel for Mrs. Parker, in addressing the jury declared that it would be shown that the action had been instigated by Capt. Cardiff, master of the yacht, to gratify his hatred of Dr. and Mrs. Parker.

TREATY DOES NOT PREVAIL IN SUIT

Judge McClung Refuses to Take Off Non-Suit in an Important Test Case.

'SQUIRE GUILTY OF ASSAULT

The claims of a number of widows and families of foreigners who were killed in the Duquesne Limited wreck, on the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, near Connellsville, December 23 1903, have been knocked out by an important opinion by Judge McClung, who decided against the contention that the treaty between the United States and Italy gave dependants the right to recover damages.

Maria P. Maiorano, a widow, lives in Castlefranc, Italy, and set up the claim that the treaty permitted her to recover for the death of her husband. The action was brought through an Italian consular official. When the case came up for trial a non-suit was granted, and now Judge McClung refuses to take off this non-suit. Judge McClung says: "We are of the opinion that the determination of this case depends upon the interpretation of our acts of assembly, and not upon the treaty between the United States and Italy—that is, that said treaty does not enlarge the scope of our statutes. In any event, however, the decision in the case of Deni against R. R. Co., 131 Pa. St. 525, must control our action, the treaty having been in force when the cause of action in that case arose."

Alderman William F. Walsh of the Thirty-fifth ward, was convicted on a charge of aggravated assault and battery in criminal court before Judge Young. Walsh was charged with striking Frank Fogerty of 25 Steuben street on the head with a club, injuring him severely, during a fight in Independence street, West End, last November. After Walsh's conviction Judge Young stated that he would not sentence him at present, as he wished to look into the previous record of the alderman.

Rule for Judgment Discharged.

An opinion was filed by Judge Frazer discharging the rule for judgment in $5,000 in the case of George R. Beech, receiver, against W. P. De Armitt. The suit was entered by Beech as receiver of the International Mercantile Company of New Jersey, to recover on a promisory note given for a subscription of stock. The company was subsequently declared bankrupt and is in a trustee's hands. Judge Frazer sustained the contention of the defendant that the trustee, and not the receiver, has power to carry on the action.

The Evergreen Railway Company has asked for an injunction to prevent the borough of Millvale from interfering with the rebuilding of bridges along its line that were swept out last June by a flood in Girty's run. It is alleged that the borough officers have notified the company not to rebuild the bridges and have threatened the company's employes with violence.

A suit for $5,000 for alleged breach of promise to marry was entered by Carmine Dulisse against Raffaelo Di Rita. Dulisse alleges that he wrote to Miss Di Rita in Italy and when she promised to marry him sent her money to come to America. She joined him in Glassport on December 22 and again agreed to marry him. He bought many presents for her and now alleges she has said she will marry another man.

Wants Stock Exchange Seat Attached.

William Peity issued an attachment against W. E. Patrick, directing that his property, and especially the defendants seat in the Pittsburgh stock exchange, be attached and the Pittsburgh stock exchange be summoned as garnishee. The plaintiff alleges Patrick owes him $325 on a note and he says he believes the defendant is about to sell or assign his seat on the exchange with the intention of defrauding his creditors.

Theodore Cappell, receiver of the Schilling Bros. Co., secured an order allowing him to sell the Brilliant pharmacy to F. M. Metz, Jr., for $2,000.

Maria Snyder of Robinson township leaves her estate, the value of which is not given, to the fund for aged and disabled minsiters of the Pittsburgh presbytery of the Presbyterian church after a headstone has been erected and $50 set aside to care for the grave.

The master in the divorce suit of Margaret Nonamaker against William Nonamaker recommends a decree on grounds of desertion. A. W. Serena asks a decree from Bessie Serena, alleging desertion.

Andrew J. Lennox sued the Equitable Life Assurance society for $118 which he claims under the terms of a policy.

Miscellanous Court Notes.

A permanent injunction was granted in the suit of Allegheny city against the Miller Brick Company, restraining the defendant from excavating property in Federal street extension.

Stephen, Anna and Mary Horvat sued Martin, Mary and Richard Slanina for $2,000 damages, alleging the defendants assaulted Mary, the child of the other plaintiffs.

FOSTER IS HELD.

Grand Jury Indicts Carnegie Chief of Police on Charge of Voluntary Manslaughter.

The grand jury reconvened yesterday and returned true bills in a number of cases, the most important one being against Chief of Police George Foster of Carnegie, for voluntary manslaughter. Foster shot and killed George Irwin, a Carnegie youth, whom he was attempting to arrest for a trifling offense.

Other true bills were: Arson, James Lafferty; larceny, Martin Dezelin, Frank Horvatich; robbery, William Moran; burglary, John Foulger, Goshen Richards; embezzlement, Frank Bassett; entering a building, Horace Armstead; felonious assault, Roney Merish, John Erich, John Hetrick, Dennie Houston, Frank Gratz; larceny, John Gatley, John Mahoney, Ellen Baslevei, John Mulligan, George Preston, J. S. Reed, Andrew Diamond, Henry Miller, Frank Presto, C. C. Heverly (two).

More Money for Roads.

The grand jury yesterday approved the petition of the county commissioners for a special issue of $750,000 road bonds. This is in addition to the $1,000,000 provided last year, but the money is asked by the commissioners to meet contracts now in process of completion so that no holding of contemplated improvements to roads in various parts of the county are necessary. The total for road work this year will be $1,500,000.

Honor Memory of Mr. Harbison.

When courts adjourned yesterday it was out of respect for Attorney John E. Harbison, whose death occurred Sunday. The associates of the bar will hold a memorial meeting on Wednesday.

Negro Is Lynched.

HOPKINSVILLE, KY., Jan. 22.—A mob of 300 men early Sunday morning took Ernest Baker, a negro, from the county jail and hanged him from a beam of the city's market house, near the court house. Baker attempted, Saturday night, to assault Mary Gentry, aged 18, whom he knocked down.

That gives you a "Vest Pocket" Box to carry constantly.

"Indigestion" means food eaten but only partially digested.

"Constipation" means food retained in the body undigested too long, till it decays.

It then supplies the poisons of decay to the system, in place of the nourishment it might have supplied.

Isn't that a tremendous handicap worth insuring against?

What does it cost to Cure Constipation or Indigestion, with their train of small and great ills, and to Insure against a return of them?

Not so very much.

One 10 cent box of Cascarets per week, at most, perhaps half that.

One candy tablet night and morning, taken regularly for a short time, is warranted to cure the worst case of Constipation or Indigestion that walks the earth.

* * *

One tablet taken whenever you suspect you need it will insure you against 90 per cent of all other ills likely to attack you.

Because 90 per cent of these ills begin in the Bowels, or exist through poor Nutrition.

Cascarets don't purge, don't weaken, don't irritate, nor upset your stomach.

No,—they act like Exercise on the Bowels, instead.

They stimulate the Bowel-Muscles to contract and propel the Food naturally past the little valves that mix Digestive Juices with Food.

They strengthen these Bowel-Muscles by exercising them.

* * *

The time to take a Cascaret is the very minute you suspect you need one.

—When your tongue is coated a little.

—When your breath is not above suspicion.

—When your head feels dull, dizzy, or achy.

—When you have eaten too heartily, or too rapidly.

—When you have drunk more than was good for your digestion.

—When you have a touch of Heartburn, Gas-belching, Acid-rising-in-throat, or a Coming-on-Cold.

STANDS BY OWN BILL FOR A GREATER CITY

Committee of the M. & M. Refuses to Indorse Chamber of Commerce Measure.

At a secret session yesterday the special committee of the Merchants and Manufacturers' association resolved to stand by the association's own Greater Pittsburgh bill instead of adopting the bill of the Pittsburgh chamber of commerce.

Barely a quorum of the Greater Pittsburgh committee of the association met yesterday. When Charles H. Ogden and Otto F. Felix urged the committee to withdraw the M. and M. bill and substitute the chamber of commerce bill a discussion arose and Stephen Stone, the author of the M. and M. bill, was asked to state his objections to the chamber of commerce measure.

He declined unless the newspaper men withdrew. The matter was then discussed in secret, and Secretary J. W. Wardrop announced after the meeting that the committee had decided to stand by its own bill, and would send a committee to Harrisburg to appear before the committee of the legislature tomorrow night. The members of the M. and M. committee are Secretary J. W. Wardrop, Otto F. Felix, George H. Albertson and Stephen Stone.

The chamber of commerce committee, composed of Chairman H. D. W. English, R. H. Boggs, H. Kirke Porter and D. T. Watson, will also appear before the committee of the house at Harrisburg tonight in the interest of the chamber of commerce measure.

Mayor Falkenstein and committee of 10 business men of McKeesport left for Harrisburg yesterday to appear before the legislative committee to oppose any Greater Pittsburgh bill that might provide for the annexation of McKeesport.

The joint committee of Allegheny councils appointed to look after the interests of the city as regards bills that may be passed at the present meeting of the legislature, met at 5 p. m. yesterday and decided to go to Harrisburg this morning to appear before the committee on municipal affairs, which meets tonight to consider the Greater Pittsburgh bills. Last night members of the commission consulted together, and decided that as they have not been officially notified to appear before the legislative committee, they will not go to Harrisburg today, but will wait until they have been formally invited. John W. Robinson, select councilman from the Fourth ward, and a member of the joint committee, will accompany the chamber of commerce Greater Pittsburgh committee to Harrisburg today. He is strongly in favor of annexation and will work with the chamber of commerce committee to that end.

COALBOAT STAGE EXPECTED.

Several Steamers Make Ready to Leave for the South Today.

A coal boat stage is expected at the local harbor today, and a number of boats were got ready yesterday to send out when the rise comes. It is estimated 1,000,000 bushels will be taken down by the several boats. The extremely warm weather during the past few days has caused the snow and ice in the mountains to melt, and this swells the mountain tributaries of the different rivers. A stage of at least 11 feet is expected today.

A report was received from Henderson, Ky., yesterday saying the steamer Sprague had passed there with a tow of 60 coal boats. This is a large tow, but the Sprague seems to be working south with it without any trouble.

Large cargoes were unloaded yesterday by the steamers Ben Hur, Kanawha and Virginia. The Ben Hur left at noon for Parkersburg and the Virginia left during the afternoon for Cincinnati. The Kanawha will leave this afternoon.

Large shipments of poultry were on the wharf yesterday and the stock was easily disposed of during the day.

W. E. Fueber, an employe of the steamer Ben Hur, fell overboard when the boat was near Mingo Junction on Saturday night, and his body was not recovered. He was 22 years old and lived in Mason county, W. Va.

The steamer John F. Klein is towing instead of the Andrew Axton, which was burned several days ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph A. Giesenkamp of Wilkins avenue celebrated their crystal wedding, the fifteenth anniversary of their marriage, last evening, and in honor of the occasion Mrs. Giesenkamp donned her wedding gown. It is a beautiful princesse creation of white luster silk, heavily trimmed with pearls and has a Medici collar of tiny ostrich tips. The fashion of the gown has not been changed and it was much admired by the guests last evening. The celebration took the form of a euchre, with 9 tables brought into play. Mr. and Mrs. Giesenkamp had intended making the occasion the housewarming for their new home, but have postponed that event until later. The guests last evening included only their married friends with a few young girls who acted as aids. These last were Miss Josephine South, Miss Bessie Jackson, Miss Daisy Dauler, Miss Marie Moorhead, Miss Henrietta Giesenkamp and Miss Bessie Holden. Joseph A. Giesenkamp, Jr., the 14-year-old son and only child of the host and hostess, stood with his parents to welcome the guests from 8 until 9 o'clock, after which hour euchre was played.

All the appointments were in keeping with the character of the celebration. The crystal hangings on the chandeliers were left uncovered of decorations and all the flowers used were placed in crystal vases, bowls and jars. The refreshments were served, even to the coffee, in crystal, and the score cards were of glass, embossed with a large silver monogram. Crystal beads strung on white satin ribbons were used to score. The new home in Wilkins avenue is an unusually handsome residence and looked particularly pleasing last evening. The decorations were simple but artistic. The supper table had for a centerpiece a large wedding cake bearing 15 candles. The card tables were placed in the dining-room, where Madame Chatenay roses and white lilacs were used to decorate. The chandelier had a light drapery of feathery asparagus plumosa, and yellow, the predominating color in the library, was carried out by a vase of jonquils placed on the piano. Pink roses of the bridesmaid and Chatenay varieties were placed in clusters on the tables and mantel of the drawing room, the blossoms furthering the color scheme which prevails in that apartment. A cluster of small white wedding bells hung from the central bronze chandelier. Palms were placed on the landings of the stairs.

Mr. and Mrs. Giesenkamp were married in the Roman Catholic cathedral in Wheeling, in January, 1891, the bride being Miss Anna Josephine Hess. Her father, Christian Hess, who celebrated his eightieth birthday anniversary last November, is a pioneer resident of the West Virginia city. Bishop Kain, who before his death became Archbishop of St. Louis, officiated at the marriage, which was one of the largest social events of that year in Wheeling society. The best man, H. Norton Van Vorhis, was present at the reception and euchre last evening.

Eastern Guests at Wedding.

A number of eastern people will arrive in Pittsburgh today to attend the wedding of Miss Rebekah Jane Friend and Hay Walker, which event is scheduled for this afternoon in the Shadyside Presbyterian church. Among those who are expected in town today are Lawrence C. Phipps, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Franks, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hoffstot, Miss Hoffstot, Mr. and Mrs. Morrison, Mr. and Mrs. Stern and Mr. and Mrs. Larkins, all of New York, who will have apartments at the Hotel Schenley. In addition to the members of the bridal party and the chaperones, his guests included Miss Belle Harkness of Brooklyn, and Donald Thompson. Miss Harkness is the house guest of Miss Friend at the latter's home in Ellsworth avenue. The dinner decorations last evening were in pink roses. The dinner followed the wedding rehearsal at 6:30 o'clock at the church. Earlier in the day Miss Margaret Walker, a sister of the prospective bridegroom, was hostess at a charmingly appointed luncheon at her home in Western avenue, Allegheny. Only Miss Harkness and the girls in the bridal party were present, and the appointments were all in white. The Rev. Dr. Henry D. Lindsay, pastor of the North Presbyterian church, will perform the wedding ceremony, assisted by the Rev. Dr. J. Kinsey Smith, pastor of the Shadyside church. In addition to Mrs. Tangeman as matron of honor, Miss Friend will have her sister, Miss Elizabeth McC. Friend, as maid of honor, and Miss Margaret Walker and Miss Ruth Walker, Miss Ethel Byram, Miss Marion Clarke, Miss Laura Smith, Miss Eunice Burrell of Waterbury, Miss Helen Voorhees of Philadelphia, and Miss Ethel Heveran of Dover, as bridesmaids. Harry McCandless will serve as best man for Mr. Walker and his ushers will include Harry H. Robinson, Charles Wood Friend, Francis Albert Dilworth, Jr., Dean Wigton of Chicago, Samuel Riter, Eben M. The former was beautifully decorated in pink roses, and vases and bowls of red roses adorned the library. Palms and ferns were used in the other rooms. Souvenir programs tied with dainty gauze ribbons were distributed among the guests. Among the numbers given were an aria from "Sampson and Delilah," by Mrs. Zeigler; a Shubay composition, by Mr. Rentz; a Lizst "Tarantelle," by Miss Grof; Vieux Temps air, with variations, by Mr. Rentz; an aria from "La Gioconda," by Mr. Beddoe; a duet, "O Pretty Rose," by Mr. Beddoe and Mrs. Zeigler; several Welsh and Scotch songs by Mr. Beddoe, and Chadwick songs by Mrs. Zeigler.

Curios Loaned By John Eaton.

Additional interest was given the program presented yesterday afternoon before the Colloquium club by the curios loaned for the occasion by John Eaton. They included an alabaster copy in miniature of the peerless Taj Mahal, the wonderful monument erected by an Indian prince to his favorite wife, and in which she was buried. Besides the copy of the monument, one of the most beautiful structures in the world, Mr. Eaton loaned two portrait statuettes of the oriental emperor who caused the erection of the Taj Mahal and his favorite wife. The curios were used in illustration of a paper presented by Miss Jane Patton on the Taj Mahal. The club met yesterday afternoon in the home of the president, Mrs. Grace W. Warmcastle. Mrs. John W. Pontefract spoke of the ancient mural decorations, Egyptian, Grecian, Pompeiian and Italian, referring especially to the decorations which the excavations at Pompeii have revealed. Her talk was illustrated with a large number of photographs of the walls of the buried buildings which the excavators have brought to light. Mrs. R. G. This is expected to be something out of the ordinary, as the club has in past years studied almost every country on the globe, and this present year, having chosen women as its subject, is studying women in every capacity, in the home, in business and in the professions and their achievements in these various directions.

How to Save Baby From Being Sick

BY A MOTHER WHO KNOWS.

Every mother should avoid the possibility of sickness befalling her children in this season. And, of course, most mothers do honestly try to avoid such possibilities, but many do not appreciate the one great essential.

Feed the little folks good, healthful, pure, strengthening food and there need not be any fear.

For many years physicians have prescribed malt extracts, which contain a large percentage of maltose, or malt sugar. Malta-Vita, the crisp, delicious whole-wheat food, contains from eight to ten per cent of maltose.

Malta-Vita, on account of its large percentage of maltose, is easily digestible and readily assimilated by the human economy, forming rich, healthy blood, is especially beneficial for children and it is so good to eat—not at all like the tasteless variety of breakfast foods—that the little ones allways welcome its appearance on the table.

Mrs. Miles McCormick of South Bend, Ind., says: "We had almost despaired of finding something our baby could eat without being distressed. He had, since birth, been a constant sufferer from constipation and a general derangement of the stomach and bowels. Since we began feeding him Malta-Vita he has improved wonderfully and is entirely cured of constipation."

Malta-Vita is sold by all grocers. Big package 10 cents.

SPREAD OF MEASLES THREATENS AN EPIDEMIC IN PITTSBURGH

The spread of measles in Pittsburgh is rapidly approaching the seriousness of an epidemic. At the office of the bureau of health 46 new cases were reported. Persistent warm weather humidity is regarded as being conducive to the increased prevalence of the malady.

Yesterday's report more than doubles the figures of last week, and the fact that the Thirteenth and Twenty-third wards show a marked increase, leads physicians to believe the contagion is getting a foothold. For two weeks Rankin and Braddock have suffered from the disease in malignant form. Nothwithstanding the unhealthy weather, pneumonia, typhoid fever, diphtheria and scarlet fever are making no great headway. Yesterday a few cases of chicken pox were reported among children.

EXCHANGE DEAL COMES TO $110,000

J. H. Hamnett Sells Eight Houses in Swissvale, Taking East End Frontage in Payment.

EAST END BUYERS ANNOUNCED

A. O. Detchon, through W. J. Tener & Co., has made an exchange deal totaling $110,000. For James H. Hamnett he sold eight brick houses at McClure street and Braddock avenue, Swissvale, for $54,000. The houses are eight-room reception hall dwellings, standing on lots 27x100 feet each, and have been completed but a short time. They were bought by Linford H. Smith, Edward G. Hartje and Otto Felix, who took the property for an investment. In payment for it they tendered 760 feet of vacant frontage at the corner of Heberton avenue and Stewart street, Nineteenth ward. This plot has a depth of 150 feet, and part of it will be improved at once by Mr. Hamnett with houses similar to those he sold. These will be built on 25 foot lots, and in this locality should rent readily for $40 a month. This is one of several purchases made lately by well-known builders which show that they are preparing to get into the house building business much more the coming spring than last year, and the market for good houses of every kind fully justifies their action.

Broad Street Lot Brings $30,000

Mrs. Mollie H. Wilson is the buyer of the J. D. Miller property at the southeast corner of Penn and Shady avenues, which George B. Kelly sold last week for $50,000 after Mr. Miller had owned it but ten days, he having paid $38,000 for the lot. In part payment for this corner Mrs. Wilson tendered 48x100 feet on the north side of Broad street, between Sheridan and North Highland avenues, which was put into the deal at $30,000. On the lot is one brick and one frame residence which are rented for about $60 a month. The property is in a part of Broad street that is fast coming into favor for business purposes, being within a stone's throw of the three corners at Broad and Sheridan which were sold recently.

The Shadyside Land Company has divided among some of its members the Squirrel Hill frontage which it received lately in part payment for the Shadyside apartment house in Center avenue, east of the Pennsylvania railroad. James F. McNaul secures by the action of the board of directors 61x149 feet in Linden avenue, which is valued at $10,000. Dr. John R. Morrow secured 194x152 feet in Denniston avenue, which was figured at $26,400. Jesse H. Morrow and Christopher C. Sandels each secured 100x150 feet in Beechwood boulevard, $6,250 being paid for each plot.

Thomas Hoover of Blair county bought from Joseph G. Bean through the office of Coll & Totten an improved property, 61x141 feet, at the northeast corner of Joseph and Williams street, Twenty-first ward, for $15,000.

J. O. Flowers has deeded to Sarah E. Flowers, wife of W. S. Flowers, an improved lot, 50x150 feet, on the north side of Center avenue, near Roup street, Twentieth ward, for $15,300.

Roseburg Property to Be Sold.

The former property of William Roseburg, on the north side of Lincoln avenue, Bellevue, is likely to change hands again within a few days. It will be remembered that Joseph M. Hastings and the late T. Lee Clark bought the property last year for $147,000, giving back a $100,000 mortgage. After getting title to the homestead they spent about $5,000 in grading the property and laying out two streets which run through it at right angles with Lincoln avenue. The plot was sub-divided into 91 lots 40 feet wide, which are worth today in open market from $1,500 to $4,000 each. An offer of $125,000 has been submitted for the property through the agent, Ira C. Harper, but it is held at $155,000, it is said, which would just about pay the cost of it to date. The property is much the best large plot in Bellevue that is available for residence sites, and residents of that borough hope that it will soon get into strong hands so that it may be improved as its location warrants.

Through the office of W. L. Scott & Co. Dr. R. R. Huggins has sold to Enoch James of the Allegheny market a farm of 221 cares at Albion station, near Girard, Pa., for $16,500. The farm is between the Erie & Pittsburgh and the Bessemer & Lake Erie railroads, and will be used by the new owner for the raising of cattle and sheep.

Another Vacancy in Commission Row.

William Sperber & Co. have decided to leave their present location at 627 Liberty avenue April 1, making the twelfth firm that will leave "Commission Row" at that time, in addition to the wholesale grocery firm of James A. McAteer & Sons, at Liberty avenue and Seventh street, which will move to Penn avenue and Twenty-first street to its new building in the spring. It was reported that the Sperber firm had secured quarters in Penn avenue, near Sixteenth street, but this was denied last night by Mr. Sperber, who said that his firm had bought a stand in the East Liberty market and would conduct a branch establishment there, continuing its main business somewhere in the downtown district.

It is reported that the Pittsburgh Railways Company has bought the Lebo farm of 65 acres. The property adjoins the Zoller farm at Bridgeville, sold last week, and it is believed both properties were secured by the street car company.

The John K. Ewing Company has just got the renting agency of one of Allegheny's best apartment houses, the York building, at Western and Allegheny avenues. The building is 80 feet deep and each flat runs the entire length, having a parlor, dining room, kitchen, three bed rooms, bathroom, entrance hall and front and back hallways. The suites rent for from $40 a month up.

Turner Hall Is On Market.

The Central Turner hall, in Forbes street, near Congress, is on the market for sale, and J. G. Ehman has been appointed chairman of the committee to look after the deal. The building is a two-story brick containing auditorium, club rooms and a gymnasium. The German social organization has owned it many years, but now proposes to sell it and buy a site in the East End for a $100,000 structure.

Joseph P. Rankin & Co. sold for Fred. A. McVey to V. A. Beissinger a ten-room brick residence on 75x250 feet, on the east side of Grove street, opposite the home of Frank Smith, president of the Crucible Steel Company. Mr. Beissinger lives on Sewickley Heights, and will hold this property for an investment.

Meadow street: The Elderkin-Stanton Company sold for E. W. Houston to Charles H. Sailada 41x80 feet, in Meadow street, near Lincoln avenue, Twenty-first ward, for $2,500.

Meadow street: Woods & Coleman sold for W. J. Linegrover to Angus Henderson an improved lot, 37x100 feet, in Meadow street, near Lenora street, Twenty-first ward, for $9,000.

Summerlea street: Margaret McK. Blair sold to Fidelis Zitterbart an improved lot, 40x181 feet, at Summerlea and Ellwood streets, Twentieth ward, for $8,200.

A deal was closed on Saturday by the American Real Estate Company whereby J. M. Montgomery exchanged three lots on Fifty-seventh street and three lots at Woodville for two houses in Elliott, owned by John Hobensack, the other party in the deal.

MINERS WILL DEMAND BIG WAGE INCREASE

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE GAZETTE.]

INDIANAPOLIS, IND., Jan. 22.—Unless President Mitchell interferes the mine workers' convention will tomorrow indorse the report of its scale committee recommending a demand for an increase of 12½ per cent in wages. The convention indicated more plainly than ever today that it is ready to follow Mitchell's lead when it helped him put to rout a western delegate who attempted to defend the officers of the Western Federation of Miners from his scathing arraignment of its methods, so whatever Mitchell says about the scale is liable to go. Up to this time he has not taken a hand in the deliberations over the scale, but from information from inside sources it is very evident that he has no hopes of securing an increase of 12½ per cent from the operators.

There was a lot of talk here among the delegates tonight to the effect that they will not accept less than the scale committee has demanded. When the proper time comes Mitchell will recommend that they attempt to obtain a restoration of the scale of 1903, which would mean an increase of about 6 per cent over present wages. There is liable to be considerable opposition tomorrow to the demand that boys under 16 shall not be employed at the mines.

President Dolan of the Pittsburgh district and other leaders have heretofore opposed this proposition. The miners seem about equally divided as to the desirability of signing another two years' agreement. It was learned from men close to Mitchell that he and his cabinet will favor a two years' scale, providing the 1903 agreement is restored. If they are finally compelled to accept the present scale they will refuse to sign for longer than one year. Several operators arrived tonight. The Pittsburgh delegation, which is influential in shaping the policy of the operators, is expected tomorrow. The operators who are here are not making predictions, but they declare emphatically they will not accede to the demand for an increase of 12½ per cent. The report of the credentials committee shows that central Pennsylvania has 54 delegates, Western Pennsylvania 113, the three anthracite districts 218.

JENKINSON GETTING READY.

Preparing for a Vigorous Personal Campaign Which He Intends to Wage.

A. M. Jenkinson, the Republican candidate for mayor, spent most of yesterday preparing for the personal campaign to which he expects to devote his time until the day before election. He was at the Republican headquarters in the morning and there met many of the leaders and hundreds of the rank and file of the party.

Mr. Jenkinson intends to visit industrial plants all over the city to meet the workmen, and he will attend ward meetings of Republicans. Already reports are coming into Republican headquarters showing that the people are becoming aroused over the Grant boulevard deal in the interest of George W. Guthrie, and of the city administration's plan to control a majority of the next city councils, in behalf of franchise schemes all ready for the hatching.

Second Popular Concert on January 25.

The second popular concert by the Pittsburgh orchestra, announced to be given at Old City hall, on Thursday evening, January 25, will take place at Carnegie music hall, Pittsburgh. The soloists will be Miss Christine Miller, contralto, of Pittsburgh, and the wonderful double-bass player of the orchestra, Mr. Wenzel Jiskera. The same program as that announced for Old City hall will be given and the same seat price will be adopted. All the floor seats and the first three rows of the first balcony will be reserved at 50 cents, and the balance of the hall will be reserved at 25 cents.

School Director Candidates Selected.

The Republican city committee of Allegheny last night settled the dispute existing in the Eleventh ward between the two sets of candidates for school director. It was decided that C. L. Walters and Bernard Doval be placed on the ticket as they had already filed their nomination papers. The other prospective candidates were William J. Porschman and W. C. Denslow.

In the Oil Fields

The lower end of the Yellow creek district, in Calhoun county, W. Va., is to the front with a new attraction that has the appearance of a southwest extension to the Rowells run end of the field. The well is the property of the Carter Oil Company, located one mile southwest of developments on the Sinnett Bee farm. It was drilled into the Berea grit last Friday and was given a shot the next day, and the ensuing 24 hours produced 165 barrels. The importance attached to the well is its location in advance of what had been considered defined territory. Should it show creditable staying qualities it will open up quite a scope of undeveloped territory. In the Yellow creek district, proper, the Ann Oil Company has drilled its No. 10 on the David Matthews farm from the Maxon to the Berea grit, and since giving it a shot the well has been producing 100 barrels a day. In the same district, the Eastern Oil Company's No. 5 on the R. M. Ramsburg farm is producing 75 barrels a day. The South Penn Oil Company has drilled its No. 14 on the H. I. Jackson farm through the Berea grit and has a natural producer good for 150 barrels a day.

On Sand Fork, Court House district, Lewis county, Dougherty & Co. have completed their test on the William Ballard farm and have a 20-barrel producer from the Gordon. It was not expected that it would be good for more than 10 barrels a day when first drilled into the pay. In the Littleton district, Wetzel county, the Philadelphia Company has completed No. 7 on the James Parks 70-acre farm and has a 15-barrel producer from the Gordon. In the Wallace district, Harrison county, the South Penn Oil Company has drilled No. 3 on the F. C. Dean farm 22 feet into the stray and has found no oil or gas. Near Downs, Marion county, Leonard & Brown's No. 5 on the Festus Downs farm stands full of oil and has made a small flow. It will be given a shot.

On the Ohio side, in the Lewisville district, Monroe county, W. C. McBride has drilled a test on the Philip Weber farm into the Big Lime and has a show for a light pumper. In the same district, the Emery Oil Company has completed its No. 5 on the C. R. Buchanan farm and has a 15-barrel pumper in the Keener sand. The Bellaire Oil & Gas Company has drilled its test on the Jeff Pickens farm into the Big Injun and has a 5-barrel pumper. In the Clear Fork district, F. T. Richert has completed a test on the McCoy & Dillen farm and has a duster in the Berea grit.

In the Wolf creek district, Washington county, the Pure Oil Producing Company has drilled in its No. 25 on the E. H. Palmer farm and has a show for a 35 or 40-barrel producer. This is one of the largest wells that has been found in that district for some time. In the same district E. H. Jennings & Bros. have completed No. 24 on the Jennie Cook farm and have a light pumper. The Tecumseh Oil & Gas Company is drilling No. 12 on the Ruth A. Chapman farm. In the Lowell district Corner & Co. have drilled their test on the Fenn farm into the 500-foot sand and have a gasser. In the same district D. C. Davis has completed No. 7 on the George Wunderlich farm, and it is a duster in all sands. In the Rays run district, Washington county, Tibbens & Withington have drilled their test on the Henry Eckert farm through the Big Injun and have a show for a 10-barrel pumper. In Belle Valley district, Noble county, Chris McKee has drilled his second test on the Otis Ralph farm into the Berea grit and since giving it a shot has a show for a 20-barrel producer.

NEW YORK SPECIALTIES ACTIVE AND BUOYANT

Fears of a "Corner" in Reading Caused a General Reaction in the Final Dealings—Crucible Led a Strong Local Market.

By JOHN O. BAGLIN, Financial Editor.

A few of the New York specialties were very strong yesterday, and the general market was active and buoyant during the greater part of the session. During the afternoon, however, the extraordinary strength in Reading again aroused fears of a "corner" in the stock. The result was an all-around reaction, in which much of the earlier gains were wiped out and the market closed irregular.

At the opening there was considerable pressure on a number of stocks which last week scored the greatest advance. Among these was Reading. That stock opened at 158 and declined to 156½, but all offerings were quickly absorbed, and from the end of the first hour to the close of the day Reading displayed great strength. The price finally touched 163, the highest ever quoted, and the final sale was at 162½, a net gain of 6⅝ per cent for the day. The closing bid, however, was 163⅜, and the final offer 163½. On a previous occasion during the latter part of last year fears were aroused that Reading was "cornered," but the manipulators of the stock allayed apprehension on that score by offering to lend the stock freely. After that incident the stock was comparatively neglected, and the impression grew that the deal in it had been consummated. Its price was so much out of line with investment railroad shares that it is not improbable professional traders sold it short. The action of the market yesterday indicated a large short interest; at all events, there have been no new developments that would warrant Reading common in selling 15 to 20 points above Pennsylvania. On the contrary, the uncertainty regarding the labor outlook would naturally suggest the holding in abeyance of any particular bullish enthusiasm at this time.

The entire Pennsylvania group of railroad stocks ruled firmer than for a long time, and Pennsylvania itself advanced to 147⅞, the highest on this movement, strengthening the prediction that this stock was at last to move up to a parity with other investment issues of its class. Norfolk & Western closed at a net advance of 1½ per cent.

St. Paul was the strongest of the granger list, and advanced from 190¼ to 193, but it subsequently reacted to 190½, and closed with a gain of only ¼ per cent. Southern Pacific was the strongest of the medium grade stocks, advancing from 70¼ to 72⅞ and closing with a net gain of 2¼ per cent. The movement is based upon expectations of a dividend. Union Pacific did not share in this strength and closed 1⅛ per cent lower than on Saturday.

In the industrial list there were many points of interest and excitement. Amalgamated Copper was rather heavy, and during the early part of the day sold off from 113 to 111¼. It closed 1⅞ per cent lower than on Saturday. Anaconda Copper fluctuated rapidly between 282 and 270, closing at 275, an advance of 2 per cent. American Smelting made a new high record by advancing to 173¾, but it lost all the gain and closed at 171, a net decline of ¾ per cent. Federal Mining and Smelting opened at 175 and advanced to 199, the highest ever quoted, closing at 180, a net gain for the day of 15 points. The preferred closed 1½ per cent higher.

United States Steel preferred made a new high record, touching 113⅛, but closed at 112⅝, a gain of only ⅛ per cent. The common stock closed ⅜ lower at 45⅝. American Locomotive was weak, selling off from 76½ to 73½ and closing at 73⅞, a loss of 3 per cent. Pressed Steel Car closed unchanged. A number of neglected industrial shares were active and strong at times, but closed with small net changes.

Call loans were easy at 4@4½ per cent. There was some inquiry for gold for shipment to South America, and $850,000 gold coin was withdrawn from the sub-treasury for shipment to Mexico.

The local stock market was active and buoyant under the leadership of Crucible Steel. The common stock on sales of more than 5,000 shares advanced to 17 and closed at 16⅞ bid, the highest for more than three years. The preferred stock advanced to 80½, which is a new high price on this movement. Nearly 3,000 shares changed hands. The street continues bullish on both issues, although the only gossip relates to satisfactory trade conditions. National Fire Proofing common was firm at 9 and the preferred a shade firmer at 26⅛. American Sewer Pipe, which was under heavy selling pressure on Saturday, rallied to 32¾ and closed at 32⅝, a net gain of 1⅜ per cent. The natural gas stocks were quiet, the principal dealings being in Manufacturers Light and Heat, which sold to the extent of 500 shares at 33⅞@34. The coal stocks were dull and barely steady. Pittsburgh Coal common sold unchanged at 16, while the preferred declined from 60¾ to 60.

A feature of the late dealings was the activity and strength of Lustre Mining. The stock had opened at 27 and moved up to 28½, where it rested for a time. Late in the day there was a spurt to 31½ with the final sale at 30, an advance over Saturday of $3 a share. It was reported that at the adjourned special meeting today the committee appointed last Tuesday will report progress, but that the adoption of the plan which will be agreed upon is likely to be postponed to another meeting. Tonopah Extension was active within a range of $7 45 to $7 65, closing at $7 60, the same as on Saturday. Only 25 shares of United Copper changed hands all day.

The feature of the banking group was the demand for Iron City Trust, which advanced to 122½. Second National bank sold unchanged at 255. Commonwealth Trust and Monongahela National bank each declined 1 per cent.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

Local financial circles discussed with much interest yesterday a rather remarkable circular letter addressed to the stockholders of the Manufacturers Light and Heat Company and signed by President H. B. Beatty. It purported to be an answer to reports that natural gas is failing, and also contained an admonition to stockholders against being influenced by speculators who may be interested in depressing the market value of the stock. The following extracts will indicate the tenor of the circular, which in the matter of frankness has certainly never been equaled in the history of official corporation statements. President Beatty says: "You are a stockholder in the best corporation on earth; a corporation that is the largest natural gas company in the world; a corporation whose earnings this year will be over $5,600,000, or 25 per cent on its capital; a corporation whose earnings this year are over $45,000 a month more than at this time last year; a corporation which is supplying over 38,000,000,000 feet of natural gas a year; a corporation whose financial standing was never better than today, which is paying its dividends, which is paying off each year $800,000 of its bonds, paying all expenses, and what is still better, has a surplus." Regarding the value of natural gas securities as an investment, President Beatty says: "To those who have made an intelligent investigation of this subject, and have daily watched the developments, there is no safer investment in the world than natural gas securities."

President Beatty says the Manufacturers Light and Heat Company is "holding under the most favorable terms about 500,000 acres of oil and gas territory; it has large new fields to draw from, and has more gas than it can exhaust in a lifetime. Don't you believe that our gas is 'petering' out. You will never live long enough to see it exhausted in our deep-sand fields. Whatever you may do, do not forget that you are a stockholder in a corporation engaged in the best and safest business in the world; the best because it is engaged in producing and carrying to the many the best and newest blessing of the many blessings which the Heavenly Father has blessed His children with—natural gas. * * * Your company is the only one that occupies such a profitable and unique position, and in that way it is the safest of all gas companies, and therefore do not be frightened into parting with your stock. Wait for the great profits and advance that are sure to come. I wish to say to you as president of your corporation, and in which I am supported by your board of directors, that not one of the old directors has ever parted with a share of his stock, but on the contrary, has been a consistent and steady buyer from time to time of the stock of your corporation. You, of course, know, but let me ask you to again stop and reflect that whatever price the speculators may see fit to try and place on the stock of your corporation, does not in any way affect its intrinsic value, nor in any way does it affect its earnings or dividends; and let me again repeat that its earnings have never been as great as now, and will be better in the future. I would like to impress upon you these facts: 1. We have plenty of gas. 2. Largest territory of any gas company in the world. 3. We have the customers. 4. We get the price. 5. We have the most capable management."

The sale of Manufacturers Light and Heat stock on the Pittsburgh stock exchange yesterday amounted to 500 shares at prices ranging from 33⅞ to 34. The par value is $50 a share, on which 6 per cent annual dividends are paid. In 1903 the stock sold at 42⅜. The high price in 1904 was 40½ and in 1905 it was 40.

Pittsburgh Brewing preferred yesterday sold at 49 and closed at that price bid, an advance of $1 a share, and the highest quotation for five years. The common stock closed unchanged at 27½. These securities have a better market record than those of any other of the newer corporations which were floated in Pittsburgh during the past half dozen years.

A member of a Fourth avenue house which has had large dealings in Crucible Steel stocks remarked yesterday: "We sold more of the preferred stock between 65 and 70 than we have sold between 70 and 80, and we sold more of common between 10 and 13 than we have between 13 and 17. Our selling at the lower prices represented the taking of larger profits on stock that was bought around 6 and 8 for the common and 40 and 45 for the preferred. It is what would be classed as speculative stock, and inasmuch as the enhancement in market value represented a profit of 100 per cent, the speculators did well. The recent buying, especially of the preferred, has apparently been more of an investment character, and it is noticeable that it takes less buying of the common stock now to advance the price. The speculative position of the stock appears to be quite favorable."

R. C. Hall was the largest seller and Robinson Brothers were the largest buyers of Tonopah Extension. Altogether 3,615 shares changed hands at $7 45 to $7 65.

There was a better demand for Iron City Trust than for some days past, and the stock advanced to 122½. Second National bank was also in fair demand, selling at 255.

The Westinghouse stocks were neglected, only five shares of Air Brake and 10 shares Electric changing hands all day.

The Panhandle statement for December shows an increase in gross earnings of $335,480 and an increase in net of $260,883. For the year 1905 gross earnings increased $[illegible],639,531 and net increased $807,093.

Cable Lease mining stock was very strong in the curb market, advancing to $3 50 bid. The par value is $1.

A regular dividend of 1¾ per cent has been declared on National Carbon preferred, payable February 26.

In the Boston market on sales of 1,355 shares North Butte declined from 89¼ to 87. Boston Consolidated on sales of 15,090 shares declined from 30¾ to 27¾.

Chicago was cut off from Pittsburgh and the east during the greater part of the day by wire trouble, and the grain markets were exceedingly dull, so far as outside business was concerned.

Chicago bankers say their scheme of charging a nominal rate for the collection of checks on out-of-town banks since the first of the year has been quite successful, and in spite of much opposition from shipping and mercantile interests they propose to continue it permanently. The charge is similar to that imposed by New York banks. Bankers say they do not wish to make revenue out of it, but merely pay their expenses incident to that branch of their business. The opposition contends that the charge is a hardship on their customers, especially in the country, but the bankers say the customers can as easily make out drafts as checks and thus avoid the charge.

At the annual meeting of the Reliance Life Insurance Company yesterday afternoon Herbert DuPuy was elected to the directorate, to succeed A. S. List of Wheeling. Other directors were re-elected as follows: James H. Reed, T. H. Given, John W. Garland, Hay Walker, Jr., D. C. Noble, J. W. Friend, J. W. Fleming, J. W. Painter, John Lloyd, J. V. Thompson, W. C. Farnsworth, Joseph A. Herron, S. C. Walker, A. E. Braun and E. W. Smith. The annual report of the company showed the receipts for the past year to be $373,916 20, and that a balance of $64,339 07 remains after deducting all disbursements. The company reports a surplus of $1,733,007 37.

This week's Philadelphia bank statement shows an increase of $539,000 in loans, an increase of $5,858,000 in cash reserve and an increase of $4,258,000 in surplus reserve.

This week's Boston bank statement shows an increase of $3,468,000 in loans, an increase of $1,706,00 in deposits and an increase of $875,572 in reserves.

The Cincinnati Gas and Electric Company has decided to increase its capital stock from $5,000,000 to $36,000,000. The increase is made in connection with the company's preparations to enter the natural gas field as per the new franchise granted by the city council.

The proceeds of the forthcoming issue of $14,000,000 of debentures by the Delaware & Hudson Company will be used for the following purposes: For cost of the United Traction Company of Albany, N. Y., and a half interest in the Schenectady Railway Company, $10,000,000; for new equipment, $2,000,000; for construction of a cut-off around Wilkes-Barre, Pa., $1,600,000. The privilege of subscribing for one debenture of $1,000 for every 30 shares of stock owned will be offered to stockholders.

Stockholders of the Northern National bank of Toledo, O., have voted to increase the capital stock from $300,000 to $1,000,000. Stockholders will receive $350,000 in stock dividends, $175,000 will be sold to the stockholders at $120 a share, while the other $175,000 will be offered to public subscription at the same price.

The conservative views reported in the directorates of some of the companies whose stocks have been supposed to have prospect of early dividend increases served as a curb to the violent speculation in some of these, the American Locomotive stocks being a notable example. United States Steel seems to be restrained by the uncertainty over the company's policy regarding an early resumption of dividends.

There was a suggestion of the large professional share in the New York market yesterday in the systematic way in which the selling to realize profits was conducted and in the solicitous regard to the effect on prices from this selling. The same thing was suggested by the sudden way in which strong stocks moved upward, being galvanized by the passing of enormous orders through the market in individual blocks on a very large scale.

Union Pacific and Amalgamated Copper were the notable centers of the profit-taking, Southern Pacific taking up the advance. St. Paul, on the other hand, continued the aggressive advance begun Saturday, and reports were in circulation that the plans for financing its Pacific coast extension would soon be announced.

The movement of gold to Mexico was resumed and a new explanation was suggested in the assertion that the shipments were in reality for account of Paris and designed to meet the coinage requirements of the French government for silver. This being the case, it would serve to explain the relaxation of the demand of Paris on New York in connection with the maturities of loans made here for Paris account. Foreign exchange was strong. The sub-treasury continued to yield large sums to the money market and rates continued easy. The news of the coming redemption of $50,000,000 of the Japanese internal loan is of future consequence to the money markets, in which large amounts of Japanese funds are on deposit, including New York.

THE MONEY MARKET.

Foreign Financial.

LONDON, Jan. 22.—Consols for money, 89 13-16; consols for account, 89 15-16. Bar silver steady, 30⅛d per ounce. Money, 3½@4 per cent. The rate of discount in the open market for short bills is 3⅞ per cent; for three months' bills, 3¾@3⅞ per cent. Money was in good demand in the market today, and the rates were firm. Discounts hardened. Trading on the stock exchange was quiet and irregular, operators being occupied with the mining settlement. Consols were dull, but closed steady. Americans opened irregular and firm in places, particularly Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul and Reading. The movements generally were above parity, with steady support and moderately active. Prices reacted during the last hour and closed weak. Foreigners generally were steady, but closed dull. Russians and Peruvians were harder at the opening and reacted later. Japanese were easier. Japanese Imperial 6s of 1904 were quoted at 103. Copper was firm today; advanced 10s and closed at £78 10s. About 1,000 tons were sold. Tin advanced 20s owing to an active demand from America and closed at £164 10s. About 800 tons were sold.

PARIS, Jan. 22.—Trading on the bourse today was dull and inactive throughout owing to hesitation over the possibilities of the Moroccan conference. Russians fell heavily. Russian Imperial 4s were quoted at 84.00 and Russian bonds of 1904 at 487.00. Closing: Three per cent rentes, 98 francs 92½ centimes for the account. Exchange on London, 25 francs 11½ centimes for checks.

BERLIN, Jan. 22.—Trading on the boerse today was very stagnant. Exchange on London, 20 marks 48¼ pfennigs for checks. Discount rates: Short bills, 3 per cent; three months' bills, 3⅝ per cent.

Banks and Treasury.

NEW YORK, Jan. 22.—(Special.)—In redemption of checks drawn by depositors of gold at the Seattle assay office, today's official records show that the sub-treasury paid out Saturday $128. Sterling exchange strong, closing firm, with actual business in bankers' bills at $4 87.25@4 87.30 for demand, and at $4 83.85@4 83.90 for 60 day bills. Posted rates, $4 84@4 84½ and $4 88. Commercial bills, $4 83⅝. Bar silver, 65½c. Mexican dollars, 50½c. Government bonds steady. Railroad bonds firm. Money on call easier, 3¾@4½ per cent; ruling rate, 4, closing bid 4, offered at 4¼ per cent. Time loans steady, 60 days, 90 days and six months, 5 per cent.

IRREGULAR STOCKS IN SPECULATIVE MARKET

[BY PRIVATE WIRE TO THE GAZETTE.]

NEW YORK, Jan. 23.—The Herald this (Tuesday) morning says: Stocks were highly irregular in a wildly speculative market yesterday. The volume of business was very well maintained; surprisingly so, in fact, in consequence of the interference of the telegraphic communication with Chicago and the west by the sleet storm in that section. The character of the trading seemed to undergo no material change. Despite any increase of public participation that there may be, the bulk of the dealings were self-evidently professional. Enormous professional buying converged upon Reading, Southern Pacific, and, to a lesser degree, upon a number of other issues. Under the cover of this there was an extensive shifting of the professional position and some heavy selling of the general list, which turned many early advances into late declines. While some noteworthy gains were retained to the last, the general list closed as a rule considerably under the best.

There was practically nothing in the news of the day to explain either general or specific market movements. Speculative considerations appeared to govern the operations of the day. Heavy profit taking and distributive selling continued coincidently with aggressive professional upbidding elsewhere in the list. For an interval the market displayed great absorbing power, but it faltered from time to time and yielded materially at the last. A tremendous advance in Reading, under dealings conducted upon such a scale that, if persons did not know to the contrary, one would have thought the movement was at its inception, instead of continuing after the stock has been advanced 100 points within a year. More consideration was given to the unseasonable weather than of late, and attention was called to its bad effect on anthracite and bituminous railways, crop conditions and the like. Traffic conditions in the west were reported as favorable.

There was some curtailment in the volume of trading in the industrial issues, as was evidenced in the transactions in United States Steel, Tennessee Coal & Iron, Republic Steel issues, American Smelting, Pressed Steel Car, American Car & Foundry and other stocks of the railroad equipment class. All the industrial leaders showed the effects of profit-taking, and the course of the market was highly irregular after the early strength. Opening prices, as a matter of fact, were the highest of the day. Federal Mining & Smelting Company, with which an active Wall stret speculator is connected, made a sensational gain of 34 points, to 199 yesterday. After touching 199, the stock slumped 19 points, to 180.

$50 ORE pays in Bullfrog today, even against the big transportation cost.
$78 ORE (found last week in the Langtry shaft, 300 feet from our southern boundary line) pays $28 a ton better.
$5 ORE will pay when the railroads reach Bullfrog, bringing transportation down to a reasonable figure.
The San Pedro, Los Angeles & Salt Lake is building into Bullfrog from Las Vegas, Nev., the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe from Ludlow, Cal. A race is on between the two to reach the town first. The former promises to be in Bullfrog May 1st; it is safe to say the latter will not be far behind it. Then Bullfrog will begin to show the world what she has underground; already a lot of ore is blocked out, and more developing every day, but it is being kept in the mines till the railroads arrive. The Montgomery Shoshone alone has over $8,000,000 of this reserve—the result of only about six months' work on its famous vein.
This vein has been developed as far as the Langtry, adjoining us; and the rhyolitic rock in which it runs shows 3,000 feet across our properties.
500,000 shares of our capital stock was taken by our Directors and their friends before a share was offered for public subscription; the other 500,000 placed in the treasury as working capital. The remaining portion of the first 100,000 shares of treasury stock, issued for the purpose of developing the properties, is now selling at
25 CENTS A SHARE
(par value $1.00), and not a share has been sold for less; and purchasers AT THIS PRICE come in absolutely on the ground floor.
The "lucky" (or sagacious?) ones who have made all the way from 800 to 5,200 per cent on Nevada mining stocks in the last year or two went in on the ground floor. (Those percentages of profit are exact; figure them out for yourself with the table of market quotations we printed Saturday.)
Write or call for prospectus, Prof. Bailey's Report, map and 20 photographic views.
Better do it today. "Put off" brings forget; and forget brings regret. Don't let yourself regret this opportunity too because you "never got around to investigate it when it was first offered."
Applications for shares by mail should be accompanied by check to the order of this Corporation at the rate of 25 cents per share for the number of shares desired.

WARM WEATHER WILL CAUSE LOSS ON EGGS

"Balmy Spring" Starts the Hens to Work and Effect on the Market Is Weakening.

It is claimed the warm weather of the past few days, and the open weather for several weeks, will cause the egg dealers of the United States to lose millions of dollars on the stocks now on hand. Ever since the first of the year there has been a strong movement to get rid of storage eggs, and this movement to a great extent weakened the market. The open weather then caused the hens to lay, and the supply of fresh gathered eggs grew more liberal, this proving to be another factor in the weakening of the market. Yesterday eggs of fresh gathered nearby stock were retailing at many of the markets at 23 cents a dozen, although the general retail quotation was from 24 to 25 cents. The market for storage eggs at the present time is extremely weak, with little hope of recovery for some time.

No report was received on the butter market on the weekly Elgin quotation yesterday before the close of the day's business, consequently the quotation remains the same as at the close last week. A good demand and a small supply is reported from fresh creamery, but several other varieties are reported dragging on the local market.

Under a good demand the apple market is becoming firmer each day. The supply of strictly first-class goods is rather small, and some sales are made above the outside quotation.

The quotations on California cauliflower in crates was advanced yesterday. The offerings are not liberal.

No changes were reported yesterday from any of the grocery lines, and the market appears steady in all departments.

HAY AND GRAIN.

Receipts.

Receipts yesterday were: Pennsylvania, 81 cars hay, 30 cars oats, 20 cars corn, 9 cars feed, 5 cars straw; Baltimore & Ohio, 18 cars hay, 5 cars oats, 4 cars corn, 4 cars straw; Pittsburgh & Lake Erie, 18 cars hay; 3 cars oats, 1 car corn, 2 cars rye, 2 cars straw.

Receipts of hay were heavy yesterday, but arrivals of No. 1 were rather limited, hence all good hay was readily picked up. Quotations on hay and oats remain steady.

Trading was very quiet, and after the first decline prices showed little movement. Heavy rains were reported in the south, heaviest in central sections, and the wire service with New Orleans was somewhat interrupted, checking business to some extent, while the local trade was waiting for the census report giving the amount of cotton ginned to January 16, which is expected at 2 o'clock. The market continued very quiet at midday, with prices about 1 point net lower. Spot cotton quiet; middling uplands, 12.25c; middling gulf, 12.50c. HEAVY STORM CAUSES LIGHT WHEAT TRADING

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS TO THE GAZETTE.]

CHICAGO, Jan. 22.—An official forecast of a cold wave imparted strength today to the wheat market. At the close wheat for May delivery was up ⅛@¼c. Corn was up ⅛c, oats were unchanged, provisions were higher. Paralysis of the telegraphic service because of the sleet storm which descended upon Chicago last night demoralized trade in all the grain pits and business was of an exceedingly small volume. Trading was confined almost exclusively to local operators. Sentiment in the wheat pit at the opening was bullish because of the firm tone of the Liverpool cables. Initial quotations on May were up a shade to ⅛@¼c at 87⅝@87½c. The world's shipments were about 500,000 bushels less than have been estimated, and this created a moderate demand. During the first half hour offerings were light and prices advanced for May selling up to 87⅝c. Later a reaction took place on selling caused by the report that drought in India had been broken. This carried the price of May down to 87⅛c. On covering by shorts who were influenced by a prediction of a cold wave the market regained all the loss. The close was firm with May 87½c. Primary receipts were 1,082,000 bushels, against 929,000 bushels one year ago. The amount on passage decreased 168,000 bushels. Minneapolis, Duluth and Chicago reported receipts of 754 cars, against 844 cars last week, and 731 cars one year ago.

After the first hour trading in the corn pit was almost a standstill. Prices, however, held firm chiefly because of reports of wet weather. May opened a shade to ⅛c higher at 45⅝c to 45⅝@45½c. Local receipts were 277 cars, with 17 cars of contract grade.

Firmness of wheat and corn caused a steady tone in the oats market. May opened a shade higher at 32⅛@32¼c, sold off to ⅛c and closed at 32⅛c. Local receipts were 207 cars.

Because of a 5c advance in the price of live hogs the market showed considerable strength. Packers were the chief purchasers and the greater part of the selling was in profit-taking. At the close May pork was up 10c at $14 32½. Lard was up a shade at $7 70. Ribs were 2½c higher at $7 67½. Estimated receipts for tomorrow are: Wheat, 373 cars; corn, 430 cars; oats, 267 cars; hogs, 36,000 head.

We have agreed to furnish money for the building of the Perrysville Avenue Apartments, $25,000 at 6%, which makes $1,500 interest each year. The rents are $5,280, or 3½ times the interest charge. In order to make room for the man or woman with small sums the mortgage is given to the Columbia Savings & Trust Company and the borrower has signed bonds of $100 and $500 each, which are secured by the Trust Company mortgage. By this plan we have split up this large mortgage so that the man or woman who has $100 or more can put his money into a mortgage and get 6% interest. More safe than any bank deposit and more interest. A money panic cannot disturb a first mortgage on income real estate. If you want a share in this mortgage call at once, or you may be too late, or write and we will send you descriptive circular with beautiful colored engraving of building free.

TO INVESTIGATE FREIGHT DELAYS

New England Men Want to Know Why Shipments Are So Long Reaching Pitsburgh.

WABASH AGAIN TEASES P. R. R.

Complaints made by a number of members of the New England Shoe and Leather association that shipments made from Massachusetts points in the Pittsburgh district are unduly delayed are to be investigated. Secretary Houghton has issued a call for a meeting of the association to consider the complaints. While much of the big shoe business from the New England factories is handled in carload lots, a great deal more is shipped as merchandise package freight, and the latter is that which brings the real revenue in the freight earnings of the roads. Complaints made have been seemingly dismissed without consideration because the shipment happened to be small. Conditions of competition are such that the great Pennsylvania, however, cannot afford to overlook some of the little things.

In the investigation of the delays of shipments from New England by the New England Shoe and Leather association it is probable that support will also be given by other branches of mercantile interests, as the delays have also been found to affect merchants handling drygoods, groceries, drugs, etc. The Boston associated board of trade, the Massachusetts board of trade and the Boston Merchants' association will probably unite with the shoe manufacturers in a movement for better care of the shipments.

Wabash After Pottery Shipments.

Territory now controlled exclusively by the Pennsylvania lines west, and productive of a fat tonnage throughout the year, is to be divided with the Wabash. This is the territory in Eastern Ohio, along the westerly bank of the Ohio river, where the pottery industry thrives strongest. The Wabash has secured the right of way of the Steubenville & Toronto Railroad Company for a line between those two points. While plans for building the proposed line are not yet worked up, so far as can be learned, the proposition will not likely be held off very long. Vice President Worthington, Chief Engineer Douglas and other officers of the company made a trip over the right of way of the Steubenville-Toronto extension of the Wheeling & Lake Erie line into Steubenville from Mingo Junction last week. At present the Pennsylvania lines west control practically every ton of freight shipped from the westerly and northerly side of the Ohio river from Steubenville to Allegheny.

Changes in Agents' Circles.

Owing to the heavy freight and passenger traffic that has developed at Ambridge, the home of the largest plant of the American Bridge Company, the Pennsylvania company yesterday divided the freight and ticket agency. E. E. Gray, who has been agent at the station, is now freight agent, and E. W. Troll, who was ticket clerk and telegraph operator, is ticket agent.

J. E. Cunningham has been promoted from the East Liberty ticket office of the Pennsylvania to the Union station office as junior clerk. This change was due to the resignation of A. W. Nicholson, senior clerk, and to the promotion of several of the other ticket agents. William Hickenbottom of the Jeannette office succeeds Cunningham at East Liberty.

Elect Officers But Are Silent.

Old directors and officers were re-elected for the Monongahela Connecting and Eastern railroad companies yesterday, at the annual meetings, held in the offices of the Jones & Laughlin Steel Company. The officers vouchsafed no further information than this. It is understood, however, that some important phase of the situation may be expected shortly. It is said that the proposition of the Eastern railroad to build a bridge over the Monongahela river from Hazelwood to the south side of the river will probably be supported also by the Baltimore & Ohio, the latter company thus securing a new and shorter line from Pittsburgh to Wheeling, at the same time doing away with the heavy grade beyond Glenwood.

B. & O. Testing Graphophones.

Graphophones for use in dictation are being tested in the offices of General Freight Agent Brockenbrough of the Baltimore & Ohio in Pittsburgh, with a view to their adoption as a means of facilitating correspondence. Two machines, receiving and remitting instruments, are in use in the test. The machine supplements the use of stenography, and a clerk who can operate a typewriter can thus write the letters when the regular stenographer is busied with other duties.

Will Talk Summer Fares.

Summer fares to the pleasure resorts of the Pittsburgh district will be discussed by the Pittsburgh passenger committee and general passenger agents of the initial roads today at the Hotel Lincoln. The roads have already booked a number of outings for the summer at the same rates as prevailed last year, and each road will try to stand by last year's rates because of the late date of the summer fare meeting.

Railroad Notes.

General Manager Atterbury of the Pennsylvania is expected in Pittsburgh today.

The annual meeting of the Pittsburgh & Lake Erie will be held in the general offices in Pittsburgh tomorrow.

J. M. Hause has resigned as trace clerk in the general freight offices of the Baltimore & Ohio to accept a position with the American Can Company.

It is reported that the Baltimore & Ohio census of employes, which is being made with a view to establishing a new pension system, may have something to do in the near future with a general wage increase.

District Passenger Agent Dillon of the Pennsylvania lines west said that the passenger business so far this month is greatly in excess of last year. Travel westward has grown heavy in the past few weeks.

The Pennsylvania railroad's issue of passes to officers and representatives of other lines for 1906 has been handled by the traffic department this year, the passes being of the exchange rather than the complimentary order. The officer's or representative's title is written in the space where "complimentary" was written for the past two years.

READY FOR THE BANQUET.

Merchants and Manufacturers Association Completes Plan for First Annual Spread.

A meeting of the entertainment and reception committee of the Merchants and Manufacturers' association was held yesterday afternoon and arrangements were completed for the first annual banquet which will be held on Lincoln's birthday anniversary, at the Hotel Schenley.

Governor Warfield of Maryland, who was announced as one of the speakers, will be unable to attend, but his place will be taken by Congressman Charles H. Grosvenor of Ohio. A fine discussion on the tariff question is promised by the presence of Eugene N. Foss of Boston, and the Hon. Charles Littlefield of Maine. The Hon. James Francis Burke will be the toastmaster. The tickets for the banquet have been limited to the seating capacity of the hall. At 6:30 o'clock on the evening of February 12, a reception will be tendered the speakers at the Hotel Schenley, and it is the aim of the committee to have all guests seated in the banquet hall by 7:30 o'clock.

More Mills Being Operated.

The eight mills of the Star tin plate plant at Twelfth and Pike streets and 10 of the 20 tin plate mills of the South Sharon works were placed in operation by the American Sheet and Tin Plate Company yesterday morning, and the announcement was made that 97 per cent of the 165 sheet mills, and 80 per cent of the 242 tin plate mills controlled by the company are now in operation. The company expects to have all its works in full operation as soon as the necessary steel can be secured.

Burglars Busy in Suburbs.

While the family of William N. Sauer of Sixth street, Aspinwall, slept, thieves, early yesterday morning, entered the house and ransacked it. A diamond brooch, a gold watch and chain and $27 in cash were stolen. Mrs. Sauer is of the opinion the members of the family were chloroformed. Burglars entered the jewelry store of George Siviter, Bellevue, early yesterday, and carried off goods valued at $300. Rings, lockets and stickpins composed the bulk of the plunder.
